...whenever the Teacher's Department...
...which has a success of...
...the experiment tried in both...
...the Northern and Republican and...
...it always proved a failure; not for...
...the fault of the publishers, but because...
...we do not take interest enough in the...
...matter, and after dragging out a sick...
...existence of a few weeks, the...
...Teacher's column is consigned to a...
...premature grave, "unwept, unhonored...
...and unsung."
We have as yet received but one communication intended for this column, and that is the solution noticed below. If you wish us to continue this branch of our paper, you must contribute your mite or it will fall in the wake of its predecessors.

Problems, Queries, &c.
Solutions will be published in two columns.

I have a meadow 24 rods long, and 18 rods wide: How many men, mowing a swath 5 1/2 feet wide, will take to mow once around the field and cut it half-down?

MR. D. MEAD has furnished us with solutions to problems 1 and 2, but for lack of the proper mathematical signs, we are unable to publish them. The answers are as follows:
1. Carries A 32 8-11 miles
2. 4 feet

Hunger.
A man recently died in Paris of intensified hunger. His earnings being altogether insufficient to satisfy his voracious appetite, though he ate scarcely anything but bread. His fellow workmen used to contribute toward his support; but worried with the dependence on one man, they finally refused to do so.

Cases of this disease, both in ancient and modern times, but the most remarkable case of late years was that of Anne Dunne, who died in Paris only a few years since. She used to eat from twenty-four to thirty pounds of bread a day. When on her death bed and unable to take food, she begged her sister to come and eat near her, and her last words were: "Since it pleases God that I shall eat no more, let me at least have the pleasure of seeing you eat."

Mr. Frank Leslie has instituted a libel suit against the Boston Post, by giving his damages at $20,000. The paragraph which gave offense represented that Mr. Leslie had arrived at Ridgfield Springs, "with a lady and two fast horses."

Minnesota woods are full of the prickly ash tree, and a large number of persons earn a living by picking the berries, which sell for ten cents a pound for medicinal purposes. It is thought the business may prove a considerable source of revenue.

A little girl attending a party, was asked by her mother how she enjoyed herself. "Oh," said she, "I am full of happiness. I couldn't be any happier unless I could grow."

Said a very high functionary to his scapegrace son: "Look at that Her-ram L. at the top of the tree, and what is my reward? Why, when I die, my son is the greatest rascal in England!" to this young hopeful answered: "Yes, dad, when you die; but not till then, you see."

All the bonds issued by the Town of Kingston in behalf of the Hamilton and Oswego Railroad, six hundred thousand dollars in amount, were bought by Thomas Cornell, the banker.
The Newburgh Journal, and were paid for on delivery.

Some parrots live a century or a century and a half, and they are the only creatures, except wrenns, who talk without thinking. And so it might perhaps be assumed that absence of mental irritation, and a careful maintenance of stupidity, would be good for long life.

A genius out West has just patented a machine for making sweet potato-pies. He is a brother of the old general who put hands on meekly pears and sold them for currysoms.
A smart young man visiting a prison in Maine, inquired of some of the prisoners the cause of their being in such a place. At last, he asked a small girl the cause of her being in prison. Her answer was that she saw a mill, as it went back after the wind and was arrested. The young man started.
