LOAN

of the

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO

RAILROAD

Is completed and running from RICHMOND, Va. to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Va., 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio River, 200 miles further, making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the Wonderful Coal Deposits of the Kanawha Region in West Virginia. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the Iron Ores of Virginia and Ohio, and the Western, South Western and Eastern markets.

When completed it will connect the superior harbor facilities of the Chesapeake Bay with reliable navigation on the Ohio River, and thus with the entire system of Railroad and Water transportation of the great West and South-West.

It will make a short, easy, cheap and favorable route from the West to the sea, and will command a large share of the enormous freights seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of the most important, and profitable East and West Trunk Lines of Railroad in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a profitable and increasing Business, and is in fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000)

The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a First Mortgage upon the entire Line, property and equipments, worth when completed at least $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative, and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and peculiarly adapted to the wants of

INVESTORS AND CAPITALISTS,

Who desire to make their investments with the most satisfactory assurance of positive and undoubted Security.

The Bonds are in denomination of

$1,000 $500 and $100,

and may be had COUPON or REGISTERED.

Interest SIX per cent. per annum, payable MAY 1st and NOVEMBER 1st.

Principal and Interest payable in GOLD in the City of New York.

Price 90 and accrued interest in Currency at which price they pay nearly Seven per cent. in gold on their cost.

All Government Bonds and other Securities dealt in at the Stock Exchange, received in exchange at their full market value, and Bonds sent to all parts of the country, free of Express charges.

Mine and Thine.

Every wedding, says the proverb,
Makes another, soon or later.
Never yet was any marriage
Entered in the book of fate,
But the names were also written
Of the patient pair that wait.

Blessings, then upon the morning
When my friend, with fondest look,
By the solemn rite's permission,
To himself his mistress took,
And the Destinies recorded
Other two within their book.

While the priest fulfilled his office,
Still the ground the lovers eyed,
And the parents and the kinsman,
Aimed their glances at the bride,
But the groomsmen eyed the virgins
Who were waiting at her side.

Three there were that stood behind her—
One was dark and one was fair,
But nor dark nor fair the other,
Save her Arab eyes and hair;
Neither dark nor fair I call her,
Yet she was the fairest there.

While the groomsman—shall I own it?
Yes, to thee, and only thee—
Gazed upon the dark-eyed maiden,
Who was fairest of the three,
Thus he thought—"How blessed the bridal
Where the bride was such as she.

Then I mused upon the adage,
Till my wisdom was perplexed,
And I wondered as the churchman
Dwelt upon his holy text,
Which, of all who heard his lesson,
Should require the service next?"

Whose will be the next occasion
For the flowers, the feast, the wine?
Thine, perchance, my dearest lady;
Or—who knows?—it may be mine;
What if 'twere—forgive my fancy—
What if 'twere—both mine and thine?

War

Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestow'd on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals nor forts.
The warrior's name would be a name abhorr'd,
And every nation that should lift again
Its hand against a brother on its forehead
Should wear forevermore the curse of Cain.

Mock Trial of Mr. Beecher.

That which afforded the greatest entertainment on the picnic of Plymouth church, to Iona Islands, on Wednesday, was a mock trial of Mr. Beecher, who had come over from his country residence at Peekskill to spend the day with his friends. Mr. Beecher was taken into custody while on the boat, late in the afternoon, by Captain Duncan, and arraigned before a crowded court, held on one of the pretty glades of the island. The Judge was the Rev. Mr. Gallagher, and the jury was made up of ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Camp acting as foreman. Mr. Beecher, who was utterly unconscious of having committed any offence, was charged by the prosecuting attorney, Mr. Sherman, with having gone over to the church of Rome. A long indictment was read, but in substance this was the charge, and in proof of it a number of witnesses, prominent members in his own congregation, testified to this fact. The strongest evidence was, however, the production of a photograph of Mr. Beecher, officiating at the altar of a Romish church arrayed in the full character of a Romon Catholic priest. Mr. Rockwood, the photographer, of Brooklyn, who had produced the photograph, gave evidence as to the identity of the portrait. Mr. King appeared as counsel for the distinguished defendant, and did the best he could for his client. The jury, however, without leaving the box, found the defendant guilty, and the judge passed the very capital punishment of ordering the six lady jurors to kiss the pastor of Plymouth church, a punishment that was highly so esteemed by the delinquent that he astonished the Court by asking for the empanelling of another jury. The "shades of evening" were on their way, and the court was adjourned to the boat, and the party arrived at Martin's wharf, Brooklyn, about 8 o'clock, owing nearly all the enjoyment that humanity had any control of to the unwearied exertions of Captain Duncan.—N. Y. Herald.

Pleasant Paragraphs.

It was regarded as a strong case of circumstantial evidence in a Pittsburg court, the other day, when the plaintiff produced the skillet with which his wife struck him, and showed the jury how nicely the three legs fitted into the holes in his head.

—There is a rumor in well-informed circles that the price is coming off. Not in the manner in which it has been so frequently taken off heretofore, but equally as much to the satisfaction of the article for use, but permanently and forever.

—An advertisement was sent to the Cleveland Herald office, on Sunday night, in which occurred the words: "The Christian's Dream; No Cross, No Crown." The blundering compositor made it read: "The Christian's Dream; No Cows, No Cream."

—Pittsburg has a champion oarswoman. Miss Charlotte McAlice, who says:—"If I can find backers, I will row the lady that the McKee club will put against me. If I cannot get backers, I will row her on the Fourth of July in the regetta." Shall Miss Charlotte McAlice want' backers? Perish the unworthy thought.

—A Parisian lady called on her milliner the other day to 'take up' the character of a servant. The morality of the latter was beyond questioning. "But is the honest?" asked the lady. "I am not so certain about that," replied the milliner. "I have sent her to you with my bill a dozen times, and she has never yet given me the money."

—The Cleveland Leader says: "It is said that there are monks in Iowa who have taken a vow never to speak aloud, and that some of them have kept it for twenty years. We wish that this order of monks could be scattered over the country; they would make such excellent material for Congressmen and members of state legislatures."

—A pretty thing overheard at the Academy. Old Lord Blankington, who is not very sighted as he is gallant, remarked to Miss Rippe in the crowd: "Ah! beautiful [illegible] manner. Not to be [illegible] the lady [illegible] chase, and, having [illegible] you passed me without [illegible] look." "If I had [illegible] old [illegible] "I [illegible]
