TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

A Glance at the World's News.

Edwin Booth's reappearance at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York, Monday evening, was marked by a very cordial and enthusiastic reception.

William W. Perkins, of Rome, N. Y., was found dying in a room at the Hoffman House, New York, Sunday. He had taken an overdose of opium.

The New York Times says: There are indications that the Stewart art robbers have been traced. The police are very reticent. Mrs. Stewart is said to be in a very low condition.

Edward Remenyi, the Hungarian violinist, made his first appearance in America Monday night at Steinway Hall. The critics pronounce him a phenomenal artist.

Intimate friends of Butler say he attributes his defeat to two mistakes: First, having anything to do with Kearney, and second, in accepting the Democratic nomination.

"Wes" Allen, a noted thief, with a companion, was arrested at the Cathedral Fair in New York, Monday night. He drew a revolver on the officers, creating considerable excitement.

The annual report of the Department of the interior will contain a new feature in the way of information in reference to the sparsely populated States of the country, where workingmen may find homes.

Yesterday being the twelfth anniversary of the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic, it was properly celebrated by various Posts in Philadelphia.

The case of Mr. La Bau, contestant of Commodore Vanderbilt's will, was unexpectedly rested yesterday morning and the trial adjourned till to-day to enable the proponents to open their side.

The New York Tribune says: The extraordinary measures resorted to for carrying South Carolina create agitation at Washington. The Republican candidates, Mackey, Rainey and Smalls, will be urged to give notice of a contest, so that the whole subject will be forced upon the attention of Congress.

The Times says: Salisbury's reply to Everts's letters concerning the fishery award was received yesterday. It is believed that the portion referring to the interference with American fishermen is satisfactory to this government. It is probable that the Halifax award will be paid November 23d.

The N. Y. Sun publishes a column leader on Tilden closing with a declaration that the cipher telegrams prove that during his Presidential campaign he suffered a clique of political and immoral people to surround him, to act for him and to compromise him. The Sun says "Mr. Tilden will not again be the Presidential candidate of any party."

Reports of official majorities for Governor from every county in Pennsylvania, result as follows: For Hoyt, 63,256; Dill, 41,937. Outside of Philadelphia Hoyt has a plurality of 5,975 and a plurality altogether of 22,524. On the whole vote, returns of which are not yet complete, he is in a minority of about 50,000.

Plan to Reorganize the Militia.

At a recent informal meeting in New York of a few officers (including both national guardsmen and regulars), a committee was appointed to obtain the views of those desirous of co-operating in an attempt to reorganize the militia system, and to agree upon a plan likely to meet with general approval, and eventually to secure its adoption by Congress. The committee through Gen. G. W. Wingate, has adopted a circular in which attention is called to an article on "A national militia system," by Gen. Rodenbough, U. S. A., published in the National Guardsman for October, 1878. The following memorandum of legislation required the approval of the committee:

That there shall be an annual appropriation of $1,000,000, for the purchase of arms, ammunition and other ordnance and quartermaster's stores, and for the general benefit of, and to be apportioned pro rata among, the regularly organized and uniformed militia of the different states, under the following general conditions, and in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed by a board to consist of two regular and three militia officers to be appointed by the President.

The president shall appoint a board of officers from the militia and army to prepare regulations to be approved by him.

Inspectors to be appointed from the retired list of the army, who with the State officers shall make one inspection annually.

That upon the application of any regimental, brigade or division commander of the militia, through the Governor of his State, the Secretary of War may assign officers from the active or retired list of the army, with their consent, to act as Adjutant, Adjutant-General, or chief of staff of such regiment, brigade or division.

Nothing in this plan to be construed as giving the President any authority to use or call the militia into service, or exercise any control over them other than that already conferred under the Constitution and laws of the United States

Poetry Versus Fact.

A bard has written a poem entitled "The Curse of Empty Hands." But an empty hand is not so bad as two pairs when your opponent has a flush. — [Norristown Herald.]

The annual report of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing shows an aggregate expence of $538,000. In the labor and expence account less than one-fifth of the amount appropriated was expended, leaving $652,000 unexpended. Since the 1st of October, '77, the Bureau has executed all work upon U. S. notes and national bank currency

Joseph Kain was supposed to be at the point of death from rheumatism in Cleveland. Dr. Brown, a reputable physician, said that he could not recover, and left him at night, believing that he would die before morning. In the morning, however, Kain was not only alive, but apparently free of the disease. He declared that he had been cured instantly in answer to prayer. He is a Free Methodist and a believer in modern miracles. He subsequently, however, had a relapse.
