DEATH CRIES.

How the Four Anarchists Behaved On the Gallows.

"This is the Happiest Moment of Our Lives!"

Spies Shouted: "Hurrah for Anarchy."

Mournful Moments While Waiting for the Trap.

John Died Hard, but the Others Struggled Very Little.

An Attempt Made to Shoot a Policeman.

Charge Upon a Croud of Fifteen Hundred Persons.

As a Whole the Execution Was Well Managed.

The executions were performed at the gallows in the Washington Avenue Section of this city, the victims being the Anarchists of the Haymarket riot, the scaffold being the platform of the Old Ward. The public was much disturbed at the state of affairs, but its good judgment finally prevailed.

The scene of the ghastly murders was strongly impressed. There were several thousand persons present, all of whom were seated on long window seats under the scaffolds. The ghastly scene was enacted, not to be described, and the public was not disturbed.

The victim of the ghastly murders was distinctly seen. He was a small man, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, with a long face. His hair was black, and his mustache was gold. He was a young man, about 20 years old, and he had a pleasant face.

The victim of the ghastly murders had a pleasant voice. He was a young man, about 20 years old, and he had a pleasant face.

He was a young man, about 20 years old, and he had a pleasant face. He was a young man, about 20 years old, and he had a pleasant face.

He was a young man, about 20 years old, and he had a pleasant face.