PERILOUS NAVIGATION

A SEVERE STORM SWEEPS DOWN THE LAKE.

The Schooner Caroline Marsh Driven Ashore Under The Fort—Narrow Escape of Other Vessels—General Marine News.

The schooners Albacore and Caroline Marsh left the harbor at 3 P. M. yesterday loaded with coal bound for Toronto. The wind was then Southeast. As they were off Big Sodus the wind changed to Southwest and a storm of hail and rain swept down the lake. Both schooners turned and started back for this port. The Albacore arrived at 7 P. M. She was met by the tug Cummings, but was also assisted by the tug Ferris in landing. She had lost her staysail in the storm. The Caroline Marsh arrived a little later and was met by the tug Cummings, and when off the beacon light the tow line parted. Before the vessel could be reached again she had drifted ashore near the life saving station and is a total loss. The crew were taken off by the life saving crew without sustaining any injuries.

The vessel is owned by Captain John Ewart of Port Hope and is sailed by his son David Ewart. Another son, John, sails the Albacore which is also owned by him. The vessel was not insured. She was loaded by J. B. McMurrich of this city, agent for the D. & H. C. Co., consigned to Mr. McGill & Co., of Toronto. The cargo was insured.

The vessel was built in 1852 by Collins at Port Hope, rebuilt in 1867 and again in 1885, and is valued at $5,600. Tonnage 320.

Captain Bongard, of the schooner Accacia, was seen by a reporter this morning. He said: "I left Fair Haven at four o'clock yesterday afternoon with coal for Belleville. A squall came up from the Southwest at five o'clock so that I could carry no sail whatever, but sailed before it with bare poles. I was picked up off Oswego by the tug Ferris and towed to port arriving at seven o'clock. It was one of the worst storms of have seen on the lakes for years.

Port Items.

The following vessel was chartered to-day by the D. L. & W.: M. T. Downing for Toledo.

THE SCHOONER UNDINE.

She Strikes on Braddock's Point and Sinks in 30 Feet of Water—The Crew Safe.

CHARLOTTE, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The schooner Undine, owned by Capt Alex. Ure, cargo 400 tons coal from Sodus, bound for Toronto, was caught in the gale of last evening when about 20 miles West of this port. The schooner was put about and headed for Charlotte for shelter. The sea was heavy and was breaking over the vessel and the captain was keeping as close as possible to the South shore in order to avoid the sea. When passing Braddock's Point, about 8 P. M., the Captain was deceived by the darkness as to his distance from shore and his vessel struck one of the rock ledges which at this point run out into the lake nearly a mile. The Undine struck a glancing blow, immediately freed herself and was headed out. An examination was made and it was seen that she was filling rapidly. The pumps were put to work but were unable to keep her free, and the crew, consisting of the captain, four men and a woman cook, took to the yawl boat and none too soon, as the vessel sank immediately. After a perilous trip the crew reached Charlotte about midnight. The Undine is owned by Captain Ure, is not insured, and will probably prove a total loss. The cargo was owned by S. B. Stuart & Co., of Rochester. The captain was unable to say in what condition the vessel lies, but thinks in about thirty feet of water. He has gone this morning to make an examination. The crew lost everything they had, and one of them, Michael Kelly, had his ankle badly sprained.

The schooner Van Straubenzie ran here for shelter about 9 P. M. with main boom and fluking jib gone.

Braddock's Point has always been considered a very dangerous place. Many vessels have struck near there and it is to be hoped there will be no farther delay in erecting the light house there for which a government appropriation has been made for some time. M.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: The str. Denver takes 75,000 bushels of barley out of this port, of which 25,000 bushels will be delivered in Buffalo at 1½ cents, and 50 000 bushels in Oswego at 4½ cents freight. The schooner Annie M. TO-DAY'S FOREIGN NEWS.

Items of Interest from Foreign Lands.

MADRID, Nov. 3.—The proceedings of the tariff commission, whose sittings have just ended, have been of a most marked protectionist character. Recognized free traders, even, tacitly accepted the proposals of the commission. Senor Moret, president of the commission, a staunch free trader, disappointed his friends by his attitude. The heavy duty it is proposed to place on imported coal and exported iron and copper ore will, it is asserted, prove disastrous to the trade of the country if the measure becomes a law.

The executive of the Dock Laborer's Union is ignorant most of the men, however, to remain at work pending a decision upon the co-operative scheme submitted to the union by the directors of the company. A number of malcontents employed on the Royal, Victoria and Albert docks refused to be influenced by the executive and struck.

THE VANDERBILT'S.

REACHING OUT FOR NEW WESTERN LINES.

Significance of J. Pierpont Morgan's Trip to the West—Independent Line from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The Tribune says J. Pierpont Morgan's present trip to the West has more significance than is generally supposed. Although it is claimed his visit has no other object than pleasure and incidentally to inspect the properties of the Elgin, — Joliet & Eastern, and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, in which companies the banking house of Drexel, Morgan & Co. holds a controlling interest, yet men who are supposed to be well informed claim that startling developments in the Western railroad situation will be made soon after Mr. Morgan's return to New York. The opinion is that Mr. Morgan's visit means the speedy consummation of another Vanderbilt deal more startling in its nature than the Union Pacific, Northwestern deal.

Drexel, Morgan & Co. hold a controlling interest in the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Belt Line and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroads. The latter has been compelled to take sides with those opposed to the Northwestern and Union Pacific. This is not what Drexel, Morgan & Co. desire. Their intention is to bring these roads into the Vanderbilt fold. The opinion is expressed that this will be done as soon as Mr. Morgan has returned to New York.

Those who are on the inside pretend to know that before many days have past a traffice agreement similar to that existing between the Union Pacific and Northwestern will be made between the Northwestern and Milwaukee and St. Paul, and it is even predicted by some that a consolidation of the two systems will be made. The Northwestern alone could give the Union Pacific all the West bound traffic it needs, but with the Milwaukee and St. Paul added, which connects with the Union Pacific at Kansas City, Omaha and Sioux City the latter would have all the Eastern border it needs, and can defy all other connections.

The Elgin, Joliet & Eastern connects all the Vanderbilt lines East from Chicago with the Milwaukee & St. Paul and Chicago and Northwestern systems, and by the use of this connecting link the Vanderbilt lines East and West of Chicago will be able to transact their through traffic without going through Chicago and paying heavy terminal and transfer charges.

Consummation of the deal outlined would give the Vanderbilts absolute control of a gigantic railway system from New York to Ogden, Utah, with an easy would then need would be the control of the Central Pacific branch of the Southern Pacific to give them independent lines through from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, with terminals to San Francisco and Portland, Oregon.

The Oregon Short Line of the Union Pacific is already furnishing an outlet to the latter point. The fact that negotiations are already going on between the Vanderbilts and Leland Stanford and other owners of the Southern Pacific with a view of obtaining possession of the interest of those parties in the Southern Pacific has already been mentioned, and C. P. Huntington admits that there is a probability that the Vanderbilts will succeed in acquiring control of that property. With the Southern Pacific in their control, the Vanderbilts will be masters of the situation and be able to dictate terms to all the other roads in the country.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The Evening Journal says it has been practically settled that the Wabash Railroad will extend its lines from Butler, Ind., to a connection with the Western Indiana, thereby rendering it independent of the Chicago & Atlantic (Erie) for an entrance to Chicago, and that the Canadian Pacific will be given a Chicago line by the same route.

Interesting Wheat Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Amount of wheat available for export for crop year 1890. Government estimate of the crop of Winter and Spring wheat for 1890 is: 400,000,000 bushels; estimated amount wheat and flour on hand July 1st last, 40,000,000 bushels; total, 442,000,000 bushels. The amounts required for food for home use on an estimated population of 64,000,000 and a consumption of four bushels per capita, is 256,000,000; amount required for seed, 35,000,000; for miscellaneous purposes, 15,000,000; available for export, 116,000,000 bushels. "Mary Nathan is a very delicate-looking child, fair size for her age and dark brown hair, banged, and was weak from her knees down—so much so that she could not walk twenty steps without falling. She had no strength; had two scars on her forehead, one over the right eye and one over the nose, caused by falling down; small head and mouth, and crossed eyes. When called by her name, 'Mary,' she would put the forefinger of her right in her mouth. She was in the habit of keeping her finger there. She could not speak except to call on her mother for bread."
