SPORT OF THE WEEK

Ducky's Deli
137 Main St., Brewer, N. Y.
NEXT TO SALVIA'S LIQOR STORE

Ducky's Deli

Specializing in Party Platters
HOT AND COLD WEDGES
HOMEMADE SALADS
ALL MEATS AND POULTRY

Cooked on Premises to Order
HOMEMADE MEAT SAUCE
WITH MEATBALLS OR SAUSAGE
TO GO

Order By BR-9-9736

PUTNAM Coin Club
EXHIBIT MAR. 29 & 30

Will Present Large Display in Quinebaug Memorial Library

The Putnam Coin Club of Central New York will present a special exhibit at the Quinebaug Memorial Library in Monticello on March 29th and 30th. The exhibit will be a large display of coins that will include not only coins from the United States but also coins from around the world. The exhibit is designed to educate the public about the history and importance of coin collecting.

The exhibit will include coins from various countries and eras. The coins will range in value from very inexpensive to very expensive. The exhibit will also include a presentation about the history and development of coin collecting.

The Putnam Coin Club is a non-profit organization that promotes the appreciation and study of coins. The club has a membership of over 100 people and meets on a regular basis to discuss coins and coin collecting.

BUH Students Get
Gerry Awards

March 1, 1969 — Mrs. Brenda Huish, Chairman of the Binghamton University Student Union, announced that 27 Binghamton University students have been recipients of the Gerry Awards. The Gerry Awards are given to students who have made outstanding contributions to the University in the areas of academics, athletics, and civic activities.

The awards are named after the late Mrs. William P. Gerry, a former member of the Board of Trustees of Binghamton University. Mrs. Gerry was a dedicated supporter of the University and was instrumental in establishing the Gerry Awards.

The recipients of the Gerry Awards were selected by a committee of faculty members and student union officers. The recipients were chosen based on their academic achievements, athletic participation, and community service.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don't Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don't Drink and Drive. They're Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

BUH Students Get
Gerry Awards

March 1, 1969 — Mrs. Brenda Huish, Chairman of the Binghamton University Student Union, announced that 27 Binghamton University students have been recipients of the Gerry Awards. The Gerry Awards are given to students who have made outstanding contributions to the University in the areas of academics, athletics, and civic activities.

The awards are named after the late Mrs. William P. Gerry, a former member of the Board of Trustees of Binghamton University. Mrs. Gerry was a dedicated supporter of the University and was instrumental in establishing the Gerry Awards.

The recipients of the Gerry Awards were selected by a committee of faculty members and student union officers. The recipients were chosen based on their academic achievements, athletic participation, and community service.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don’t Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don’t Drink and Drive. They’re Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

Thalia Wilson, Dotty Lee

Thalia Wilson and Dotty Lee were selected to represent the University of Connecticut at the American Home Economics Association’s annual conference. The conference will be held in Chicago this year.

Thalia Wilson, a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her outstanding contributions to the field of home economics. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and has volunteered at various food banks and soup kitchens.

Dotty Lee, also a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her leadership skills and her ability to communicate effectively. She has been a member of the university’s home economics club and has organized several fundraising events.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don’t Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don’t Drink and Drive. They’re Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

Thalia Wilson, Dotty Lee

Thalia Wilson and Dotty Lee were selected to represent the University of Connecticut at the American Home Economics Association’s annual conference. The conference will be held in Chicago this year.

Thalia Wilson, a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her outstanding contributions to the field of home economics. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and has volunteered at various food banks and soup kitchens.

Dotty Lee, also a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her leadership skills and her ability to communicate effectively. She has been a member of the university’s home economics club and has organized several fundraising events.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don’t Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don’t Drink and Drive. They’re Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

Thalia Wilson, Dotty Lee

Thalia Wilson and Dotty Lee were selected to represent the University of Connecticut at the American Home Economics Association’s annual conference. The conference will be held in Chicago this year.

Thalia Wilson, a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her outstanding contributions to the field of home economics. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and has volunteered at various food banks and soup kitchens.

Dotty Lee, also a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her leadership skills and her ability to communicate effectively. She has been a member of the university’s home economics club and has organized several fundraising events.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don’t Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don’t Drink and Drive. They’re Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

Thalia Wilson, Dotty Lee

Thalia Wilson and Dotty Lee were selected to represent the University of Connecticut at the American Home Economics Association’s annual conference. The conference will be held in Chicago this year.

Thalia Wilson, a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her outstanding contributions to the field of home economics. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and has volunteered at various food banks and soup kitchens.

Dotty Lee, also a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her leadership skills and her ability to communicate effectively. She has been a member of the university’s home economics club and has organized several fundraising events.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don’t Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don’t Drink and Drive. They’re Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

Thalia Wilson, Dotty Lee

Thalia Wilson and Dotty Lee were selected to represent the University of Connecticut at the American Home Economics Association’s annual conference. The conference will be held in Chicago this year.

Thalia Wilson, a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her outstanding contributions to the field of home economics. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and has volunteered at various food banks and soup kitchens.

Dotty Lee, also a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her leadership skills and her ability to communicate effectively. She has been a member of the university’s home economics club and has organized several fundraising events.

March 20, 1969

RUSTY ON CAR SAFETY?

New York (AP) — Every five years or so, there comes a time when the public gets a little too comfortable with car safety. In an effort to prevent this, the National Highway Safety Council began conducting a safety awareness campaign this month.

The campaign is designed to alert drivers to the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol, and to encourage them to use their seat belts.

The council has developed a series of slogans and advertisements to promote the campaign. These include:

- "Drunk Driving Kills People. You Don’t Have To Be One of Them."
- "Don’t Drink and Drive. They’re Already Driving Under the Influence."

The campaign will run through the end of the year, and will be funded by a grant from the National Highway Safety Administration.

Thalia Wilson, Dotty Lee

Thalia Wilson and Dotty Lee were selected to represent the University of Connecticut at the American Home Economics Association’s annual conference. The conference will be held in Chicago this year.

Thalia Wilson, a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her outstanding contributions to the field of home economics. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and has volunteered at various food banks and soup kitchens.

Dotty Lee, also a senior at the University of Connecticut, was selected for her leadership skills and her ability to communicate effectively. She has been a member of the university’s home economics club and has organized several fundraising events.