THE WAYS OF POLITICS

Several days ago, a number of well known theatrical stars called at the White House and after making President Coolidge "laugh out loud" said they were for him. Republican newspapers promptly capitalized the incident for all that it is worth.

Since that day, a senate committee has been investigating campaign contributions, and at yesterday's hearing we were told that instead of being a spontaneous expression of good will for Mr. Coolidge's administration from the theatrical world, the call was arranged and paid for by the "Coolidge Non-Partisan League."

The ways of politics are many and devious. When enthusiasm is lacking, all one has to do if he has the money to pay for it, is to arrange for some demonstration of interest and good will and the people will be swept along with the tide. If such trickery and deception were practiced by the Democrats, how the Republican press would howl.

SPEAKING OF NEGLECT

The Newburgh News not long ago was hounding Governor Smith because he took a day off to go fishing. Later the Governor was damned because he made some speeches in New England. The state's business was suffering badly from neglect and if a Republican governor were elected, he would never want a day off and he would never make a speech for the

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

By GENE BYRNES

G. O. P. But while our friends in the Hill City have been pounding Gov. Smith for going fishing and making speeches it has overlooked the fact that a large number of the ambassadors and other diplomats have been called from their posts of duty in foreign lands to make political speeches.

WHY BOTHER WITH EUROPE? If the United States must maintain a policy of isolation, if we are not interested in Europe at all, what is the use of sending official representatives to some European conferences and unofficial representatives to others? If the League of Nations is a closed incident, why should America pay any attention to its communications? Why should the administration participate in the plans of the league for the suppression of trafficking in narcotics, and why should Presidents Harding and Coolidge favor American entrance in the league's world court? The fact is that in their hearts the leading men of the Republican party know they are wrong, but they are too scared of the hyphenate vote and a few obstinate senators.

PARTIES ARE AGREED

Both political parties are committed to the proposition to bond the state to the amount of $15,000,000 for the acquisition of state parks. The platforms adopted by both state conventions endorsed the project. Let us all vote for the preservation of the great out doors to all the people. Both political parties in the city of Port Jervis are committed to playgrounds. The organizations have not formally adopted resolutions, but leading men are expressing themselves favorably. Other cities are giving playgrounds to their boys and girls and our boys and girls are entitled to the same progress. There are some people opposed; but has there ever been a proposition laid before the voters since Port Jervis became a city that did not meet with the objection? Don't we always find people who have the backward look? In

Gas on Stomach Won't Let You Sleep

Will His Playground Be an Ash Heap?

This lovable baby is representative of the hundreds of little future citizens of our city who will soon be searching for a place to play and thus unconsciously develop their body and character for the stern battles of life. Has our community seen to it that there are sunlit safe and healthy places to play, places better than the alley, the ash heap, the pool room corner or the dangerous street? Nor is it enough merely to provide playground spaces or apparatus. An automobile, no matter how fine and costly, is useless without a driver. And likewise a playground can only do its wonderful work in the development of our child life if we provide a sympathetic, resourceful leader. Nor are the playgrounds fulfilling their community duty if they are used but a few months during the summer. Coherent leadership will devise seasonal uses during the entire year, and twilight activities will open up a new recreational life for young men and women and the whole range of adults. Let US take stock of what WE are doing with OUR recreation opportunities.

The uncertainties regarding the election results have been increased, since the Prince of Wales came over and captured the flapper vote.

He—Dearest, no one will ever know how I love you!

One reason for the Prince of Wales' popularity among Americans, is that he has never been known to deliver a lecture.

It is said that among the presents received by a flapper bride in Brooklyn the other night were a hip flask, a humidior and nine cigaret cases.
