BEDFORD HILLS.

Bedford Hills, July 22.

Phineas A. Cornell is now employed at the store of Adams & Son. Not quite like the out-door life, says that genial gentleman, but he is busy and he wouldn't be happy unless he was that.

Bedford Hills rooters had the time of their life on Saturday when a league game scheduled to be played in September was transferred to Saturday. Perhaps those wise Pleasantville chaps thought our boys were not going well and it would be a cinch. Well, it took ten innings of good snappy ball to trim us to the tune of 6-8. Old reliable Ebbets was not on the job until after the second inning and Wherry essayed to do mound duty. Wherry is the boy who plays for all he is worth anywhere, but wasn't worth much as a pitcher and Pleasantville garnered 3 runs off his shoots. Ebbets then took the reins and made monkeys of the visitors until the 10th. We are not one bit dismayed over the defeat by the leaders—in fact the boys are chock full of confidence and pep and are going after those Brewsterites next Saturday and hand them another "Mt. Kisco." Come early, ye rooters and get a front seat. We're off now after the leaders. The flag might not rest on that old electric light pole Art Cornell has promised us, but if the boys keep up the clip they are going now we just guess a whole lot of medals will come to Bedford at the annual dinner and several clubs who have been nailing up the flag in their dreams will wake up with an awful head. The old gray bonnet didn't get any holes in it from the weight of coins last Saturday and remember, we are willing to buy a new bonnet after the game.

We are not looking for any excuses or sympathy but we trust that "Mr. Ump" will watch the game a little closer hereafter, as such verdicts as rendered Saturday takes the interest out of the game as well as making it displeasing to the spectators.

Bianche Skidmore, an inmate of the Reformatory, jumped from a second story window of that institution on Tuesday night and escaped. An officer found her hiding in a nearby field Wednesday morning.

Clayton Flewellen returned home from his studies at Mt. Herman, Mass. Monday. He will return again about the middle of August.

Louis McLaughlin, aged nine, a grandson of Mrs. J. Burt, while riding on top of a wagonload of hay at the Montiflore Home, fell off and received a dislocated shoulder and a cut on his head, which required several stitches. He was taken to the Montiflore Home and attended by the doctors there.

A moonlight ride will be given by the ladies of this place for the benefit of Miss Michael Keinan, who is ill at her home. The large auto truck of A. J. Crandall will be used and comfortable seats for 50 people will be provided for. Come and enjoy the ride and help the good cause along. Admission $1.00.

Master Harold Higgins is spending the summer with his aunts at Yorktown.

Henry Scheisser and family have moved into the John Dingee house on Church street, recently vacated by Martin Hawley.

What came near being a serious accident occurred on the road to Mount Kisco Saturday evening about 6 o'clock when a large touring car owned by Frank S. Voss, of New York City, struck a Ford car driven by John Schneider of Mount Kisco. Both cars were going north, the Ford car in advance, when the Voss car signalled Schneider pulled his car to one side, but got too far in the gutter and in trying to get out he lost control and cut across the road in front of the Voss car. Schneider's car was completely wrecked. Fortunately no one was hurt. The Voss car was only slightly damaged.

SALEM CENTER.

Salem Center, July 22.

The midsummer fete advertised to be held tomorrow (Friday) night under the auspices of St. James' Episcopal Church, and on their church grounds has been indefinitely postponed owing to the three cases of scarlet fever in the neighboring village.

We are informed that proceedings of the school meeting held in the Academy on June 30th, with a view of consolidating the four school districts, were legal and the resolution passed at that meeting to consolidate stands as then voted, viz. 43 for consolidation; 6 against. The matter will be completed at an early date as possible, when it is hoped we will have a respectable place for the children to attend school.

Our Town Board held its regular meeting in the Town Hall here last Saturday and the question was placed before the Board as to the strict enforcement of the quarantines, then in effect in the village of North Salem. The Board fully appreciates the position of the afflicted families and while it is most unfortunate, yet the members of the Board feel that such measures should be used to stop all possible spread of the much-dreaded disease. They therefore appointed two officers, to be in attendance, one day and one at night, upon the families under quarantine, and to see that the laws of the quarantine are lived up to, to the letter. We believe that every person in the town will look at the situation in the same light, and will assist the authorities in every possible way to eliminate any possibility of an epidemic.

The Old Hundred Tea Room just opened by Mrs. Charles Close in her residence here, should not lack patronage during the coming summer. Mrs. Close intends to cater particularly to auto parties, but will not, of course, turn any one away who appears at the door with the price. Sandwiches, iced drinks, etc., will be on hand at all hours of the day. Just don't forget the place or the name. The Old Hundred Tea Room, Salem Center, N. Y.

Electric Motor Way is the best way. There is an electric motor of the right kind and size for all work, requiring power. Economy of power is not the only saving effected by the use of Electric Motors. The advantages of safety, reliability, flexibility and cleanliness are self-evident. The benefit of these can be obtained to a maximum degree only by the use of General Electric Motors.

GRACE MAY HOYT

The sudden passing from this life of Grace M. Hoyt, daughter of George M. and Ida Hoyt, of this village, has cast a shadow of sorrow and gloom over the entire community. The deceased up to Thursday night appeared to be in her usual health. However, on Friday she was stricken down with a fever, the physician being called, diagnosed the case as "scarlet fever." The Health Officer was immediately called, a quarantine placed upon the house and the attention of both physicians and a trained nurse was centered upon the patient. But the efforts were of no avail, her condition being serious owing to other complications. Grace, having been unconscious since Saturday, passed quietly away about 7 o'clock the following Monday (July 13), morning. The deceased was born in the town 23 years ago last March, and has lived here in this vicinity her entire life. She was a regular attendant of the Methodist Church here and will be greatly missed in its social circle.

Grace was of a quiet disposition, but always found sociable, agreeable and with kind words for all.

The sudden ending of this young life causes us to pause and look back to the fall of 1913, when we were shocked by the sudden deaths of Florence G. Tompkins, and of Grace Smith at Croton Falls; and now comes the third. There are a few, but not many, who realize the love and friendship that existed between these three girls during the latter part of their lives, and to think that they should follow each other to the grave within nine months of each other makes this sad occasion the more shocking and sympathetic.

The deceased is survived by her father, mother and brother, to whom the heart-felt and sincere sympathy of the entire town is extended.

Owing to the disease, immediate interment was necessary. The body was taken to the Salem Center Cemetery the next morning (Tuesday), and interred in the family plot. Rev. W. R. Hunt officiating. Several beautiful floral pieces were placed upon the grave.

The entertainment which was to have been given by Miss Roberts in the Universalist Church last Friday night was indefinitely postponed. No future date has as yet been decided upon.

Mrs. Giles Cree has returned to her home in the metropolis.

Mr. Eric Tucker is entertaining his sister, Mrs. McAllister.

Our genial Deputy Sheriff Fred Burns, is enjoying a well earned vacation of two weeks.

We regret to report the serious illness of Mr. George M. Hoyt, and sincerely hope for a speedy recovery.

No services were held in the Methodist or Universalist Churches here last Sunday.

OSCAR FRIED HELPLESS BUT GETS MARRIED.

Yonkers Lhemian; Armless, Signs Marriage License by Holding Pen in Mouth.

Oscar Fried, formerly a lineman on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, who lost both arms and the use of his legs in an accident about a year ago, obtained a license in Yonkers Monday to marry Miss Hilda Dahlgren, of that city. He was engaged to her at the time of the accident.

Fried signed his name to the license by holding the pen in his mouth. Deputy City Clerk William Corbals went to Fried's home in North Broadway, Yonkers, to issue the license. The wedding took place Tuesday.

Fried was working on high tension feed wires of the New Haven Road at Mount Vernon when he was injured. Word was sent that the wires were "dead" and that he could go ahead with his work. This message, however, was premature, and when Fried began his work he got the full force of the heavy current. His arms were so badly burned that they had to be amputated near the shoulder, and both his legs have been paralyzed ever since.

The accident occurred just a few days before the date set for his wedding. During his long period of convalescence in St. John's Hospital, Miss Dahlgren was a constant visitor. Fried brought suit in the Supreme Court against the railroad for damages, and was awarded $75,000. Justice Morechauser reduced the verdict to $50,000 and an appeal is pending.

NEPPERHAN HEIGHTS SALES ARE INCREASING.

The Arlington Construction Company of Yonkers, which recently purchased a number of plots from the Nepperhan Heights Realty Company, which is now under the management of Robert E. Farley, President of the Scarsdale Estates and Geesey Farm Company, has this week commenced the erection of three houses of the bungalow type, of stucco and single construction, each two stories high, and containing six rooms and bath. These houses will later be offered for sale at a price of about $4000 each.

The Arlington Company is also preparing to erect another series of three bungalows on Morningdale Road in Nepperhan Heights, in the near future.

LEAVES YONKER CHURCH.

The Rev. Isaac Yohannan, formerly in charge of the Servian Mission of St. Andrew's Memorial Episcopal Church, Yonkers, has accepted the appointment to the charge of Trinity Episcopal Church, Murphysboro, Ill. He will also serve St. Mark's and St. Andrew's Churches, Jackson County, Ill.
