LETTER NO. III. FROM DR. L. C. BECK.

Ogdensburgh, July 24, 1832.

To his Excellency Governor THROOP.

SIR—I left Plattsburgh on the 20th instant, and following the stage route through the counties of Clinton, Franklin, and St. Lawrence, reached this place on the evening of the 21st. At the different villages on my way, I employed the few moments which I could obtain in making inquiries concerning the cholera, and in collecting the publications of the several Boards of Health.—From these I should infer that the panic has been much more general in this region, than in any other which I have yet visited. In some places, the approach of emigrants was stopped by an armed force—in others, houses were barred up by their owners or their occupants to prevent the entrance of any persons from the infected district. But this excitement appears to have entirely subsided, and more correct, as well as more humane views, are now very generally entertained.

On the route just mentioned, but few cases at all approaching to spasmodic cholera have occurred, and perhaps none, possessing its genuine marks. Still, however, in most of the villages a general tendency to cholera complaints has been noticed as peculiar to the present season.

At this place, the first case of cholera occurred on the 18th of June; since which time there have been 8 deaths from the disease; 6 of these persons were, as I am informed by Dr. Sherman, of intemperate habits. The whole number of cases in this village it is difficult to ascertain, as some of the physicians have not reported to the Board of Health. From the information which I have received, I should suppose that there had been not less than 50. The disease has now assumed a milder form, and yields readily to prompt medical treatment and careful nursing. This fact has had the effect of quieting the minds of the inhabitants.

With regard to the cause of cholera at this place, some diversity of opinion prevails. By some it is said that the first persons attacked had been in habits of intercourse with emigrants from Montreal. Others, however, deny this assertion. The only fact which appears to be admitted on all hands is, that the disease had for several days previously prevailed at Prescott, between which place and Ogdensburgh, the communication was uninterrupted. But the disease during its course does not appear to have been confined to any part of the village, nor to any class of persons; although the filthy, the intemperate and the irregular, have been the greatest sufferers.

The quarantine regulations adopted at this place, so far as it regards emigrants, are much more rigid than on Lake Champlain. No emigrants have been allowed to land here unless they had some fixed point of destination. Those whom they have permitted to land, have been subjected to a quarantine of from 5 to 12 days, depending on circumstances. And as none have been admitted who had not the means of supporting themselves, the number has been quite small. From the 12th to the 19th July inclusive, forty-five persons have been quarantined. Among these only one case of the cholera has occurred. A great proportion of the emigrants of the present season are destined for the settlements in Upper Canada. The boats at Prescott are constantly transporting large numbers to their places of destination.

In consequence of the state of alarm at Oswego, and other places on Lake Ontario, the Board of Health of this place, think it proper that they should adhere to their present system of quarantine during the prevalence of the disease in Canada. This they have adopted and still wish to continue, not for the purpose of keeping out the cholera, which is already among them, but of keeping out those who must, if they sicken here, become a town or county charge.

With the exception of a few cases daily reported here, and one or two in the vicinity of Waddington, I cannot learn that any severe cases of cholera at present exist in this county. Certainly there is little or no alarm with regard to it.

I expect to leave this place this afternoon in the steam boat United States, which touches at all the important places on Lake Ontario, and will afford me the opportunity of visiting the Boards of Health on that portion of our frontier.

With sentiments of the highest respect
I have the honor to be your ob't serv't,
LEWIS C BECK.

St Peter's Church, Auburn—It is with no ordinary feelings of gratification that we state the circumstances attending the laying of the Corner Stone of an edifice on the site of the one destroyed by fire in February last, by the Rector, assisted by the Rev. George Fiske. The ceremony took place on Friday the 10th August. The afternoon was remarkably fine, and a large concourse of people gave convincing evidence of their deep and lively interest in the transaction. The admirable service prescribed by the Bishop of the Diocese was sustained by the responses of the audience in an animating manner. The Psalm and Hymn selected for the occasion were sung with much emotion, and every heart seemed to feel their appropriateness. Several members of the Auburn Band kindly offered their assistance and gave fine effect and great solemnity to the occasion.—Gospel Messenger.

COLONEL SAMUEL WARD—Under the obituary head this morning will be found announced the death of Col. Samuel Ward, a veteran of the Revolution, one of the most venerable survivors of the patriots who fought for our independence. He had scarcely attained the age of eighteen, when he was appointed Captain of a company raised in Rhode-Island, and served under the command of Gen. Green at the siege of Boston. He was subsequently appointed Captain in the Continental Line, in which capacity he accompanied the expedition of Arnold to Quebec, where he was taken prisoner on the 31st December, 1775. He was exchanged in the fall of the ensuing year; and soon after was raised to the rank of a Major. He was at the battle of Red Bank in October, 1777; had command of a regiment in the retreat of Sullivan; and served as Lieut. Colonel from 1779 until the conclusion of the war.

Col. Ward was a native of Rhode-Island; in which state his family and that of the Greens, to whom they are nearly allied, have always been distinguished for their influence and respectability. After the revolution he settled in this state, as an eminent merchant. On returning to his native state, his clear sense, general knowledge and sound patriotism were often invoked by his fellow-citizens; and particularly on some most trifling occasions, when he did not refuse to step forward in what he believed to be the line of duty. For many years after he resided on his farm near Jamaica, Long Island; and latterly in this city, where, retaining all his faculties, and his equal and agreeable temperament to the last, he has now died, full of years and full of honors.—N. York paper.

CHARCOAL.—Pulverized charcoal has become a leading article in the Materia Medica. It has been used the present season frequently, and to much good purpose. A table spoonful taken in water has in many instances arrested the violent vomitings of the cholera.

Charcoal is recommended as a serviceable article to dyspeptics—to be taken early in the morning. There is economy as well as utility in the prescription. It serves the two-fold purpose of a tonic and tooth-powder.—Troy Budget.

A better way still, is to take a table spoonful of the coal, in about a wine glass full of water, cold tea, or coffee, made pleasant by the addition of a very little sugar, [loaf is best] to be drank at going to bed. It effectually removes nausea and uneasiness of the stomach, and thereby tends to keep off an attack of sickness during the night. Maple or birch coal which has been recently burnt is best. If it has been much exposed to the weather, or a damp atmosphere, it should be thrown in the fire and burned ten or fifteen minutes before it is pulverized.—Schenectady Whig.

BANK ROBBERY.—We are informed that the Yates County Bank, in this village, was entered on the afternoon of the 15th ultimo, while the officers of the Bank were at tea, through the rear window, and between three and four hundred dollars taken from a drawer.—Penn-Yan Star.

Theological Seminary.—The anniversary exercises of this institution took place in the 2d Presbyterian Church on the 15th ult.. They were in many respects highly creditable to the Young Gentlemen and the Institution.—Auburn paper.

The Cherokee Indians, says a southern paper, have determined upon calling a council of their chiefs and head men, to determine upon the propriety of exchanging their lands on this side the Missisippi to the general government, for others on the waters of the Arkansas, and adjacent to those of the Creeks and Choctaws.

Counterfeit American Half Dollars are in circulation in Baltimore. They are smooth to the touch, of light weight, do not ring when struck, and may be readily detected if examined.

Gov. Throop has arrived at his residence in Owasco.

Admiral WHITE, of the British navy, has arrived at the city of New-York, on a visit to his mother residing in that city.

An action was lately brought by the city of Buffalo, N. Y. to recover a penalty of a physician for neglecting to report a case of cholera under his care. The city charter imposes a penalty for neglect to report any case of infectious or pestilential disease. It was contended by the defendant, that the cholera was neither infectious nor pestilential. On this point the jury were unable to agree.

Folly and Death.—The last Norfolk Herald reports a case of cholera in the person of James Baily, a morocco dresser. After being warned against the pernicious effects of all fruit, he went home, ate a musk-melon, and was buried in 24 hours after.

Accident.—We are pained to learn that yesterday, while Samuel Hamilton, Esq. (of this village) and his wife were riding in their gig, some accident occurred which broke the bit and the horse ran. Both were thrown out, and Mrs. H. was so badly injured, that she died in a few hours.—Rochester Gem.

Sir James Mackintosh completed the manuscript of the third volume of his History of England: half of it was printed at the time of his death.

Mr. Galt, the novelist, has had an attack of paralysis, which confines him to his room. Strong hopes are entertained that he will recover the use of his lower limbs.

Thomas Moore is henceforth to be associated with Thomas Campbell, in editing the Metropolitan Magazine.

Siamese Cats.—A friend of ours showed us, while on a visit to a neighboring town last week, one of the most singular and natural curiosities that we have ever met with. It was a cat, or cats—we don't know which to call it, having one head and neck, connected together half way down the body, then branching out and forming two distinct, so far as they go, perfect bodies. This strange animal has eight legs, four ears, two mouths, and but one throat....Southbridge Cour.

Natural Curiosity.—The Wythe, Va. Argus says—there is now in this place a negro boy, who is turning entirely white. His body is nearly white, and his face entirely so, with the exception of a few spots, the size of a dollar—and what is more remarkable, his skin presents the appearance of a white child, the rose and lily beautifully combined. He presents altogether a curious appearance, and the beholder is struck with awe on the first view. His parents are remarkably black.

The Baltimore Gazette gives an account of a number of hogs, which have recently died of cholera from eating water-melons.

Cholera in Russia.—By the statement of the Cholera in Russia, it appears to have visited 29 cities or towns, and that its average duration in each was 37 days.

Sting of the Bee.—It may not be generally known that common whitening proves an effectual remedy against the effect of the sting of a bee or wasp. The whitening is to be moistened with cold water, and immediately applied. It may be washed off in a few minutes, when neither pain nor swelling will ensue.

A tremendous Gale.—Joel Gale, now residing in Trenton, N. J. is said to be seven feet and three inches high, and to weigh three hundred and fifty pounds.

A London paper in speaking of the vast quantity of trash, pouring in in the shape of congratulations for the safety of the King against the stone which "hit" his sacred Majesty's head, says, "If there had been a particle of brains behind the place where the stone struck, there would have been no occasion for these addresses! Visit of Don Miguel to the United States Ship Boston.—Extract of a letter from an American gentleman, dated Lisbon, June 20th, 1832:

"His Majesty, Don Miguel, visited yesterday the U. S. Ship Boston, Capt. Storer, now lying here. He was received on board at 11 o'clock, A. M. (attended only by the Marquis of Bellas,) with all the usual honors. The yards were manned, and three cheers given by the crew, on his coming alongside. When he reached the quarter deck, a salute of 21 guns was fired, the Portuguese flags were hoisted at the fore and mizen mast heads, and the Royal standard of Portugal at the main, alongside of the American pennant. His Majesty visited the ship throughout, examining every thing and making many enquiries. He partook of a collation both in the cabin and wardroom, and frequently expressed himself highly gratified with every thing, and particularly with the attention paid him. He remained on board more than an hour, and when he was about to leave the ship to re-enter his barge, turned round and observed, "This day I shall always remember with pleasure." The ship's yards were again manned, three cheers given, and another salute of
