

Little Theatre Prepares Show

By Bayard Hancock
Rehearsals are already under way for the first of two productions to be presented by the Little Theater this semester. The play, The Male Animal, co-authored by James Thurber and James Nugent, will be presented the weekend of the C. C. N. Y. football game, October 28-29. The first performance will be for the college students and the second for the townspeople. Recently popular on Broadway, the play portrays the trials and tribulations of a college professor.

Boyle Directs Show

Directed by Walden Boyle, English professor and LITTLE THEATER director, the production will feature Scotty Keith, senior, in the masculine lead as Tommy. Scotty played in several of last year's majors and did some directing at the summer session this past summer. Carol Taylor, sophomore, has been selected to play opposite Scotty in the feminine lead. Although this will be her first major production, she has participated in several of the studio 'One Acts'. The two leads will be supported by Miss Margaret Dean, Miss Edith Odell, Eugene Carpenter, Duncan McCoy, W. Tornow, Miss Hannah Diegle, Howard Buckley and Loyd Jonnes. An intricate, fast developing plot and clever dialogue, plus a particularly funny drunk scene give the play excellent possibilities.

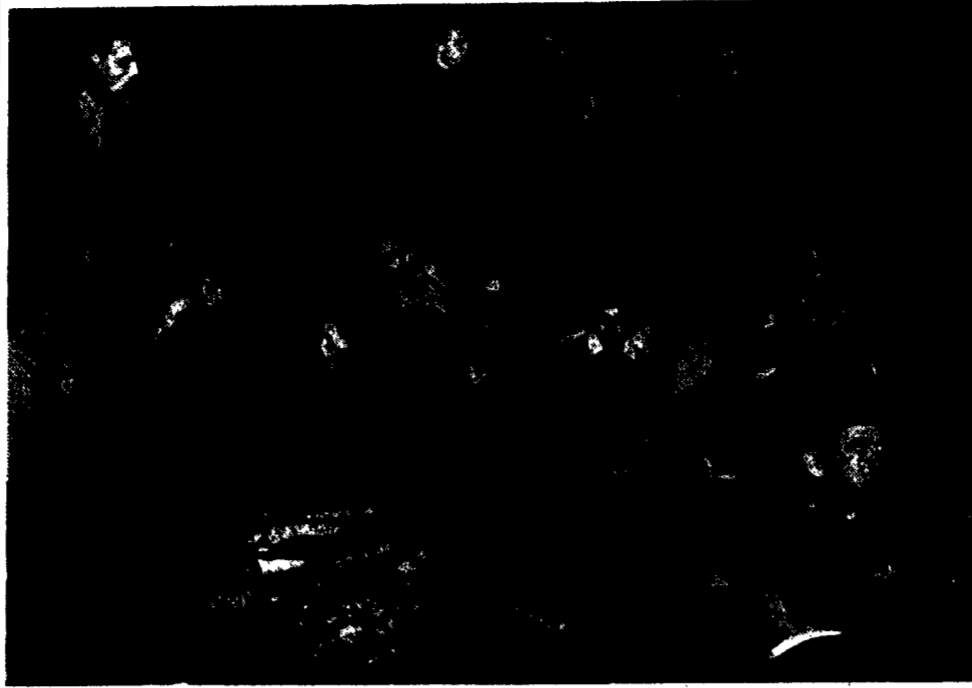

Musical Organizations Arrange Annual Schedule

Plans for the coming year of activity on the part of the Schola Cantorum have not yet been completed, but a number of interesting and locally important events have already been set. On November 8 a musical service will be given in St. John's Chapel at which time Handel's Blessed Are They will be sung. Soloists will be Miss Ruth Amidon and Miss Althea Karr, while Duncan McCoy will serve as cantor.

Late in December, the annual Christmas service will be sung in Trinity Church under the direction of Lewis H. Niven, head of the Music Department.

The various fine arts departments will combine for a gala presentation of Handel's pastoral opera, Acis and Galatea, on March 9th. Cooperating will be the Hobart LITTLE THEATRE under the direction of Walden P. Boyle, the William Smith Dance Club headed by Miss Janet Seeley, the Art Department under the leadership of Norman Kent and the Music groups led by Mr. Niven.

Large Gathering Attends Roast

By Alice Brandt

The annual Marshmallow Roast of the combined Hobart and William Smith Outing Clubs was held Friday evening, September 25, at the Lewis estate.

An enthusiastic crowd, under the chaperonage of Miss Marcia Winn and Dr. Clarence Klapper, gathered at eight o'clock in Miller House for the brisk hike out to the Lewis domain where HOC prexy George Beckett had laid a big fire in the outdoor fireplace. Immediate toasting and consumption of marshmallows began. A search was made for a song leader with Duncan McCoy finally serving in that capacity. Under his leadership, a large group of students serenaded the Lewis family from the front lawn.

WSOC President Barbara Hequem-bourg estimates that the 450 marshmallows on hand were completely annihilated by a crowd of at least 250. Incidentally, the marshmallows came from Phelps when there were none to be had in Geneva.

At about 10:15 the crowd began to drift back to town. All were agreed that the evening had served admirably as a mixer.

The Outing Club will meet in Cox Hall tonight for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and discussing projects that might be undertaken during the present club season.

Terms 'Mallow Roast' Solid Affair

Scorns Practices of Hill Inmates Who Interrupt Colleagues in 'Amorous Expulsions of Devotion'

By VIC MAITLAND

The freshman marshmallow roast which was taken over, operated, controlled and attended by upper-classmen proved to be a choice affair. The only complaint voiced by the boisterous crowd was the long walk out to the Lewis plantation and the chilled voyage home. However, the gripe is as bad as the picnic lover who yipped over finding ants in the lunch. The show never-the-less was chalked up as a huge success and the suggestion for a return engagement strikes this reporter as a solid idea. About 250 students gathered to chaw 450 marshmallows as Duncan McCoy led the crowd in singing. Miss Winn and Dr. Klapper acted as chaperons while Barbara Hequem-bourg and George Beckett took over the job of organizing the affair as Willy Smith and Hobart outing club prexy's, respectively.

Bruce Bertsch almost went into a belch when he toiled into the Union last Monday about 3:30 P.M. accompanied by choice bit Lois Hart. The two were bombarded with a barrage of "Hey, Lois, when's George comin' to town?" All's fun however, but George Walsh (the N. Y. PUGILIST) and no. 1 fan in the Hart album does return to the home grounds this week-end for his last stay before helping Uncle Sam fly his new war birds. The "Bronx Cheer" may be remembered as 'Yummy' the Indian—the lad who had all but a one-inch strip of hair shaved from his pate just for the glory of fifteen bucks.

Add Lillias MacGregor—kid sister of pretty sophomore Mac—to your neat gal list. Residing at Comstock—the home of the brave and land WHO DARE—the Miss is one darn nice apple. Elly Harrison flashing around Bill Achilles Theta Delta Chi pin. Benny Banta wrapped his neat convert around a local telly pole to the tune of about 400 pins last Saturday. All occupants are alive, well and sober!

Doris Ward good looking Hill junior has returned her fraternity pin to Senator Widebottom of New York. News of the RETURN ENGAGEMENT was delivered at a press conference just before the Senator sailed for Notre Dame where he will make entangling alliances with Frank Knox on how to make the Navy a more enticing institution. Said the Senator, and we quote—"I feel my present war duties will require all of my spare time. Besides, I can't be tied down with outside socialities during these National crises." Unquote. Jes' 'tween you n' me, however, I'll betcha' two ta' one—'twas the Navy that got dumped by the HILL cruiser rather than vice versa as originally foretold. Anyway, Doris's duties as understudy to Katherine Cornell leaves little time for extra curricular activities!

Miller House cuties have developed a new indoor sport called gotcha covered! The flames drape around a favorite curtain about eleven P.M. and try to catch their colleagues in the midst of amorous expulsions of devotion—in short—NECKING! Poor Bill Mack became so conscious of the third parties that he now heralds his approach and invites the viewers to view his eloquent admiration over his damsel in joining. Whatcha' doin' gals—training for Guerilla Warfare? Bud (Indian) Harter—the Miller house 10 second man—reports great difficulties under the observing peepers play. Solution: Either get more trees or obtain blackout curtains from your local 5 and 10 cent store.

Congratulations to Bud Lish who was just put in the distinctive, selective service group five-F. Bud now comes after wimmin' and small children! Said Lish—"Hell, they don't even want me if the country's invaded." Housemaid's knee was the cause of Bud's rejection... T'was heard J. Edgar Serven, our two fisted G-Man, ran out of firewood the other A.M. and lit the College furnace with the notes obtained from the College Union's suggestion box. Ya' ain't stealin' the Frosh's supply of ammunition to start the Rochester bonfire with—are ye, Ralph?

Henry Hallenstein—the Vienna Waltz—got the third degree (American style) at yee olde Union last Tuesday. Dave Davis acted as prosecuting-attorney; and questions regarding Holly's marital viewpoints were considered. Said Henry: "Vell I could not say hexactly, but personally I am saying to you—I 'tink the hill gals stink!" Abashed and startled by that astonishing remark, D. A. Davis immediately set to work to correct the Waltz's viewpoint. Much debate ensued and Henry finally reaffirmed his conclusion—"They Still Stink!"
