The Penn Yan Express.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1922

It is evident that the total cost of fitting up the new county home at Espersanza will be about $45,000.

A surveyor is making a new scale map of Penn Yan for the fire insurance underwriters.

Frank Raymond has leased a part of the Edie Preserving Co. Building for a store house.

Miss Frances Caton gave a shower on Saturday for Miss Martha Tobey, of Penn Yan.—Naples News.

The deposits of the Dundee State Bank, as of the date of Sept. 30, 1922, amounted to $414,473.93.

The deposits of Baldwin's Bank, as of the date of Sept. 30, 1922, amounted to $1,765,791.04.

The deposits of the Rushville State Bank on Sept. 30, 1922, amounted to $248,432.64.

Ground has been broken for a new house between the residences of John Fiero and Cyrus Bacon.

During the month of September the freight business of this country was within three per cent. of its highest previous record.

Mrs. Anna Nielsen, of Hamilton street, fell down stairs at her home recently, fracturing a bone in her leg below the knee.

It is said that meat has gone back to prices of 1914—at wholesale. At retail the prices are far from pre-war prices.

The recent rains broke a long drought, and greatly benefitted winter grains, pastures, and meadows and facilitated fall plowing.

Married, in Rochester, Oct. 11th, 1922, Frank R. Durry, of Penn Yan, and Mrs. Bertha S. Badger, of Los Angeles, Cal. The bride was formerly a resident of Penn Yan.

The buildings, vineyards and stock of the Hammondsport Wine Company, were sold at foreclosure proceedings, on Monday of last week. They were bid in at $60,000 for a New York man.

The next Chamber of Commerce dinner will be held at The Benham, on Wednesday, November 1st. The program will be in charge of the Highway Improvement Council, of which Ralph Norris is chairman.

The State Fuel Administrator has modified his first order, prohibiting the sale by retailers of more than a two weeks' supply of coal of domestic sizes. Now a month's supply is allowed. Pea coal can be sold in any quantity.

Two Geneva policemen arrested two State troopers about one o'clock Monday morning for reckless driving of an automobile. They were taken to the police station. One trooper threatened to use his gun, but thought better of it.—Democrat.

In some places rounabout farmers are getting for their potatoes only 35c to 40c per bushel. There is not much profit in spuds at those prices, especially when the yield has been small. Penn Yan merchants have been paying 50c per bushel for potatoes.

Lieutenant C. Birkett Ferenbaugh, U. S. A., who received orders transferring him from Vancouver to Presidio, at San Francisco, has received further orders to go to Honolulu, H. I., and will sail from San Francisco Oct. 19. He will be stationed at Schofield's Barracks, 19th Inf., Honolulu, H. I.

A report of the highway superintendent shows a doubt of the possibility of completing the Hammondsport and Branchport State road this fall. Two miles are finished and are open to traffic, but the construction company in charge is having difficulty in getting some materials needed.

Friday night, Oct. 6th, Milo Lodge, F. & A. M., presented District Deputy Dennis C. Pierce with a handsome emblem. Worshipful Master Welles Griffith presided. Professor W. E. DeMelt, of the Academy, gave an interesting address on "The History of Masonry." Refreshments were served.

The Fine Arts Building, on Chestnut street, in Rochester, was sold last week by John C. Fox, of Penn Yan. The value of the property is said to be about $185,000. Some years ago the late Fred U. Swarts, of Penn Yan, acquired the property in a real estate trade. It is an eight story building.

On the 30th of September last there were on deposit in the five banks of Yates county $4,318,898.27. That is a good deal of money, and indicates that many people are prospering abundantly. Probably the most of them are agriculturists, as business men are not heavy depositors. Many of them are borrowers.

William Paddock, of Italy, lost control of his flivver near Daboll corners, Saturday, and the machine went into the ditch, breaking one front wheel, and otherwise damaging the car. Mr. Paddock was not injured. The car was driven into Morgan's garage and was soon repaired and Mr. Paddock was soon on his way as good as ever.—Prattsburgh Advertiser.

More than 1500 stockholders of the Nuway Stores Corporation of Rochester will lose on their investments as the result of the business troubles of this corporation, according to a partial report filed by Receiver F. M. Skivington, in United States District Court, in Buffalo. The total assets are estimated at $55,883, and the total resources available for creditors is $60,526.

Past Masters Charles Watkins, Fred S. Hollowell, Glen L. Owen and Degree Master J. Leon Ansley, of the Penn Yan Grange, were in Troy, Pa., Tuesday night of last week, to see the third and fourth grange degree work by a special degree team. The Pennsylvania State officers were present. A banquet was held. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fullagar, of Branchport, also were present.

When the latest fashion dictates get in full swing, as they will, sooner or later, the bobbed and fluffy-fluffy flappers are likely to be peeved. They will regret that they bobbed, for short hair and long skirts do not match, it is said. It is easy to elongate or excise skirts, and it is quickly done, but it takes years for hair to grow out. So, in the long run, it is better not to interfere with natural growths.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Horton, who attended the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and allied organizations in DesMoines, Iowa, have returned home. Mr. Horton was one of the division delegates of the New York State Sons of Veterans. Mrs. Horton is a past president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans of the State of New York. This office makes her a delegate to all National Conventions.

Next Saturday, October 21st, is the last registration day in this county If you are not registered you cannot vote on November 7th. Personal registration is not required, but every voter should know that he or she is registered. It would be well, also, to enroll on registration day, although this may be done on election day. Enrollment—that is designation of your political party—must be done personally, and it were better to be done on registration day, as election officials are not as busy at that time as they are on election day.

Reuben A. Scofield, editor of the Penn Yan Express, has just had two celebrations of late. On Friday, September 29, he celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday and the following Monday, October 2, he spent his fiftieth anniversary of his ownership of the Express by working at his desk. Mr. Scofield is a veteran of the Civil War, having enlisted in 1861 in the 74th militia regiment. He rose from private to brevet-major and when his term of service was over, reenlisted and when discharged, had received the rank of major for "faithful and meritorious service." He has been prominent in the social and civic affairs of the county and enjoys the respect of his fellow townsmen.

Penn Yan, with a population of approximately 4500, has 15 grocery stores, and 11 public eating places.

Liberty street, brick paved by Contractor Kelly, is open from Elm to Wagener street.

There will be a regular communication of Milo Lodge, No. 108, F. & A. M., Friday evening, October 20th, and work in the first degree.

Mrs. Emil Miller, an inmate of the Old Ladies' Home, on Clinton street, suffered a stroke last week and was taken to the local hospital.

There have been frosts several nights during the past week, but they were not severe enough to damage fruit.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. E. Lewis, 203 Jacob street, Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

Chris Lund, of Benton, captured a swamp owl recently which had been stealing and eating his poultry. The owl measured 4 feet from the tips of his wings and weighed 12 pounds.

Mayor George R. Lunn, Democratic candidate for Lieut. Governor, will deliver an address at a meeting to be held in Penn Yan on Wednesday, October 25th, at noon. The place of meeting will be announced later.

The total stock of money in the United States on October 1, 1922, was $3,388,237,342, of which $3,624,044,510 was held in the Treasury, and $5,763,712,519 was outside of the Treasury. Per capita circulation, $41.00.

The Yates County Tuberculosis Committee will hold its regular monthly meeting, Friday, Oct. 20th, at Mr. Walter Tower's office, at 3 p. m.

The real estate transfers in Yates county last week as reported by the County Clerk in another column, includes the following: "Temtor Corn and Fruit Products Co., by Tr., to Mercantile Trust Co., Mo., property in Milo, etc., consideration, $1,000,000.

The total tax of the Penn Yan Union School District this year is $31594.25. Tax rate., $10.19 on $1000 of assessed valuation. The total assessment is—real, $3,032,555; personal, $69,100; total, $3,101,655.

Mrs. H. B. Parish was taken suddenly ill in New York City on Saturday last, while acting as a delegate of the local Eastern Star at the convention in New York. She was brought to her home here on Monday by her husband, H. B. Parish.

Margaret Dixon, widow of John M. Dixon, of Hall, who died recently, leaving an estate of $20,466.53, according to a transfer tax, has just paid a tax of $154.70. After debts and expenses amounting to $996.16 had been paid Mrs. Dixon inherited $19,470.37.

The payment of school taxes in the Penn Yan Union School District will soon be in order. On October 25th, Collector Charles H. Sisson will commence receiving taxes at one per cent. for thirty days. After thirty days taxes will be collected at 5 per cent.

Mrs. Jones, aged mother of Abe Jones, real estate dealer, was painfully injured last week, when her hand was caught in the door of Mr. Jones' sedan automobile. The fingers were crushed so badly that it was found necessary to amputate the end of one of them.

Ruth, child of Mr. and Mrs. William Stoutenburg, of East Main St., was knocked down and injured on Wednesday of last week by an automobile, at the corner of E. Main St. and Lake street. Several bruises resulted and the child otherwise injured.

The Lake Keuka Grape Market has been a little show during the past week, with prices ranging from $80 to $85 per ton. California has an enormous crop. It is estimated at 350,000 tons—100,000 tons more than in 1921. It is all absorbed for wine. It is estimated that one million gallons more will be made than were made last year, and 2 1-2 times the amount made and imported previous to 1918.

James, small son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cougevan, of Walnut street, was run into and knocked to the pavement by an out-of-town autoist on Monday near the Four Corners. The child was taken to the office of Dr. George Butler. No serious injuries resulted. It is said that the crowd which asesmbled at the scene of the accident had a threatening attitude toward the autoist, but it quickly subsided.

Reuben A. Scofield, of Penn Yan, last week celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as editor of the Penn Yan Express, and the preceding Friday celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday. Always a prominent Republican, Mr. Scofield was an active lieutenant of Tom Platt and Roscoe Conkling. During the Civil War he served with the Union Army. The editors of Western New York join in wishing Editor Scofield many more years of success in the editorial harness.—Naples Record.

Mrs. George Whittaker, of Jacob street, was the victim of a painful occurrence on Tuesday last. The young woman, in preparing to go to her work in the office of the Yates Electric Light and Power Co., turned her head to look at a clock in her room, and in so doing dislocated three vertebrae near the upper portion of her spine. Medical aid was summoned, but Mrs. Whittaker suffered intense pain until the dislocated vertebrae were put back in place. She quickly recovered and is now attending to her duties as bookkeeper.

P. H. Ritchie has sold his interest in the Geneva Real Estate Company to George M. Rogers. Mr. Ritchie was president of the company and Mr. Rogers was vice-president and treasurer. A new corporation has been formed by Mr. Rogers, in which his uncle, George W. Bowen, of Auburn, will be associated. It is planned to build a number of new houses here and elsewhere. It is quite likely that another year will see considerable activity at Keuka Gardens. Mr. Ritchie has come into possession of the "Rose Lawn" subdivision, on the outskirts, of Rochester.

Mr. Reuben A. Scofield, on October 2d, celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as editor-in-chief of the "Penn Yan Express." In a modest, well written announcement, Mr. Scofield tell of some of his trials and happiness in running a paper for half a century. He states that he has often been accused of being on the off side of important questions — of thumping on unpopular chords, and says, "We plead guilty to the thumping, but the inspiring motive has not been a delight, but a sense of duty." Any one who can stand by his guns for fifty years and come through the fire as clean and as unfettered as our friend, Mr. Scofield, is worthy of a great amount of praise. Hats off to him and his good paper, the "Penn Yan Express." More power to him, and we wish it was in our power to write as well as he does.—Prattsburg Advertiser.

The Nuway Stores Corporation, of Rochester, is busted, and more than 1500 persons in the rural districts of Western New York will lose all they put in it. It is simply one more illustration of the ease with which smooth-talking salesmen can bunco the people of small means.

"Three important items in the report filed by the receiver show that the underwriting expense of the Nuway Stores Corporation was $74,469; promotion expense, $42,500, and commission on stock sales, $58,679, making a total of more than $170,000 of the stockholders' money which went into a fund for the promotion and sale of stock of the corporation."

When the crash came the total assets of the company were only $55,883, or less than one-half of the amount spent on promoting the swindle. Once more we say, leave stock salesmen severely alone unless you know them, and have some knowledge of the value of the stock they are selling. It is a safe bet that stock salesmen promising large dividends are "suspicious characters."

PERSONAL.

—Mrs. Walter B. Sheppard left on Tuesday for Evanstown, Ill., where she will be the guest for a month of her sister, Mrs. Charles Sprague. From there she will go to join her husband at Denver, Colo., where she will spend the winter.

—Mrs. H. Wilfred DuPuy is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Alexander R. Thompson.

—Mr. Peter Kinyoun, of Bucknell College, Lewisburg, Pa., was called home on account of the death of his grandfather, Mr. Frank Kinyoun.

Mrs. Wm. Handley will entertain at luncheon and cards on Thursdays.

Mrs. Sam Fybush entertained fifty guests at luncheon and cards at Alley's Inn on Saturday.

Each day sees numerous motor trucks loaded with grapes, passing through the village, en route to the cities.

MARRIED.

Hall—Cowell.

Truax—Southwick.

Earl Truax, of Keuka Park, and Ida Southwick, of Penn Yan, were married by Rev W. H. Wheatley, at the Baptist parsonage, October 15, 1922. They will reside at Keuka Park.

Southerland—Bogart.

On Saturday, October 14, 1922, at the Presbyterian manse, in this village, took place the marriage of Miss Lena Bogart and Mr. Emmett Southerland, both of this village. Rev. C. K. Imbrie performed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bogart, formerly of this village, now of Branchport, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Southerland, of Penn Yan.

Hatch—Tillotson.

On Saturday, October 14, 1922, at Towanda, Pa., took place the marriage of Miss Maude Tillotson, of Canton, Pa., to Mr. Roy Hatch, of Naples, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. I. Andrews, pastor of the Methodist church at Towanda. The bride is the daughter of one of Canton's prominent business men and for the past few months has been employed as a member of the nursing corps of the local hospital. Mr. Hatch is employed as machinist at the Yates Canning Co's plant.

Reynolds—Craugh.

A very pretty October wedding took place on Thursday morning, October 12, 1922, at 10.30 o'clock at St. Michael's church, when Miss Virginia Craugh, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Craugh, of East Main street, this village, became the bride of Mr. Richard Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Reynolds, of Liberty street. Rev. Andrew Dissett celebrated the nuptial mass. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an imported gown of brown chiffon velvet, with picture hat and carried dahlias. Her bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor Craugh, wore a gown of cocoa Spanish lace, with picture hat and also carried dahlias. Mr. William V. Reilly, of Penn Yan, attended Mr. Reynolds, as groomsman. Mr. Jack and William Craugh, brothers of the bride, acted as ushers.

Both young people are socially prominent in this village. The groom is now connected with the First National Corporation, in New York City.

Can You Keep a Secret?

That is the question you will be asked before you see "The Bat," the sensational dramatic success of all years, by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, which Wagenhals and Kemper present at the Sampson Theatre on Thursday, Oct. 26.

"The Bat," as you probably know, has proved the sensation of the theatre. It has played for more than a year in New York and is still playing. It has a run of one entire year to its credit in Chicago, the longest run, incidentally, ever scored by any play in that city. Moreover, it has proven an unqualified triumph wherever and whenever it has been seen. And everyone is asked to keep its secret.

The fact that critics and public, alike, have kept faith with both authors and managers in preserving the secret of the play, has had not a little to do with its astounding success. Without a doubt, the unexpected climax of "The Bat" is the most surprising finish to a play ever staged. And it is this climax that is so carefully guarded as a secret. Certain it is that not one person who has ever seen the play has been able to guess its finish in advance.

Some critics have described "The Bat" as a dramatic smash. Others have contented themselves with telling their readers that it is a play that holds the audience breathless from start to finish. Still others—and they have been many—speak of "The Bat" as a play that will furnish a topic for conversation for weeks after it has come and gone.

"The Bat" is presented exactly as staged in New York and Chicago, and with an exceptional cast, which includes: Mabel Wright, Jean Haven, Clara Coleman, Geo. A. Lessey, Wyrley Birch, Joseph Rawley, Richard Mansfield, Roy La Rue, Sam Kuster, and Edward Martyn.

Columbus Day In Penn Yan.

Columbus Day was fittingly observed in Penn Yan by the local Council of the Knights of Columbus. An enjoyable banquet, attended by eighty members, was held at the Benham House, after which a splendid program of speeches and entertainment was offered. The hotel dining room was attractively decorated in the national colors and autumn flowers graced the tables. Music was furnished by the Saxophone Novelty Orchestra throughout the dinner. Joseph P. Craugh acted as toastmaster and introduced John J. Hyland as the first speaker. Mr. Hyland spoke eloquently of the history of the order of the Knights of Columbus and stated that the present year marks the 40th anniversary of its foundation. Messrs. Frank Quenan and Thomas F. Carroll scored a hit with their specialty song, which contained local versions of the popular "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean" song. Rev. Father Dissett introduced his remarks with several humorous anecdotes and concluded with a stirring appeal to the men to live up to the ideals of the Order. Past Grand Knight H. C. Earles spoke brefly on the past history and future outlook of the Penn Yan Council. Columbus Day, he stated, marked the second anniversary of the institution of the Penn Yan Council, which began with a membership of sixty, which has since been doubled. Charles T. Whelan, of Auburn, as the principal speaker, concluded the program with an address on Columbus and the lessons to be learned from the initiative, vision and persistency of the great discoverer.

Miss Marie Morrisey.

Miss Marie Morrisey, contralto, assisted by Walter Chapman, pianist, and Jacques Glockner, cellist, will be heard in an unique recital at the Elmwood Theatre on the evening of Oct. 23, 1922.

Miss Morrisey is one of the best known contraltos on the concert stage. Her voice is rich and colorful, of genuine contralto quality. With this unusually beautiful voice is linked a personalty rarely met with and these qualities combined with splendid musicianship, make Miss Morrisey a decided favorite in the concert field.

Walter Chapman, pianist, and Jacques Glockner are artists of considerable reputation and the concert will undoubtedly prove one of the outstanding features of the musical season here.

Admittance will be by card of admission only, which may be secured from Bush's Music House.

When the roaring, gambling hall was the only "club" the frontierer knew, came "White Oak" Miller riding over the plains, riding on a quest your heart will thrill to see. A story that sums up the whole wild West, including a tribe of real Apache Indians, as it was in the olden days. This remarkable and historical picture will be shown at the Elmwood Theatre Saturday, October 21. Wm. S. Hart has the leading role. Night performances start at 7.15 and 9.00.

"The Eskimo"

in which Clyde Cook, former comedian at the New York Hippodrome, is the star, is a hilarious comedy of more than average merit. At the Elmwood Saturday, October 21, on the same program with William S. Hart in "White Oak."

DEATHS.

Daniel S. Capell.

Daniel S. Capell died Oct. 12, 1922, at the Union Printers' Home, Colorado Springs, Col., aged 77 years, 5 mo., 12 da. He was the son of Daniel and Sarah A. Capell, and was born near Penn Yan. His grandparents and children came to this section by ox team from Groton, Mass. Mr. Capell was a printer and worked for some time in the office of the Penn Yan Democrat. The surviving members of Mr. Capell's family are Mrs. Anna Capell Wickham, of West Lynn, Massachusetts; Mrs. Loretta C. Gillett, of Watkins, N. Y., and Charles A. Capell, of Washington, D. C.

Wm. P. Stevens.

Wm. P. Stevens, aged 69 years, died on Monday at the State Industrial school, at Industry, N. Y., of heart failure. Deceased had been a guard at the above institution for over 30 years. He is survived by one brother, Charles Stevens, of this village; and one sister, Mrs. Helen Bellis, of Dansville. The funeral services will be held this (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock, from the Thayer Undertaking Parlors. Rev. Walter S. Wright officiating. Burial at Atlanta, N. Y.

Frank P. Kinyoun.

Frank P. Kinyoun died at his home on East Main street Sunday morning, aged 72 years. He is survived by his wife, also by one son, Clay F. Kinyoun, of this village. Deceased was a member of Milo Lodge, No. 108, F. & A. M., and the funeral was in charge of that lodge. The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, with burial in Lake View cemetery. Rev. C. K. Imbrie was officiating clergyman.

Danish Brotherhood Visited by Supreme President.

On Tuesday of last week, the local lodge of the Danish Brotherhood, known as Wendia Lodge, No. 71, D. B. S., was visited by Supreme President Soren Iversen, of Hartford, Conn.

The event was unique in that it was the first time that the Penn Yan lodge had even been visited by a Supreme officer and great preparations had been made for the visit.

Mr. Iverson was met at the Pennsylvania station at two o'clock by a reception committee, composed of Martin Nielsen, President of Wendia Lodge; Lars Andersen, Secretary, and P. Hansen. Later he was taken to the Anderson farm in Benton, where he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Anderson, whose personal friend he has been for several years.

In the evening, according to arrangements, about 300 people assembled in Wendia Hall, on Elm street, to officially welcome Mr. Iversen. As the Supreme President entered the hall, with Martin Nielsen and Lars Andersen, the entire assemblage arose as one and with tremendous applause greeted their supreme officer.

The chairman of the meeting, Mr. C. Christensen, in a brief address, bade all welcome and invited all to be seated, after which Martin Nielsen welcomed the Supreme President on behalf of Wendia Lodge, and introduced Mr. Lars Andersen as toastmaster. Mr. Andersen made a few remarks and introduced Mr. Andrew Nielsen, who spoke for the lodge, and formally introduced the speaker and guest of the occasion—Supreme President Soren Iversen.

One of the outstanding features of Mr. Iverson's talk was the very high tribute which he paid Mr. James M. Lown, of New York City, a Benton boy and Member of Assembly from Yates County. Mr. Iverson said that, knowing him personally and being called upon to transact business with him along insurance lines, he was justified in saying that he was a fine type of man and a business man of integrity and highest honor. Such a tribute, coming from a resident of another State, is highly appreciated by Mr. Lown's numerous friends here.

The address of the Supreme President occupied an hour and a half, forty-five minutes of which was in Danish and the other forty-five in English. His remarks were confined to the order of the Danish Brotherhood and the work of the local lodge.

A banquet was enjoyed by all present, and later dancing was indulged in. There were many visitors from Ontario and Monroe counties.

The Danish Brotherhood is a fraternal insurance organization. It has been in existence about 40 years, and now has 322 lodges. Because of the war and subsequent financial depression, many fraternal organizations were hard put, but the Danish Brotherhood enjoys the distinction of being the only one to declare a dividend to its policy holders. Since its organization the Brotherhood has paid death and other claims amounting to about $4,000,000, and now has a surplus of about one and one-third million.
