REPUBLICAN GENERAL COMMITTEE.

New-York, 26th Sept. 1827.

At a special meeting of the Republican Committee...held at Tammany Hall, the following preamble...and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, the Republican General Committee, believing an expression of sentiment, respecting the course which the Republican Party has adopted throughout the Union, on the present important question, to be at this time both just and proper, and considering it their right as individuals, as well as their privilege as citizens, and as members of the great republican family, to express at all times their opinions on political men and measures; Therefore

Resolved, That we view with undisguised satisfaction, the marked preference which our Republican fellow-citizens have manifested for the election of GENERAL ANDREW JACKSON as President of these United States, and that we repose all confidence in his worth, integrity and patriotism.

Resolved, That it be recommended to our Republican fellow-citizens, in addition to the notices of meeting in their respective wards, that they elect such citizens only, to represent them in their different committees, as are favourable to the Man whom the American people delight to honour, and who, in the language of the immortal Jefferson, "has filled the measure of his country's glory."

Resolved, That the foregoing preamble and resolutions be signed by the Chairman and secretary, and published in the New-York Inquirer, and Morning Courier.

BENJAMIN BAILEY, Chairman.
WILLIAM COE, Secretary.

The Onego Gazette, in a firm and temperate article, has declared in favour of Jackson for the next President. That's right. Neutrality would be almost as criminal now, as it was in the last war.

RAIL-ROAD MEETING.

At a meeting of citizens of Tioga county, convened at Goodman's Hotel, in the village of Owego, on the 26th Sept. 1827, pursuant to public notice, for the purpose of adopting such measures in relation to the contemplated RAIL-ROAD from the village of Owego, on the Susquehanna River, to the village of Ithaca, at the head of Cayuga Lake, JAMES PUMPELLY, Esq. was chosen Chairman, and S. B. LEONARD appointed Secretary. The following resolutions were adopted:

1st—That as the project of opening a communication between the waters of the Erie Canal, and the Susquehanna River, has for a number of years occupied much of the publick attention in this State,—and whereas we are deeply impressed with a sense of the important benefits that its accomplishment would confer upon a widely extended and fertile country,—and whereas we are well satisfied that the grand object in view, would be best...if not better effected, by the construction of a RAIL ROAD than that of a Canal: Because,

1st—From the best information we can obtain, a Rail-Road can be constructed at about one-third the expense of a Canal, and

2d—Because the former can be used at all season, while the latter would be locked up for several months with frost; and that part of the year which it would then be rendered useless, would be most important for the transaction of business in this region of country,—and whereas, as well from motives of general policy, as from a desire still further to promote that grand system of Internal improvement for which our State is so highly distinguished, we feel an anxious desire to accomplish the object in view; therefore

Resolved, That we will bring the subject before the Legislature of this State, at their next session, adopt such measures in relation thereto, as shall appear most likely to ensure success to the application.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed—on this county, to confer with a committee from Tompkins county upon the subject, draw a memorial to the Legislature, &c.—and that...times formerly, Eleazar Dana, John H. Avery, John R. Drake, and S. B. Leonard, be said committee.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the chairman and secretary, and published in the Owego Gazette, the paper of Tompkins county, the Albany Argus, and New-York Spectator.—JAS. PUMPELLY, Ch'n.
S. B. LEONARD, Sec'y.

ELECTION OF JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

A writer in the Long Island Farmer, in allusion to the 4th section of the election law, passed at the last session of the legislature, says:—"From the phraseology of this section, and the repeated references to the election of members of assembly, it would seem an inference almost irresistible, that the election of justices was intended to be conducted in all respects like that for members of assembly, to be by counties and not by towns."

This amendment to the constitution, in relation to the election of justices of the peace, is in the following words:—"The people of this state, in their several towns, shall at their annual election, and in such manner as the legislature shall direct, elect by ballot their justices of the peace, and the justices so elected in any county, shall immediately thereafter meet and, in the presence of the supervisor of each town, clerk of the said towns, be divided by lot into four classes, of one in each class, and be numbered, one, two, three, four," &c.

The intention of this amendment of the constitution is made clearly so, to give the choice of justices of the peace to the people, "in their several towns," and in prescribing the manner in which the votes should be received and canvassed, it could not have been the intention of the legislature to contravene this provision of the constitution. The law of the last session, which has been alluded to, is not as clear and explicit as such laws ought to be. Many persons, who, like the writer in the Farmer, have formed their opinions that the respective towns were to elect their justices, have expressed a doubt whether such an inference could be fairly drawn from the act of 1827.

Albany Argus.

GRAND JURORS.

By a law of this State, passed on the 13th April last, it is made the duty of the Supervisors, at their annual meetings, to select the grand jurors for their respective counties, and in so doing, shall prepare a list, to contain not less than double, nor more than four times as many names, as are required by law for the courts held during the year; and to consist of "men of approved integrity, of fair characters, of sound judgements, and well informed of from which list the county clerk is to draw the names, in like manner as in the case of petit jurors." It is a wise provision, and we could hope to see the time when it shall be deemed an honour to be a member not only of a grand, but of a petit jury.—

TO THE PUBLICK.

THE undersigned, while travelling in the fall of the year 1825, from his residence in the village of Aurora, to the city of New-York, lost a sum of money, and was induced, at the time, to believe it was lost while he was at the Hotel in the village of Ithaca, kept by Mr. Spencer. Under this impression he may have made expressions calculated to wound the feelings of Mr. Spencer, his family and friends, and injure him as the keeper of a publick house.

He now feels it a duty which he owes as well to the publick as to Mr. Spencer, to declare, that he never intended to impute the loss of the said money to Mr Spencer or to his agency; or to make any other imputation against his character as an honest man. Any such declaration, as Cæsar he knows or believes, would have been without foundation, and if he has, at any time, been supposed to have made them, he must have been misunderstood.
