

Union and Restoration in Tennessee.

A SPEECH BY PARSON BROWLOW.

THE REBELS ANNIHILATED.

He remarked that he had been accustomed for so many years to speak from a text that he would adhere to his old habit to-day.

This shall be my text. The dreadful consequences which I foretold, then derided as idle predictions, have more than been fulfilled.

I never voted for Jackson or any of his party friends, but if my earnest prayers and bitter tears could have recalled Old Hickory to life, I would have poured them forth, that he might have sat in the "Old Public Functionary's" chair, and collaring the unmitigated scamps Floyd, Jake Thompson, and that apostate Judah Benjamin, told them,

By the Eternal, this damnable plot has got to stop! And it would have stopped and the people would have shouted Amen! We of the South read the nation absolutely—

We never allowed the North to re-elect a President. We re-elected nearly all of ours, but put the North off with one term. Yet, after the mighty North saw fit to elect Lincoln, we got furiously patriotic and voted "separation and representation."

Who inaugurated this rebellion? South Carolina had been plotting it for thirty years and it the letter and spirit of the Federal Constitution had been carried out, she never could have been a member of the Federal Union.

The success which has attended Rosecrans and Burnside of late, in the South west has virtually ended the rebellion in Tennessee.

The army of the frontier, under Gen. Blunt, is doing up its work rapidly, and the rebel cause in Arkansas is about as thoroughly prostrated as it is in Tennessee.

In the recent campaign of Gen. Blunt he marched his command two hundred and fifty miles in nine days, fought two battles and cleared from the rebels 100,000 square miles of territory.

In 1860 I visited Montgomery, Alabama, and was invited by the Legislature to deliver an address in their hall, on public affairs. I did so. I declared myself a southern pro-slavery man, and that I desired the prosperity of the South.

But I added that I had seen with pain their act to arm the state in case a Republican president should be elected. I said it meant treason, and that I was an unconditional Union man, and would stand by the Union, although slavery should perish.

His life has been one of usefulness in his profession. He was at one time District Attorney, the duties of which he discharged to the satisfaction of the public. Since that time he has served in the Legislature of this State.

Capt. C. has served two years in the old 22d Regt., during which time he lost an arm, and since has been raising a company of cavalry with prospects of being Major.

Accidents.—On Saturday last a young man named Taylor had his hand saved off by a circular saw. He was at work at the mills in this place. On Thursday a son of Nicholas Graham, of this village, had his hand badly injured by the breaking of a whiffletree.

The Sunday Schools of the Baptist and Presbyterian Societies, held their annual Pic-Nic yesterday afternoon. There was a large turnout, and every body appeared to enjoy themselves.

John Towle has just received a lot of sweet cider, which he claims to be the best. We have tested it and will vouch for the quality. John has a good assortment of everything in the fruit and confectionery line.

A Union County Convention called to assemble at Farlin's Hotel, on Wednesday, the 7th. day of October next.

It is becoming more and more evident every day, that a terrible retribution awaits the manufacturers of the unhealthy compounds denominated Saleratus, Baking Powders, &c.

The following is a list of letters now remaining in the Post Office at this village: William Baker, Thos. J. B. Anderson, Antoine Beard, Jacob Blake, Mary Cole, J. P. C. Emmons, Edward Faroe, F. Fallon, E. E. Groom, William Gealey, Chaucey Holman, Mrs. Samuel Jones, G. F. Houghton, Leonard Mashinet, Joseph Minor, George Person, J. G. Porter, Loko Riley, Mrs. Kate Stone, Charles H. Snow.

Death of Hon. Leonard Gibbs.

It is with feelings of deep regret that we notice the death of Hon. Leonard Gibbs, who died at Union Village on the 12th inst.

His life has been one of usefulness in his profession. He was at one time District Attorney, the duties of which he discharged to the satisfaction of the public.

Capt. Duncan Cameron was arrested, charged with enticing Vermont conscripts to desert, and enlisting them in his company of cavalry now encamped at Saratoga Springs.

The Telegraph line between this place and Glen's Falls is nearly completed. The poles are already up, and everything will be in working order the coming week.

Washington County Teachers' Institute. The next session of the Washington County Teachers' Institute will be held in the Academy Hall at Cambridge, commencing Sept. 21st, 1863, and will continue two weeks.

Board can be obtained at reasonable rates from $2 to $2.50 per week. A committee will be in attendance at the Academy to provide suitable places for teachers.

The Washington County Teachers' Association will meet on Friday, the 21st of October, at 1 o'clock p. m.

Happiness.—Some one who professes himself experienced in all phases of the heart feminine gives to his less self-assured fellows the following recipe: "To plunge a young lady six fathoms deep in happiness, give her two canary birds, half-a-dozen moon-beams, twelve yards of silk, an ice cream, several rose buds, a squeeze of the hand, and the promise of a new bonnet."

Up and At It.

The following characteristic Prospectus, of the re-establishment of the Knoxville Whig, has lately been sent out by its former proprietor, Parson Browlow:

I propose to publish a weekly and tri-weekly journal, bearing the above title, at Knoxville in East Tennessee, and the weekly papers made up from the contents of the tri-weeklies I propose to send out to distant subscribers for two dollars per annum, invariably in advance.

In the rule of my editorial conduct, I shall align that severity which destroys the independence of the Press, and cast from me that feeble opposition which gives to party what is due to country.
