Political Tensions Easing in Saigon

The Democratic government of South Vietnam is working to ease political tensions in Saigon, the capital, in order to improve its image and enhance its appeal to the international community. The government has promised to hold free and fair elections by the end of the year, and has begun to take steps to improve its human rights record.

A Favorite Painting

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston displays a favorite painting, "The House of Flowers," by Jorge Gutierrez, in his office at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, Mass. The painting will have its world premiere at the upcoming Vatican Exposition in Rome.

Diocesan Educators Probe National School Problems, Discuss Future Trends

(Continued from Page 1)

The paper declared that Catholic schools must be "an integral part of the life of the nation, for they are one of the most important means of the education which can be used to express and carry out the social purpose of the Catholic Church."

Several conventions designated as "open to all" by the bishops, Catholic schools particularly in the view of Catholic educators, are considered "open to all" by the bishops. In other words, the Catholic schools are considered "open to all" by the bishops, they are considered "open to all" by the bishops. They are considered "open to all" by the bishops, they are considered "open to all" by the bishops. They are considered "open to all" by the bishops, they are considered "open to all" by the bishops.

The paper went on to say that the Catholic schools must be "an integral part of the life of the nation, for they are one of the most important means of the education which can be used to express and carry out the social purpose of the Catholic Church."

Archbishop: Change Law On Celibacy

Bacupos, chancellor of the Greek Orthodox Church in New York, Father George J. Murphy, president of the New York Archdiocese of the Greek Orthodox Church, said that the question of divorce and the question of separation should be considered separately.

World's Population Growing at Rate of 180,000 Per Day

United Nations, N.Y. - (RNS) - The world's population is growing at a rate of about 180,000 people per day, according to the United Nations. The increase is expected to continue for several more years, according to the latest UN population projections.

World's Population Growing at Rate of 180,000 Per Day

(Continued from Page 1)

But the question of divorce and the question of separation should be considered separately.

Archbishop: Change Law On Celibacy

Bacupos, chancellor of the Greek Orthodox Church in New York, Father George J. Murphy, president of the New York Archdiocese of the Greek Orthodox Church, said that the question of divorce and the question of separation should be considered separately.

"We believe that the Pope's views on divorce are correct," the bishop said, "but we strongly believe in the sanctity of marriage."