HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

STOMACH
BITTERS

Though Shaking like an Aspen Leaf

With the chills and fever, the victim of malaria may still recover by using this celebrated specific, which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks but prevents their recurrence. It is infinitely preferable to quinine, not only because it does the business far more thoroughly, but also on account of its perfect wholesomeness and invigorating action upon the entire system.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally

N. McRae, Wyebridge, Ontario, writes: "I have sold large quantities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; it is used for colds, sore throat, croup, etc., and in fact, for any affection of the throat it works like magic. It is a sure cure for burns, wounds and bruises."

For sale by Shaw & Stiles.

GENERAL NOTES.

A man named Beecher has got into the Beecher sort of trouble at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

The French Exhibition palace of 1878 has been bought by the city of Bordeaux for $200,000. It must be removed by the 15th of May next.

Of the twelve Oxford first class men in honors who entered the House of Commons last April, only one, Mr. Bryce, has made his mark as yet.

The fine weather in August worked a great improvement in the French wine crop, which is now expected to be up to the average in most districts.

On September 4th the thermometer in England reached the highest point this year, 87.2 deg. Such temperature is almost unprecedented there in September.

The pianist, Von Bulow, who performed in this country in the season of 1875-6, has had a stroke of paralysis, and the newspapers of Hanover report that the use of his right hand is gone.

A California Justice, in a moment of anger, said that the lawyers in a case on trial before him were no better than horse thieves. Then he apologized, and fined himself $10 for contempt of court.

Bengalee authoresses are coming to the fore. Mrs. Surnamoyi Goshal has written two novels and a melodrama. She is pronounced to be well read in English works of imagination, and a careful student of English and Sanscript poets.

The contrast between the speed and safety of her own journeys and the dangers which beset those of her subjects has aroused Queen Victoria's anxious consideration, and she has brought the matter under the notice of the authorities.

The Emperor of Austria had a grand reception at Cracow. One thousand Polish nobles in their splendid national costume met him at the station. At a grand ball in the evening twenty-four couples belonging to the Polish aristocracy danced the national mazurka.

Among elderly sportsmen Sir Curtis Lampson, the whilom Vermont boy who was destined to become an English Baronet, ranks high. He has lately killed in Scotland eight stags. He is also a conspicuous cattle fancier, and lately gave nearly $5,000 for a cow.

Elder Daniel Franklin, a Campbellite preacher, delivered a political sermon the other day in favor of his brother Campbellite, Garfield, at Fairview, Ind. "If I had the power," he said, "which Christ had over His enemies, no democrat would be here to vote at the next election."

The Duke of Cambridge, with the Duke of Connaught and Sir Garnet Wolsey on his staff, is in Berlin, staying at the royal castle to view the autumn manœuvers of the Prussian army. The future Emperor of Austria, the Grand Duke Rudolph, is at the Altes Schloss, a near neighbor.

If any gentleman with a turn for writing and unable to find a publisher, wishes to embark in literature, he may have a monthly medium of communication with the public all to himself, at the low charge of $250 by purchasing the St James's Magazine, the copyright of which is advertised for sale at that sum.

No Parliamentary session for half a century has been so protracted as that which has just closed in England. All alike have been wearied with persistent wrangling upon the the strangest matters—the rights of the shoemakers of Northampton to elect an infidel, rents or no rents in Iteland, the value of rabbit skins and partridge eggs, and a sessional catechism said to mount up to near 2,000 questions.

NOTICE.

McDonnell & Son opened at 113 Main street (formerly Jones' market) on Monday last with a fine stock of new groceries. They are going to sell goods very cheap. Expenses are small, which will allow them to do so. They ask all their old customers and others to give them a trial and be convinced.
