Ford Car Come to Grief.

About three o'clock Tuesday morning a Ford car came to grief on the Lake Road, near the Grant Travis farm. There were four men in the car, which was a Ford, and they said they were on their way from Elmira to Rochester when the accident occurred. Two of the men were from Elmira and two from Corning, but they would not give their names. The party resumed the trip to Rochester after being taken care of by the Penn Yan doctor.

Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Co.

There never has been so lavish and adequate a production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," as that which Jno. F. Stowe will offer amusement lovers at Penn Yan, Monday evening, July 17.

The scenes, which are large enough to fill the most spacious stage, could not be easily improved. Those representing the Ohio river in winter, the rocky pass in which George Harris protects his family, the St. Claire plantation, the levee at New Orleans, the cotton fields in full bloom, and the "Celestial City" are all most notable effects. Each pictures the reality as closely as paint and canvas will permit and the stage prospecting is so big that the effect is exceptionally pleasing. The company is also worthy of the environment. One grand night performance only on the Champlin Avenue grounds.

Auto Bus Destroyed When Garage Burns.

Snyder & Rexford, who conduct an auto bus line between Penn Yan and Savona, had a serious loss at Williamson recently when one of their new $2700 Whitfield auto busses was burned in a fire which destroyed a garage in that village. This bus ran on a route between Williamson and Manchester, through Palmyra, and was driven by Harry Snyder, a younger brother of the proprietor. The auto had been on the road only ten days and was insured for $2000, with Wm. Fitzpatrick, of Penn Yan.

This will prove a serious loss because the Whitfield factory in Penn Yan is so busy it will take nearly two months to get another one built. A seven passenger touring car has been pressed into temporary service on this route.

Hats Off to Keuka Park and Pulteney for Real Civic Boosting Spirit.

The 1922 pennant for civic enthusiasm in Central New York should go to the little hamlets of Pulteney and Keuka Park, according to officials of the Finger Lakes Association. Reports from both communities show what is a remarkable record for local boosting.

Keuka Park has a population of 45 souls, counting men, women and children. It has just turned into the Finger Lakes Association 50 paid memberships from 50 individuals. To do it, Keuka Park took out a membership for every man, woman and child residing there and there and then went out and got memberships from five non-residents. So the town is 111 per cent. strong when it comes to Finger Laking.

Pulteney has a population of 351. It has just turned in 100 paid memberships, as many as there are adult inhabitants of the community.

"When every community in the Finger Lakes Region shows a spirit corresponding with that of Keuka Park and Pulteney, the boom of the lake country will be irresistible," President Leonard H. Searing stated today.—Finger Lakes Topics.

Were You in the World War?

Here is your chance to see the World War from the front line trenches. Some of these scenes were taken by soldiers who later lost their lives. "Flashes of Action" at Sampson Theatre July 12, is guaranteed by the U. S. Army to be actual war scenes.

Remembrances in Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

(Taken from "Over the Percolator")

I remember when mother wove our summer hats out of long rye straw.—J. K. F.

I remember when nearly all hotels "on the road" were $2 a day, American plan, which included room and meals, free 'bus to from the railroad station, and a special rate of $1.50 for "over Sunday."—W. S. F.

I remember when farmers did all their trading at one store and paid their bills every six months or once a year, and on such occasions the merchant gave a new hat to the man and a calico dress to his wife and candy for each of the children.—D. M. S.

I remember when bicycling was the popular amusement and a local newspaper printed: "The racing 'hump' has been adopted by the fresh crop of cyclists this spring in a more aggravated form than ever before. All want their handles low, and all want to look like Zimmermans, and in reality they look like monkeys."—M. J. O.

I remember when our school days were much more tsrenuous than they are nowadays. We had two weeks' vacation in June and at the Christmas period, and no more. No public school money was appropriated for school purposes and the teachers were paid by rate-bill, that is, a definite sum of money for each pupil, depending upon the age of the scholar. The teachers were paid from $2.50 to $4 for five and one-half days and board around with the patrons.—W. R. H., Honeoye Falls.

I remember several of the old-time ferries over river or lake of Central New York and Northern Pennsylvania. One was across Cayuga lake from Union Springs to Canoga; another, over Seneca lake between Hector and Starkey; a third, on the Susquehanna River between Ulster and Sheshequin. The first, I recollect, ran by horse-tread power, and the last by oblique force of the current being attached to a cable extending from shore to shore. Like Washington, I have even "crossed the Delaware," the ferry in this case being a boat rowed by a woman, from Wayne county, Pa., to Callicoon, the old home town of Dr. Cook, the explorer.—P. J. B.

Do You Like Children? Take a "Fresh Air."

Are you expecting to entertain one of these "little ones" for two weeks from August 2nd.

If so, it will be necessary for you to send in your invitation before July 24th.

If you could know the benefit which these children received even in two weeks of change from their deplorable conditions of tenement life and hot streets, then we should have many invitations.

Won't you stop for two minutes while you are reading this—and ask yourself this question—

Could I not do this for some little child?

If you can not and prefer to give money to help, you may send your invitation or gifts to any one of the following members of the Boy's Work Committee of the Penn Yan Rotary Club.

Crop Cultivation Delayed by Rains.

Sunshine and drying weather are badly needed for farm work, according to the summary of weather and crop conditions for the week ending July 4, issued by the Ithaca office of the Weather Bureau.

Moderately warm weather prevailed except on the last two days, which were cool. Sunshine continued inadequate and rainfall was again heavy, further seriously delaying cultivation and haying; most crops, however, except corn, made good growth. Lowland crops continue to suffer injury from excessive moisture, some sections being still under water.

Corn in general is only fair and badly in need of cultivation. Potatoes generally are very good, although there are some reports that those late planted are rotting.

Oats are mostly in good condition. Hay is very good, but little has been cut because of the unfavorable weather conditions. Pastures are excellent. The planting of buckwheat is greatly delayed. Cherries are mostly picked. Apples continue to drop, and considerable scab is reported. Berries are ripening and of good quality.

Keuka College Approved by the Regents.

The authorities at Keuka College have been notified by Dr. Augustus Downing that Keuka College is now on the approved list for State scholarships. Any young woman who earns a State scholarship and is otherwise prepared may enter Keuka College and receive $100 from the State, and, in addition to this, the trustees have authorized a prize of $25 to such young women. This approval is granted because of the high standard that has been maintained at Keuka during the first year and it insures the ultimate approval of the four years' course, which will rate Keuka as a Grade A. Dr. G. R. Hammond, who was Principal of Starkey Seminary from 1886 to 1891 and again from 1896 to 1898, died at Merom, Indiana, June 9, 1922, aged 74 years.

Seneca Lake Is Very High.

Not since 1908, according to the records of the Engineering Department of the city of Geneva, has the level of Seneca lake risen to over 483.31 feet. This height is computed from the plane of what is known as the Geneva datum, which is at variance with the datum used by the State. In 1908 the lake rose to 438.32 feet. The highest level recorded at the engineering department office appeared in the record for the year of 1903, when the lake rose to nearly 439 feet. With the exception of 1900, this year's level is the nearest approach to that mark. The low water mark for December 20, 1901, was 434.6.

Seneca lake began to rise early in the spring after the thaw until finally, augmented by the recent rains, the level began to approach the high water mark. The requirement level of the Barge Canal, computed from the stated datum, is 445 feet. At the present time the level of the canal is 447.9, making the rise of the lake 2.9 feet.

Reports of flooded cottages at Kashong have been denied by residents of that place, although it is admitted that in some places the piers are nearly covered with water. Old residents along the lake shore say that high water is seldom accompanied by high wind. The wind storm that churned up the lake several months ago, it is said, was an exception to the rule. With the lake at its present level, boat houses and cottages along the shores would be endangered if a heavy wind storm swept the lake from the south.—Geneva Daily Times.

Those were Hughes' stories, but this time it is something entirely different—the story of a young Irish couple—the boy leaving for America, with the promise to send for his sweetheart, but he didn't, so she "Came On Over," and what she found makes the most delightful comedy of the season.
