REVOLT AGAINST PAYNE.

HIS TOWNSMEN IN ARMS AGAINST HIM.

Ex-Judge Amos J. Parker Says He Tried to Induce Mr. Littlejohn to Become a Candidate and He Doesn't Care Who Knows It.

A short time since the PALLADIUM announced that gentlemen from Cayuga county had been in this city and had talked with the Hon. D. C. Littlejohn and tried to persuade him to contest the renomination of Representative Payne. The names of the gentlemen leaked out and one of them replies thusly to a paragraph in the Auburn Bulletin. The letter, which is from Ex Judge Amos J. Parker, is too long to be published in its entirety, but the following is an extract:

I did go to Oswego; I did have an interview with Mr. Littlejohn and some other prominent people of Oswego and did try to induce Mr. Littlejohn to become a candidate for Congress. And while I did not pledge him the delegates of Cayuga county, I did assure him that there was a very great opposition to the renomination of Mr. Payne, growing out of his selfish ambition, his utter disregard of the wishes of his constituents, his being regarded as the tool of Platt, Knapp & Co., and last but not least, of their indignation at the appointment of N. Knapp for postmaster. Whether I was right or not in my conclusions cannot at present be known, for Mr. Littlejohn declined to be a candidate, and there was nothing for the numerous Republicans who objected to Mr. Payne's renomination to do but sit quietly by and see him nominated. To further satisfy your curiosity, permit me to add, that I did this, because I know and continuously heard a large number of the best men in the Republican party, openly express their hostility to Mr. Payne, many of them going so far as to say they would vote for his Democratic opponent. Were it not for the confidence of those men which I would not for the world violate, I could give you a list of names which would convince even a Democrat that there was some opposition to Mr. Payne, and it was a desire to save to the Republican party this vote and to obviate what may now be a necessity, that I with others sought to obtain a candidate that the party could confide to support against. I failed in what I still regard a laudable undertaking, and am at present occupying the same position in the Republican party, that the editor and proprietor of this Bulletin does in the Democratic party, viz: that of "under dog" in the fight. It may be that my Republicanism, like your Democracy, may be doubted, but of one thing you may be assured, I do not consider myself as a Republican, bound by any resolutions brought about at the hands of Thomas Platt, J. N. Knapp & Co., and if the Democrats nominate a man as well qualified as Mr. Payne (and they cannot do otherwise) I shall deem it my duty to support him to the best of my ability.

AMOS J. PARKER.

THE ILLUSIVENESS OF LIFE.

Dr. Schuyler's Able Sermon at Christ Church Sunday Morning.

The Rev. Anthony Schuyler, D. D., of Orange, New Jersey, and formerly Rector of Christ church, preached Sunday morning at that church an eloquent sermon on the "Illusiveness of Life." The doctor took for his text Hebrews 11—13 and 14. He spoke of the deep yearning which the Children of Israel had for the promised land and how they had experienced great disappointment. He likened the hopes of life to the experiences of the Children of Israel, for that they so often ended in disappointments and grief. Though earthly hopes are often vain they, nevertheless, are of advantage for they give stimulus to human life. The youth without hopes is like the slaves, whose motives to work have been taken away. The illusions of life are an educating force in that they lead us on to higher aspirations. The short and intelligible lesson of these earthly hopes and disappointments is that we come to anchor of faith and hope in a land that is far off, so that we are found declaring that we seek a country in deed and in truth. We can live lives of illusion and disappointment here and be content knowing that in heaven we have a more enduring substance.

OBITUARY.

William T. Barnes.

William T. Barnes, for thirty-five years a resident of this city, died Saturday night, after a long illness, at his residence in West Third street. Mr. Barnes was born at Pompey Hill, Onondaga county, in May, 1807, and was therefore in his eighty-fourth year. In early life he started in to learn the locksmith trade in his native village, but soon abandoned it to learn the machinist business. He obtained a situation with Avery, Scoville and Lynde of Syracuse, engaged in the manufacture of boilers and engines for lake steamers and there learned the trade of a machinist, thoroughly. In 1839 he went to Ogdensburg and placed the engine and boilers in the steamer United States, one of the first on the lake. In June of the same year he went as engineer of the steamer Carolina of Kingston, the engineer having abandoned his post through fear of cholera which made its appearance on the lakes that Summer. He afterwards was engaged in superintending the building of the machinery for many other boats on the lake, nearly all of which he was employed in as engineer. Among them was the steamer Black Hawk, afterwards called the Dolphin, the steamer Enterprise, a stern wheel boat, the Brockville, the first boat to run the Galloops Rapids; the steamer Oswego, built in this city in 1838-4, for Burckle, McWhorter, Bonner and John Grant, Jr. In 1886 Mr. Barnes was in the steamer Sir Robert Peel and lost all his clothes when she was fired by "Bill" Johnson's gang. He witnessed the capture of Wind Mill Point and saw the prisoners as they were marched away to Kingston. Later Mr. Barnes made plans for machinery for the steamers St. Lawrence, Ontario and Bay State. He was engineer in the latter from the time she was brought out in 1849 up to 1853 when he settled in this city. During his active career in the early days of steamboating Mr. Barnes was shipmate with Corporal W. R. Phelps, the late Henry Stowell, Frederick Earl, Henry Timerson and many other well known old-time steamboaters. During his residence in Oswego Mr. Barnes led a quiet, retired life, attending strictly to his own affairs. He leaves a wife and one son.

Morris Place.

The subject of this short sketch was born in Baltimore, Saratoga county, New York, in the year 1818. He moved to Berlin in the age of fourteen years and there was educated in the public schools. He afterwards moved to Vermillion and kept a country store. In 1857 he came to Oswego and opened a mercantile agency. Eleven years later he added an insurance agency and up to the time of his death conducted the combined business.

In 1840 he married Miss Lucie J. Stone of Berlin, and with his two sons and a daughter survives him. Mr. Place was an Odd Fellow and a Mason and in his early years was very active in both societies. He was an elder and a faithful member of Trinity Methodist church. Mr. Place was much liked and by his sterling integrity and business ability gained the respect of all who knew him.

LABOR DAY.

Its Observance at Various Points—Parades and Picnics.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Labor day was celebrated to-day by two separate labor parades, one by the federation of labor and the other by the central labor union. The federation parade comprised five divisions and numbered about 15,000 men. The central labor people turned out about 10,000 men. In Brooklyn all business was suspended, the day being observed by all unions. The various labor organizations made a parade early in the day.

UTICA, Sept. 2.—Labor day is being celebrated in this city and all factories, mills and stores are closed. This forenoon a monster parade of the different labor organizations was held.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—There were two parades this morning, one under the auspices of the trades and labor assembly, with about 30,000 men in line, and one of the Knights of Labor, who turned out with 1,000 men.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—The parade was the largest that has ever been seen on this day, ten thousand men participating.

A Walking Match.

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—At midnight the close of the first 24 hours in the 149 hour go-as-you-please match. Kansas Farm Mortgages.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 2.—The Capitol-day publishes letters from forty-three district Court Clerks showing the number of foreclosures of farm mortgages in their respective counties during the first six month of 1890. The total number of foreclosures is 1,103, about 25 to the county. The total for 106 counties of the State, on the same basis, would be 2,650 or probably about $3,000,000. A significant feature of the report is the fact that a large portion of the foreclosures are on unoccupied lands bought up and mortgaged for what they would bring by speculation.

Yachting News.

The New York Herald of Sunday contained a two column article "Yachts and Yachting on Lake Ontario," with picture of Mr. W. B. Phelps, Jr., and his handsome boat the Katie Gray, Captain John F. Phelps of the Oswego yacht club, together with the Yama, Cricket and Merle.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidney, liver and bowels.

The Normal School Kindergarten will open on the children Monday, September 9th. Owing to the large number of pupils who retained seats for the fall term no new pupils can be received at present.

Col. Hicks, the original Texas Harry, will give a grand parade and Wild West exhibition in the Fair Grounds each day at 11 A. M. 9,2,d3t.

Osterhout's
DISPLAY,
—ON THE—
FAIR GROUNDS
THIS WEEK.

There are few, if any exhibits at the Fair that attract more attention than that of O. S. OSTERHOUT, the Arcade Block Clothier. Gentlemen see a display of elegant Clothing that cannot be excelled in pattern, cut or manufacture. In Furnishing Goods there are many novelties of great beauty, as well as usefulness. Mothers stop before his booth and inspect the display of Children's Clothing. These garments for the youth of all ages not only look well, but they are just as good as they look. Of course OSTERHOUT'S exhibit at the Fair is but a trifle compared with the immense stock contained in his great double store in the Arcade Block. However, it gives people an idea of what they can obtain at his establishment. While for the most part Fancy Goods are put on exhibition it must require a visit to his store to comprehend the endless variety of his stock. Every quality of goods will be found there, and the prices are so low that no one will go away dissatisfied with them. There is no selfishness in the request for all visitors at the fair to inspect the display in Osterhout's booth. It will serve as a hint to them where they can obtain the Best Clothing in the City at the very lowest prices.

It isn't putting it too strongly, to say that we've quite as fine a line of Black Goods as most metropolitan stores show. The assortment is certainly much wider and the qualities of a much higher type of excellence than are usually brought to Oswego. We are safe in saying that; and in adding, too, that our prices for these will range lower than most city stores. Quite a moderate statement to set forth what's worthy of stronger language. These are some of the details:— Black Cashmeres, fine to medium; Henriettas, both all wool and silk warp; Mohairs; Fancy Figured Blacks, and Black and White Stripe and Mixed Goods; Black and White Trimming Silks, Black Silks; a splendid assortment of choice weaves "Peau de Soie" (the cream of silk) something new and very desirable; China Wash Silks, these in both blacks and colors; Black Satins, Choice Laces for skirts and trimmings, Braids, Ribbons and Buttons for all of above. Altogether, such a stock of Black Goods as ladies of taste and discrimination will appreciate. We invite your inspection.
