Home Matters.—

Use Pasha Ali's Arabian Coffee.

Try the Great Arabian Spices, in Sifting Boxes.

The Ladies of the Home Relief Society will meet at the residence of Mrs. O. E. Jones, on Second Street, Friday afternoon.

—The friends of Rev. C. H. Morse will hold a donation party at his house in Dewittville in the afternoon, and at the church in the evening, Thursday, Jan. 10th, 1871. All his friends and the citizens generally are cordially invited to attend.

—Judges Marvin and Cook have decided that the examination of John Keough before 'Squire Davis was illegal, and therefore null and void. This leaves the prisoner in the hands of the Sheriff under the authority of 'Squire Hinckley's warrant, of Clymer, before whom he will probably be examined. We shall publish their opinions and decision in full to-morrow.

Fire.—

Yesterday, Monday, afternoon, about 3 o'clock Marvin and Co.'s still house and coal shed, First street, burned. The building was merely a shell to protect the coal, stills, etc., from the inclemency of the weather. It burnt furiously for a few minutes. The flames were prevented from communicating with other buildings therefore the damage is slight. The fire was caused by a smoke stake in the roof. $500 will repair the loss. The building was insured for $363 by Firman and Millspaw. The refinery has not received any damage whereby the works will be stopped, but the Company are as well prepared as ever to fill all orders. A new frame building will be put up in a few days.

Engine Company No. 1 was promptly on the ground followed closely by the Hook and Ladder Company. Engine No. 2 was brought to the field of action in double quick time and all shared in the work of subduing the flames. The rubber hose of No. 2 burst once. The engines and men worked well; score the boys another long mark for their promptness and effective work.

Accident.—

J. S. Rice, of Ellery, met with a severe accident on Monday. He was riding up from the Oil Refinery fire with another man when the team took fright from a locomotive and ran. Mr. Rice jumped out and struck sideways on the left foot with such force as to fracture one of the bones of the leg at the ankle joint. It was a comminuted fracture of a serious nature, from the effects of which it is doubtful if he ever recovers. The fracture was set and Mr. Rice sent home. We regret to say he didn't have an Accident Insurance policy.

The team was stopped without damage. Moral—Always stick to the ship as long as she floats.

Surrogate's Office.—

We understand that the new Surrogate will keep his office in this village for a short time, as he is unable to remove his family to Mayville until spring. This will enable people living in the south part of the county, having unfinished business at the office, an opportunity to close up the same before the removal of the office to the County Seat. See Surrogate's Notice in to-day's paper.

Musical Jubilee.

Instead of their usual Convention the Chautauqua County Musical Association propose this winter to hold a grand musical jubilee at Westfield, commencing Jan. 31st and continuing four days. Prof. L. O. Emerson of Boston is to be their leader and the Society is to be assisted by a number of the best soloists of New England. Their programme will include many oratorio choruses and difficult glees. Much attention will also be given to church music. From what we can learn of the preparations this is to be the musical event of the season. We shall refer to this subject again after the arrangements are more fully completed.

Wanted.—

Two copies of the Weekly JOURNAL of Sept. 30th, two of Aug. 5th, and one of July 29th, all of 1870. Any one having copies of the above date will confer a great favor by sending them to the JOURNAL Office.

Clymer Items.—

—Julia E. Snell, daughter of E. Beardsley, formerly an inmate of Utica Asylum, having recently shown marked signs of returning insanity, was taken to the Chautauqua County Asylum on Saturday last.

—On Saturday evening last, at about 7 o'clock p. m., Mrs. Henry J. Warnshuis started with a lantern to go from John Merdink's, her brothers, residing in French Creek, to her father's house in the same town, cross-lots, distance about one mile; one-half of the way lying through the woods or an old wind fall. Up to this writing, Thursday evening, she has not been found, though parties are diligently searching. Fears are entertained that she may have lost her way and perished in the snow.

—The dedication of the M. E. Church took place on the 22d inst. The morning hour was occupied by Rev. Moses Hill, of Cleveland, O., at the close of which the liabilities incurred by the building Committee were stated to be $3,369.11. The larger portion of this amount must necessarily be defrayed by subscription from the members of the Church and Society. The evening services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Leslie, of Corry, Pa., at which time a more liberal spirit prevailed. The debt was cancelled and the church was formally dedicated. Rev. R. N. Stubbs, of Pleasantville, Pa., Rev. Mr. Maltby, of Meadville, Pa., Rev. Mr. Hill, of Wattsburg, Pa., and many aged members of the M. E. Church who had formerly lived in Clymer were present.

Ellery Items.—

—For some ten days past we have had extreme cold weather with high winds. The roads in many places are rendered almost impassable on account of snow drifts.

—The steam saw-mill of O. F. Pickard is cutting out large quantities of maple, beech and oak lumber for wheelbarrows and furniture, which is being hauled to Jamestown and Dexterville to be manufactured.

—A donation for the benefit of Rev. L. McIntyre will be held at the house of Oliver Klock, Tuesday afternoon and evening, Jan. 3d, 1871. All are invited.

Social Items.—

The subscriber has just received a large lot of Fancy Goods, Toys, Dolls, Games, Books, Albums, Portfolios, Writing Desks, Work Boxes, Fancy Baskets, Pocket Books, Wallets, Purses, Cigar Cases, Pipes, Tobacco Pouches, Cutlery, Razors, Razor Strops, Shaving Cases, Brushes, Combs, Perfumery, Soaps, Fancy Boxes, Stationery, Envelopes, Pens, Pencils, Inks, Mucilage, Paper Weights, Pen Holders, Pocket Knives, Scissors, Portmonnaies
