

"Has Not Since Been Heard Of" Blow, blustering Wind! thy loud alarm Have got no force for me...

Marsh expects to stop to tea. From hat, I infer that they will be gon... "You can't blame me for not writing, you asked me to, Dick," and then...

Mark Lemon and Charles Dickens were both good actors, and they were frequently associated with theatrical representations in connection with the Guild of Literature and Art.

FISH IN CHINA. The pang you, or perch, measure twenty-four inches long, three inches girth, and weighs seven pounds, but it often attains a weight of twenty to twenty-four pounds, and forty feet in length.

DOWN THE MISSISSIPPI. In the Spring of 1874, Mr. John P. Doremus, a photographic artist, concluded to carry out an idea which he had long since conceived, of devoting a few years of his life to the prosecution of a work illustrative of the grand and varied scenery through which the "Father of Waters" flows from its headwaters to the Gulf.

THE ICELANDIC HOUSE. The modern Icelanders have not much improved on the old type, as a house now consists of a conglomerate of small buildings, in all some fifty feet long and twenty-five or thirty feet deep.

The Old Clock's Secret. "You shall marry Godfrey Marsh, Marcia, Mrs. Stanhope said, setting her teeth together, in a grim face...

A SINGULAR STORY. A strange story is reported from Maine. A detachment of Algonquian Indians, residing on the western side of a mountain chain, a stern which was inhabited by robbers, who had taken advantage of the fact that the Indians were on the mountain.

THE SLAVES AND ROMANS. From the Northern Carpathians to the Danubian, and from the Adriatic to the Bosphorus, there is a large region peopled by forty millions of Slavics and Roumans.

A MODEL FARM-GATE. My father spent one whole summer on a farm-gate which was a model of its kind. Two of them would have been up there, at least, if it were not for the most perfect things to climb over that you ever saw.

RICH WITHOUT MONEY. Many a man is rich without money. Thousands of men with nothing in their pockets, and thousands without even a pocket, are rich. A man born with a good constitution, a good stomach, a good heart, and good limbs, and a pretty good head-piece, is rich.

GIROTTITIES OF LIFE. Lay your finger on your pulse, and know that every stroke comes immortal passes to his Maker; some fellow being crosses the river of death; and if we think of it, we may well wonder what it should be so long before our turn comes.

A LONG-LIVED FAMILY. The Concord (N. H.) Monitor says: "C. W. Moore received an application for a policy on the life of a man in Lancaster, a few days ago, which furnished the following remarkable record of longevity on both sides of his ancestors: Grandparents—On father's side: Grandfather, 110 years; grand-mother, 95 years. On mother's side: Grandfather, 109; grandmother, 95 years. His mother is living, aged 105 years, and the father died at 103 years.

By-and-by Mrs. Stanhope said she wanted to go to sleep. Marcia arranged her pillow, and the sick woman closed her eyes wearily.

HOW A HORSE CAPTURED A WOLF. A singular story of a horse is told by the following effect: Mr. John Davis, of Sullivan township, has a horse which having a bad habit of getting away from his pasture, he fettered one night recently by fastening the fore legs together. During the night a pack of wolves were heard in the vicinity, and the next day Mr. Davis visited his horse with some anxiety as to his condition.

THE HEAD OF A GREAT INDUSTRIAL FAMILY, which has been renowned for generations for its eccentricities, remarked in his will: "To my only son who never would follow my advice, and has treated me rudely in every manner, I have instead of making him my executor and residuary legatee, (as till this day it was) I give him $100,000. It is on record that another gentleman once directed his executors to purchase a copy of a picture representing a viper biting the hand of the man who had saved it, and to give that to a certain friend of his, in lieu of a legacy of $50,000 which he had left him by a former will, now revoked and burned."

"I don't want to go," she thought, hurriedly, with a little angry gesture. Then she thought better of it. It would offend her mother if she refused, and her life was not a very harmonious one of late. And perhaps Dick Greaham might see them, and conclude to speak out. So she got ready and went. While she was gone, Dick Greaham came to see her, Mrs. Stanhope met him coldly, but politely.
