

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

What the County Democracy now amounts to is a matter that cannot be estimated with any degree of certainty. Tammany declares that the County Democracy has been abandoned, and that it does not include more than a few thousand members in the entire city. Those leaders who still remain true to the County organization insist that the Tammany statements are untrue. In this connection it is well to recall the fact that the vote polled by the County Democracy in its palmy days was far in excess of the membership of the organization. There are many thousands in New York city, who while they have never openly allied themselves with the County Democracy, have always been firm in their allegiance to the principles represented by that organization. These are the men who are not likely to desert their cause because of Tammany's success. They supported the County Democracy as a matter of principle, and for the same reason, it is asserted, they will continue to support it. The Tammany managers are not likely to be disappointed in how great Tammany's success may become.

THE NOMINATIONS—FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

Tammany has nominated its candidates for Senators last night in accordance with the "state" as published in these columns some weeks ago. Gen. Martin T. McMahon, who was nominated in the Eighth Senatorial District, ex-Senator George Plunkitt in the Eleventh, and Senator George F. Roosevelt in the Tenth, are the Tammany candidates whose election there is a reasonable doubt. McMahon's difficulty is that he is a Republican district, and will be opposed by a man named (Stewart) whose record as a legislator, like his own, is clean. The defection of the Cowie people in the Thirteenth Assembly District, it is admitted by many Republicans, will be sufficient to defeat Stewart, but for the fact that the Democrats are divided and there will probably be another Democratic nominee in the field beside McMahon. The objections to Roosevelt and Plunkitt, that they lead to their defeat, are of a personal nature. As legislators neither has made a good record. Each will have to make a hard fight to win. Plunkitt is objectionable to a large number of Democrats, particularly in the Twenty-fourth Assembly District, where the friends of Commissioner Helms are impressed with the idea that once in the Senate, Plunkitt would as usual be the subordinate of Tammany Hall, and would lose all opportunity to aid in obtaining and carrying the Street Commissioner of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. Plunkitt will be opposed on the Republican side by Michael J. Penton, a man prominent in labor circles, and it is probable that he will have his vote further reduced by the candidacy of William Travers Jerome on the County Democracy ticket. The superiority of Mr. Jerome over Plunkitt would be so marked that it is thought he would receive every independent Democratic vote in the district.

Roosevelt is running in the Senate district where his implacable foes, the Stickers, are supposed to be the strongest. He will probably have Dutens Harbinger as his opponent, an independent Democratic ticket, and Henry C. Boty is talked of as likely to be nominated against him by the Republicans. The People's Municipal League, through its General Committee, last night took a decisive stand for genuine ball reform, and while it did not make nominations for the Assembly, it recommended the names of several available men to a special committee appointed to determine upon nominations or endorsements of both. The Committee adopted the following resolution: Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the Chairman of this meeting with power to represent the General Committee, and where practicable to make nominations and endorse the nominations for the Assembly of such good men as may favor genuine ball reform, and that such committee of five be empowered to sign call together the General Committee, if they deem that course advisable, and that the Executive Committee recommend the following names to the favor of the attention of such committee: David District—Thomas J. Byrne, Ind. Dem. Ninth District—A. H. Conkling, Rep. Tenth District—Frank W. Campbell, County Dem. Eleventh District—Samuel Barlett, Dem. Twelfth District—Edward Conkling, Dem. Thirteenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Fourteenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Fifteenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Sixteenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Seventeenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Eighteenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Nineteenth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Twentieth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Twenty-first District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Twenty-second District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Twenty-third District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem. Twenty-fourth District—George F. Roosevelt, Dem.

The Committee will be in session all to-day at the Coleman House, and some action on its part may be expected early next week. Earnest efforts will be made to induce all anti-Tammany forces in each district to unite in endorsing the League's candidates. The meeting last night was well attended. Carl Schurz presided, and speeches on the Banket Bank were made by Horace W. Deming, Lewis J. DeWolf, Alfred R. Conkling, and Ernest R. Otcott. NOMINATIONS TO BE MADE TO-NIGHT. Tammany Hall and the Republicans will

A MODEL ELEVATED ROAD.

Berlin is the only city in Europe which has an elevated railway. This belongs to and is run by the Government, and as most of the railways in Germany are operated by the State, the million passengers last year, and pays well on the investment. At certain hours of the morning and evening, when it is more availed of by the entire city, it must be seen to be appreciated by those familiar with the New York elevated system and its disfigurement of the streets. This Berlin street railway is constructed with as much care and solidity as any of the great trunk railways of the United States. Its passenger stations are more commodious and give better protection to passengers than the majority of railway stations in the principal cities of America, inasmuch as the streets it is an ornament to them. When it runs on a level with the upper stories of a house, passengers have no chance to look into the windows of sleeping-rooms, for it is so managed that the track pass, by the side of the road, and is not over the road. After the road had been surveyed and determined upon, the Government bought every piece of property by the laboring class, rates of fare are very low, and business, wherever necessary, new outlets were opened where old ones were closed. A solid appearance, clean, and well maintained, presenting as finished an appearance as that of well-built houses, and ornamented at the top with arches and railings was constructed. On this was laid a track of iron, and it was laid with as much care and of as durable materials as will be found anywhere. Going through the most populous districts, it neither annoyed nor annoyed any character. For miles unbroken under the massive roadway are to be found restaurants, shops, and other places, and it is not without the least consciousness of the terrible and the rear about their heads.—Berlin Letter to the Baltimore Sun.

THE BROOKLYN MAYORALTY CANVASS.

Nominations To-day—J. C. Hendrix and E. H. Wilson Likely to Be Named. There will be four important nominating conventions held in Brooklyn this afternoon and evening. Both the Democrats and Republicans will name their candidates for Mayor and other city and county offices. The Mayorality Conventions both will be held at the Democratic Club, at the Thomas Jefferson Building in Court Square, and the Republican in the Criterion Theatre, at Fulton Street and Grand Avenue. A few days ago it seemed certain that the candidates would be Mayor Hendrix and William Ziegler, who were the parties to the suit growing out of the water-pipe purchase of last winter. But an entirely different phase has been given to the political situation, and it may be expected that neither of them will be given nomination. As far as can be determined upon in advance of the actual assembling of the nominating bodies the rival applicants for votes for Mayor are John E. Adams, President of the General Committee, and Secretary of the Union League Club of Brooklyn. It is not likely that the name of any other candidate will be mentioned than that of Mr. Hendrix. He is named as the Democratic candidate for Mayor in 1888, and against Seth Low, who defeated him by 1843 votes. Mr. Hendrix was at that time a newspaper reporter, and a member of the Board of Education. He had been active in the Democratic cause, and was the subject of the reorganization of the Democratic party of 1885. Mr. Hendrix, after his defeat for Mayor, became a Bridge and Trustee of the Board. In 1888 President Cleveland appointed him Postmaster of the city, and he served for the full term of four years, and introduced many reforms in the administration of the office. For the past half-dozen years he has been President of the Board of Education. When he left the Postmastership in 1889 he became President of the Kings County Trust Company, and under the name of the corporation has had a successful career.

Execu Hirsch, Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, will call the Republican City Convention to order. There will be 385 delegates. One of those from the Twenty-third Ward will be William H. Miller, a well-known Democrat, who has been in the Jefferson Hall movement, who has led to the reorganization of the Democratic party of 1885. Mr. Hendrix, after his defeat for Mayor, became a Bridge and Trustee of the Board.
