

We hope so!
James Regan, when asked as a starter,
By a Freshman, the French word for garter,
Just ventured to say:
"I've seen one today."
But he meant the word, not a garter.

Madame Gripheid says:

"Curl papers for college students are becoming quite the rage.
We hear favorably on this from Mr. MaConomy at Hobart."

Anxious: "We should advise you to wear a bath robe of rubber matting over your pajamas the next time you whitewash. A coachman's waterproof hat is also in vogue for protecting white night-caps".

Vacillating Dexter: "Be brave, my boy! The lock of hair you sent me in your own hand writing betokens that you will marry young and often. May we vouchsafe our opinion that you admire swiftly and many even now?"

Sunny Jim S: "For that dry feeling of the mouth and larynx we have an excellent lotion. Have it put up at William's Dispensary. Send two cent stamp and a dollar bill, and watch for the result.
