

COL. JENS BUGGE DEAD.

West Point Commandant of Cadets Passes Away.
Col. Jens Bugge, U. S. A., retired, died in the Cadet hospital at West Point, yesterday. He was born in Wisconsin forty-eight years ago and was appointed to the military academy in 1881, graduating four years later. He was an honor graduate of the army school of the line, the army staff college and the army war college. Col. Bugge served in France at the outbreak of the war with the general staff of the American expeditionary force, and was a recognized authority on tactics. He returned last summer because of physical disability and was retired. Last December he was appointed commandant of the corps of cadets. He will be buried in the Post cemetery at West Point this afternoon, with military honors.

STRONG FOR ALLIES IN WAR, HE SAYS, ANSWERING WIFE

Dr. Scott Denies He Showed German Bias—Called Kaiser a Scoundrel.

Dr. George Dow Scott, No. 42 West 73d Street, in an affidavit filed to-day before Supreme Court Justice Donnelly in answer to a suit for separation brought by Jennie Platt Scott, declared that he was strongly pro-Ally all through the war. Mrs. Scott had contended he showed a strongly pro-German bias in his conversation and had been otherwise cruel to her. Mrs. Scott is said to be of English birth.

"I was never cruel to the plaintiff," says Dr. Scott. "I was kind, thoughtful, considerate, sympathetic and loving to her. I was always strongly pro-Ally and anti-German during the war, as to which contention I submit this extract from a letter which I wrote to my brother, Arnold Scott, on October 5, 1914:

"My feelings are bitterly anti-German. I feel that the Emperor is the most miserable scoundrel on earth."
"As to using the German language, I sometimes spoke it so as not to lose my knowledge of the language. I would sometimes address a waiter in German."

In denial of the allegation that he had been cruel, Dr. Scott offered letters sent to him by Mrs. Scott after dates on which she charged he had treated her harshly. One of these, dated Westhampton, L. I., July 24, 1917, reads in part:

"Dearest: How sweet of you to write a dear letter. I love it. I think I'd give up all I possessed if you'd overcome a few irritating ways. But have heard these things and they hurt me so much—met that there is anything wrong against you. It's simply that you do ridiculous things that make one rather jealous. Now darling, I wonder if you love me well enough to overcome these little things. Darling, I want to be with you, and enjoy your company, and to love you. It all rests with you, whether I can or not. Darling, you don't know how much I want to love you and be with you. Why don't you let me? Lots of love and kisses."
In a letter from Ocean Point, Me., dated June 30, 1918, the plaintiff is alleged to have written in a letter directed to "My Dearest George:"

"I suppose you are glorying in your freedom. Are you? No one to nag. Don't you love me a little? I miss you quite a lot and wish you were here. Heaps of love, dear."
On July 9 she wrote: "I am quite a little homesick tonight and I want to be with you."
In his affidavit Dr. Scott said his wife was a nurse before their marriage and that there was an investigation of his financial condition and some talk that he "might" turn over to her $25,000, but this was not paid. Justice Donnelly granted $35 a week alimony pending trial.
Dr. Scott, who was graduated from the Harvard Medical School in 1900, sets forth that he is a member of the Harvard Medical Society, Society of Medical Jurisprudence, Medical Society of Greater New York, Academy of Medicine, County Medical Society, Herlem Medical Association, former Secretary of the Greater New York Medical Society and former President of the New York Physicians' Association. For ten years he was instructor in infant and children's diseases at the Post Graduate Hospital.

BRONX TO FIGHT DECISION FIXING GAS COST AT $1.50

District Attorney, P. S. C. and Others Plan Appeal From Justice Mullan's Ruling.

The Bronx is preparing to fight to the finish $1.50 gas. District Attorney Martin gave notice this morning that an appeal will be taken forthwith from the decision yesterday of Supreme Court Justice Mullan.

The Bronx Gas and Electric Company had announced its intention of raising the price of gas to $1.50 per thousand and had been served with a notice by District Attorney Martin that if it did all the officials would be held before the Grand Jury.

The Legislature has fixed the maximum rate for gas at $1 a thousand and the prosecution was to be based upon this law. The gas and electric company took the matter into a court of equity and proposed to raise its rate pending the action of the court. In granting an injunction Justice Mullan leaves the company free to put its rate into execution without fear of prosecution.

INSIGNIA FOR VETERANS OF AMERICAN LEGION WILL BE READY SOON

Lapel Button Devised Which Includes Service Button to be Issued by Uncle Sam.

The insignia of the American Legion, the after-war organization of those who served in the army, navy or marine corps at home or abroad during the European war, will in a few days be ready for delivery to members of the newly formed posts to which charters are being granted by the score in every State in the Union.

The insignia is a lapel button three-quarters of an inch in diameter. In the center is a reduced reproduction of the service button which has been designed by the War Department for the wear of civilians who are entitled to the Victory medal or the double rainbow service ribbon on their uniforms. This regulation button is a five-pointed star with the letters "U. S. A." in the center, resting on a wreath. In the American Legion button, the miniature reproduction of the service button is surrounded with a blue enamel ring bearing the words "American Legion," and the whole is framed in a brilliant, rayed, ten-pointed gold border.

opposition to get together for a conference later in the day to determine what action may be taken pending the appeal from the injunction. The opposition includes the Attorney General's office, the Public Service Commission, the District Attorney's office and the legal representatives of the consumers.

The Bronx Gas and Electric Company produced figures before Justice Mullan to show that the manufacture of its gas and cost of its service amounted to $1.25 a thousand feet, and claimed that it would be confiscatory to compel them to furnish its product at $1 a thousand. The same contention is being made in the court of equity.

PASSPORTS PROMISED AT LAST TO ROUMANIANS

4,000 Will Be Ready by Next Tuesday for Aliens Who Have Waited Long for Chance to Go Home.

Nearly 4,000 Rumanians gathered about the branch office of the Consulate at No. 655 Lexington Avenue to-day and demanded passports for return to their homes, for which they said they had applied from a week to two weeks ago. They were assured that the passports from Nos. 1 to 130 in order of application would be ready for them to-morrow and 1,000 would be ready by next Tuesday.

Several of the Rumanians said their savings had been used up waiting here for the passports and could hardly raise the $2.50 required for a passport.

FLUSHING YOUTH DIES IN FALL AS HE FLIES UPSIDE DOWN

Four Army Recruiting Aviators Forced Down on Trip North.

Sergt. Gordon Gates, of the air service of the army, son of E. H. Gates, of No. 222 Percy Street, Flushing, was killed by falling from a plane at Americus, Va., yesterday afternoon, according to a message received by his parents to-day. He was flying upside down in a "flying circus," when his life-belt broke. The plane flew for half a mile before it dropped to the ground. Sergt. Gates was for two years in the navy air school at Dayshore, Long Island, was discharged and went into the artillery of the 7th Division. He was transferred to the Air Service and had eight months army air training. From Washington came the report that Lieut. Robert E. Seiff, pilot, had not been heard from since he left Washington for Langley Field, Va., at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. The De Havilland planes of the Dallas-Boston recruiting squadron leaving Washington just before noon yesterday, had trouble on their trip north. Two machines came down in the fog at Camp Vail, N. J. That of Lieut. Jacob Duke was pilot hit the flagpole of a Rockaway bungalow and glanced off to the beach. Lieut. Duke's jaw was dislocated and his observer, Lieut. Fuesel, suffered a cut lip. The fourth plane of the squadron, piloted by Major John W. Simons, landed at Highland Beach, N. J., in the middle of the afternoon on the water. The machine was wrecked by the effort of the fishing boat Alaska to tow it to shore.

ROW OVER LUCKENBACH.

Commissioner Halbert Demands Retraction of Statement to Press.
A long, wordy wrangle occurred at the Sinking Fund Commission yesterday over the complaint of the Luckenbach Steamship Company that its application for a permit for Pier No. 132, Brooklyn, was being ignored by Dock Commissioner Halbert. The Commissioner read a statement he said Mr. Luckenbach had given to the newspapers and asserted it contained inaccuracies, and demanded retraction. John E. Johnson, for Mr. Luckenbach, tried to tell the Commissioner why the company should have the pier. The lawyer said he had never seen the statement, but Mr. Luckenbach, though he approached very close to the Dock Commissioner and asked how he knew he had given the statement to the press, did not deny the authorship of it. The matter will be taken up again to-day.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time
