During its century of existence, thousands of men and women have passed through its portals. Many of these graduates have been heard from time and time since their graduation, and through the years they are frequently heard from by the former teachers, by the present administration of the Academy, and by the present and former students. So, if you were a graduate of the Academy, you would want to be known as a graduate, and if you were a former teacher of the Academy, you would want to be known as a former teacher of the Academy. The record shows that an accurate list of graduates has never been compiled, and that the exceptions of three names have been made. Therefore, the list is complete with the exception of three names, namely, 1865, 1866 and 1876.

Through research at the high school of New York City, the Commercial Law School, and other institutions, the record of graduates has been compiled. The following list contains the names of all known graduates of the Academy, with the exception of three names. The list is complete with the exception of three names, namely, 1865, 1866 and 1876.
