A good resolution for any business man to make for the New Year or any other time is that he will give careful thought and timely attention to his advertising.

If his business is going good, it behooves him to keep it going. If it is not going so good, it is most essential to try advertising or it may flop.

We remind you again that in Greenwich and its environs, which is to say adjacent territory for miles around, The Greenwich Journal is thoroughly read in nearly every home.

Therefore The Greenwich Journal is the logical medium for telling the public why they should patronize your store, shop or business.

Newsletter Tells Of School Events

The second newsletter from the Fort Edward public schools has been sent out to parents informing them of school activities in the various departments and of coming events. Several special assemblies were described.

In a third assembly program Judge John O'Brien and Dr. Milton Greenberg presented the facts about dangers in the use of drugs, the problems of drug addiction and the acute suffering that withdrawal brings.

The newsletter reviews the administration of the school health services personnel and tells of the elementary testing program which was completed early in December. It is expected that results of the testing will be available sometime in February.

The newsletter is edited by Dr. Richard P. Schmidle, district principal.

Persons who have borrowed wheelchairs and walkers from the Fort Edward Rescue squad and are not in need of them now are asked to return them to the squad headquarters. The squad has only a few of these items to loan and there is a call for them at present.
