thors are not partieu-larly thankful to those who make changes and superintend the stage fitness of their work. Yet Mr. Bronson Howard has shown his recegnition of David Be-lasco's suggestions in regard to "Adolphe." which is to be produced at the Fourteenth Street Theatre on Oct 24, by announcing him as joint author. "Adolphe" introduces a character of the Rip Van Winkle type. It treats of the disappearance of a husband and father for nineteen years and the changes which he ands in his domestic circle on his return. One of the acts takes place at Newport, and the big stage of the Fourteenth Street Theatre will be given over to the mercies of a lady driving a pair of real ponies across the stage, of course in the true Newport style. George Knight, who in the past few years has been identified with farcial comedies, will be seen in "Adolphe," and Mrs. Knight, who has not played any really strong comedy part for years, will make her reappearance at the leademy this year.

Studio.

Charles Mahille Dewey, after studies made at Long Island and New Bedford, got back to the "Chelsa" a few days ago.

A new picture, by Thomas Hovenden, is in the window pla Fifth avenue dealer. It represents a binom negress wearing a dusky smile and a first of pink tulle.

R. M. Shuyleff, the landscape artist, will return this month from his cottage in the Adirondacks. He is on the Hanging Committee at the leademy this year. years, will make her reappearance at the Fourteenth Street Theatre. The company will also include Miss Jane Stewart, the daughter of the chief of the detective department of the Custom House: Miss Carrie Turzer, Charles Bowser and M. A. Kennedy. "Adolphe" will open the season at the Fourteenth Street Theatre.

Mrs. Langtry has decided to take her company as far as the Pacific slope, where she will play in May. She will not adhere strictly to the naughty incences of "As In a Looking Glass," but will vary her performances with "A Wife's Peril," "The Lady of Lyons," and "Pygmalion and Galatea." Mrs. Langtry's friends smile at Mrs. Bernard Beere's wrath anent the New York production of "As In a Looking Glass." The English actress, it is said, wanted to produce the play here herself. There was little need for Mrs. Langtry's agent to attempt to make terms with Mrs. Bernard Beere. The London market, it is said is flooded with adaptations of "As In a Looking Glass." A New York manager who returned from England the other day informed his friends that he had been in London only three days when six versions of the play had been offered him.

New Jersey, or at least a portion of it, is doomed to disappointment to-night. The "Rewedsle" company, of which William Hayden was manager, was to have appeared there, but the company was forced to close its season Saturday night. Reason: Bad business.

Mrs. James Brown Potter is not to be the Mrs. James Brown Potter is not to be the only member of her company who can claim the inestimable distinction of "social standing." A youthful Bostonese actress, known as Miss Meta Cragan, has been engaged by Mr. Miner. The lady, it is said, has mixed in Boston society, and is none the worse for it. Another acquisition to the support of Mrs. Potter is Miss Genevieve Lytton, whose personal charms have been described as Greek—not, however, because they are unintelligible to the majority.

The aquatic world is presumably happy in the contemplation of the gigantic tank at the Academy of Music, with its accompaniment of actors, actresses and melodrama. The sporting world is to be rendered equally blissful during the Christmas holidays by the production of the London melodrama called "A Run of Luck," a rather risky title for a melodrama in these unappreciative days. The melodrama in these unappreciative days. The piece shows "real" races, equally real hounds and a genuine hunt.

melodrams in these unappreciative days. The piece shows: "real" races, equally real hounds and a genuine hunt.

Gillette, of "Held by the Enemy" renown, has nobly resolved to pay Mr. Rider Haggard royalties, each and every week, on the coming production in this city of "She." As Mr. Gillette has been realizing a comfortable little income from the representation of "Held by the Enemy" in London, his generosity is not altogether remarkable. Mr. Hay-man, the manager of the Baldwin and California theatres in San Francisco, arrived in this city yesterday to superintend, with Mr. Gillette and Mr. Charles Frhman, the production of "Bhe" at Niblo's Garden. With him came Mr. Farst, a San Francisco orchestra leader, whose music will be used for the cast will be begun to day. F. F. Mackay will create the leading role. Gillette himself is utterly responsible for the adaptation. He is very indignant as the charges which have been made against him, that he has stolen his work from the San Francisco adpatation. His amover to the charges is unique. It is simply this: As nobody has yet seen or read his version, it is impossible for anybody to say that it is stolen. "Bhe" is to be very laborately staged, which means a great deal.

Miss Lillian Russell has not severed her connection with the Standard Theatre, as heartless goesipers have asserted. On the contrary, the autumnal charms of the actress are to grace the production of the London comic opers success. Thorothy," Miss Russell had been engaged by Mr. Duff a long time ago, but it was popularly supposed that he had cancelled the engagement. "Dorothy" will be produced in four weeks, when "The Arabian Nights" will be sent through the country under the management of David Headerson, of the Chicago Opera-House.

The panorama at Fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue, where the battle of the Monitor and Merrimae has been so successfully waged, will be closed in a few days. The contest is worth seeing.

Miss Minnie Palmer, the disphanous little soubrette, who has just returned from Australia, after a successful season in England, will play teasent at the Feurteenth Street Theatre in a double bill. This includes "The Ring and the Keeper," a historic lever de redesu, and "My Sweetheart," which has arrived at a period when it needs little preliminary explanation.

GOSSIP FROM THE STUDIOS.

I. Francis Esrphy and F. K. M. Rebon are still in the country.

F. E. Church has a studio in the Tenth street building, but lives at Rondout.

William Bestd, who paints masquerading animals, has sturned from Peekskill. G. Carroll Beckwith is back from Holland where he passed the summer with Mrs. Beck with.

John Lafage has not been away this summer, except for a day or two at Newport. He has just completed the memorial window which Francs Leland has put into the Church of the Assension, Fifth avenue and Tenth street, in memory of his father and mother. The abject is the "Presentation of the Infant Christ in the Temple," and has been treated very satisfactorily. Lafarge has also finished an immense painting for the same church, a commission of Mrs. Rhinelander, It contains thirty-six life-size figures, and has been minted on canvas, but will be stretched on he wall of the church so as to seem a mura fresco.

"" La France,' a light pink rose, and very fragrant, is also a comparatively new favorite, but it holds its popularity well, considering the rivalry there is in the market. When it first appeared very few people liked it, because it always looked stale—that is the ends of the petals had a habit of curling. This, however, far from being regarded as a dozon.

Mr. Garfield explained to The Evening World man, who met him at the New York Athletic Club boat-house yesterday, that carsmen who violated the rules five or ten years ago and have been idle ever since, are not the kind of people to lower the tone of amateur aquatics if reinstated now. One good home example is that of Harry Zwinger, better known as Harry Force, who once made a prize-ring essay against Jack Dempsey. He was reinstated last spring, contested in the Harlem regatta on Memorial Day unsuccessfully and has since enjoyed himself on his yacht. An investigating committee can generally find out if a disbarred member wants to join the ranks again for a frandulent purpose. Mr. Tucker believes in the old saying, "Burn me once, burn me twice."

Capt. Cooke, of the Boston Police News, writes The Evening World as follows: "If the McAuliffe party meant fight in six weeks, as they bargained, why could they object to renewing the original articles? We were betting them $2.500 to $2.000, after being cheated out of $1,000 by bad faith, and then they wouldn't go on. The outcome will be a Boston benefit to Carney—probably a private one—Carney's 'eparture for home in about two weeks, and then each party will get their money back from Sullivan, the stakeholder.

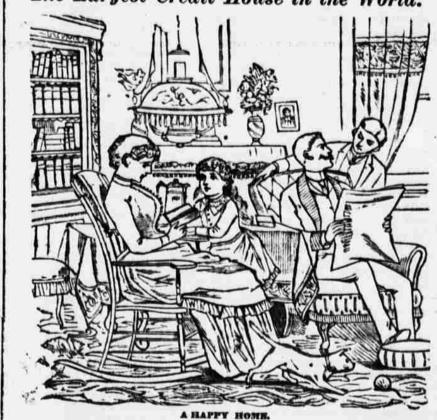

The New York Athletic Cirb's final out-door games, for the Bell, Ockrichs and other medals, will be held on the Mott Haven grounds on Saturday afternoon. The Man-hattan Athletic Club will hold its final mem-bers' games the same afternoon.
