ATTITUDE TOWARD CASTRO

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—The attitude toward Santa Clara remains the same, for in the government that has followed the death of the President, the intention has been to maintain the previous policy. The administration is determined to continue the war against Castro, and this is the general consensus of opinion among the various political parties. The government has not changed its policy, and the attitude toward Castro remains the same.

Facts About the Canteen

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—The situation in the islands is clearly understood. The government has been appreciably improved since the recent recognition of the great services of Mr. P. Sanger, inspector-general of the war department.
