Goldfish in America
Although the great showman, P. T. Barnum, supposedly imported goldfish specimens as early as 1850, a New York City pet shop is credited with first selling them to Americans in 1865.

Symbol of Authority
The mace is the only visible symbol of authority in the United States. This symbol was adopted by the House of Representatives by resolution in 1789—there is no mace in the Senate.

Local school authorities recently met with Irving Atlas, director of the St. Lawrence Valley Educational Television Council and Rick Van Sant, coordinator of Communications for St. Lawrence County to discuss problems and procedures entailed in the system-wide installation and utilization of educational TV.
As a result a workshop was held Nov. 1 at Kennedy School for all elementary teachers to explore the diversified possibilities and materials available through the offices mentioned above.
At this meeting, Robert Brashaw, Audio Visual director, announced that all schools in the district will be wired and operative on Cable TV through the cooperation of Ogdensburg Video on or before Thanksgiving. This will provide a distinct advantage in the quality of reception.
Atlas pointed out that most children arrive at Kindergarten with 1000 hours of TV viewing per pre-school year and that educational TV is, therefore, a vital tool which can be used as a resource to fit classes and curriculum for teaching purposes in accordance with a teacher's imagination and ingenuity.
Teachers are urged to comment on programs viewed in order to help evaluate materials so that ultimately
