Students raised funds for camp trip

The students at Salem Central School raised money to pay for a camp trip to the Adirondack Mountains. This is the seventh consecutive year that Salem Central School has sponsored a camp trip for its sixth graders. The students worked on this project throughout the school year. They sold raffle tickets, set up the cafeteria, and helped with the cleaning. They also sold baked goods, sold flowers, and volunteered at the beach. The money raised will help defray the cost of the camp trip.

Rollek smoking on Sunday

The Salem PTA will sponsor roller skating in the high school gym from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, February 13. The admission is $1 for the general public. The proceeds will be used to support the local PTA programs.

DAR to meet

The program for the February 13th meeting of the Capt. John Stevens DAR will be a presentation by Russell Aidala, a graduate of Salem Central School and a member of the DAR. He will present a slide show of his travels around the world and give a talk on some of the events he has attended.

Library plans to publish book of tales and legends

The American Cancer Society is planning to publish a book of tales and legends from the Salem area. The book will be edited by Patricia Curtis, a senior studying earth science at Salem Central School. The book will be published by the American Cancer Society in 2000. The money raised from the sale of the book will go to support the American Cancer Society.

Obituaries

Helen S. Saperstein, 92, died Monday, February 7, 2000, at her home in Salem after a long illness. A memorial service will be held on Wednesday, February 9, at 11 a.m. at the Evergreen Cemetery in Salem. The public is invited.

Dorothy Beaty Randall

Dorothy Beaty Randall, a graduate of Salem Central School, was predeceased by her husband, Robert Randall, and her daughter, Betty Randall. She was a member of the Salem High School Class of 1942. She was a retired employee of the General Electric Company and had been a public school teacher in the Salem Central School District. She was survived by her sister, Betty Randall, and her daughter, Elizabeth Randall.

William E. Wyllys

William E. Wyllys, 86, died on February 13, 2000, at his home in Salem. He was a member of the Salem High School Class of 1940. He was a retired employee of the General Electric Company and had been a public school teacher in the Salem Central School District. He was survived by his wife, Akie Wyllys, and his daughter, Elizabeth Wyllys.

Add to the collection.

According to Aidala, "the state of the school address is an important role that vocational technical education and administration goal statements allow this goal to be met." Russell Aidala will deliver his annual state of school address on Tuesday, February 15, with the support of stories and legends from the Salem Central School. The president of the Washington State Association for the Education of Retarded Children will also be present.

The president of the Washington State Association for the Education of Retarded Children will also be present.

The president of the Washington State Association for the Education of Retarded Children will also be present.