

COXE AND MAY
Evidence of Drowning Still Accumulating
THREE OARS FOUND

The Temporary Makeshift for Sailboat.
MAY'S HAT PICKED UP
An Umbrella Fastened to an Oar
Served as a Sail-Larger Rewarded for the Recovery of Bodies.

Evidence is accumulating to show that the young men, Coxe and May, came to their death by drowning in the lake. Nearly two weeks have elapsed since they bade adieu to friends and started on the fatal pleasure trip around the lake. So long a time has passed without anything definite having been learned of the actual circumstances and place of their drowning, that it is now probable that no eye save that of the All-seeing One witnessed the death struggles of the missing ones.

Yesterday George Allen, of the yacht Matiel, while cruising along the east shore near Day's Landing saw an oar floating in the water. He pulled it aboard the yacht. It was found to be a dilapidated umbrella, evidently made up by wind and wave. The umbrella was tied to the oar by a stout cotton cord. Pieces of white cloth, evidently sheeting, were wound around and tied to the oar in several places. There were little doubt that the boys had been using the umbrella, and possibly a sheet, for sails. Two other oars have been found and returned to the owner of the boat, having been identified as his.

This morning the following notice was posted in conspicuous places:
$1,000 REWARD.
$1,000 reward will be paid for the recovery of the bodies of A. Cleveland Coxe, Jr., and Henry May, or for either, supposed to have been drowned in Seneca lake on or about July 5th. Signed, A. L. CNEW.
Several parties have left for the supposed scene of the accident. Incited by the reward and it is to be hoped by other and higher motives, they will watch for an endeavor to recover the bodies.

A Cyclist's Long Run.
Friday morning at 4:30 o'clock Dr. Frank B. Flood, of Elmira, left the Rathburn house, in that city, on his bicycle, the night clerk registering the fact in a pocket note book that Dr. Flood carried. At 7:30 a. m. the clerk at the hotel at Hinrod registered his arrival and at 9:30 a. m. the clerk at the Kirkwood, in Geneva, performed a like service. The assistant postmaster at Winnetka recorded his arrival at 11:35 p. m., and he arrived at the Jefferson in Watkins at 2:35 p. m., and his run was certified to by Harry R. Rand, the general host of that house. His cyclistometer showed that he had traveled 103 1/2 miles. Another fact that he brought out was that when Watkins down the west side of Seneca lake to Geneva, and back on the east side in return, was just seventy-nine miles and three-quarters miles.

LOOKING FOR A NEEDLE.
An Operation Made on the Little Fellow's Foot.
Dr. McCarthy was called this morning to the home of M. O. Culhan on Exchange street. It was discovered that Mr. Culhan's three-year-old boy John had a needle in his left foot under the instep. A thread was noticed hanging from the child's foot, hence the inference. Upon pulling the thread the needle failed to follow. Dr. McCarthy made an examination. He felt the needle. The child was put under the influence of chloroform and an incision made along the track of the needle. It is expected that the needle will work out in a few days. The funny part of it is, the child did not cry or complain of pain. The parents do not know when the accident happened. The doctor is of the opinion that only part of the needle is in the foot.

Balcony Contract Let.
The contract for building the balcony in the North Presbyterian church has been awarded to Butler and Benjamin, who have already begun to get the material in readiness. It is probable that the church will be closed for a couple of weeks after next Sunday's service. The balcony will add to the seating capacity of the church about 200 seats, and will improve the interior appearance of the church very materially. The rapid growth of the society has made necessary the enlargement now under way, which will probably be finished upon the return of the pastor from his vacation.

Higher Awnings Demanded.
Policeman Merry has been detailed to measure the height of awnings from the walks. According to a village ordinance they must not be less than seven feet from the ground. Complaint has been made to President Herendeen of the lawlessness of many on Exchange and Seneca streets. Policeman Merry is accordingly taking measurements and will notify offenders to give their window shades a raise.

She Knew Her Age.
This yarn was told by a census-enumerator the other day. He was asking the usual questions and had got as far as the servant girl who exclaimed: "Oh! I know how old I am to a day. I was born the day my grand father died." And when that, asked the seeker after information, "I don't know," was the cheerful answer, as she left the enumerator trying to figure out just how old she was.

Teachers' Training Class.
The Geneva Classical and Union school has been designated by the State Superintendent of public institutions to instruct a teachers' training class during the term of the school year, 1895-6. Free tuition is given to qualified members. The certificate earned by graduates from this class is practically a life certificate to teach in the public schools of the state.

SUNDAY IN PHELPS.

Topics Discussed at the Churches Yesterday.
BUREAU OF THE TIMES, PHILIPS, July 15, 1895.
EDWARD KIRK, Manager.

Rev. Dr. C. W. Hayes' sermon at St. John's Episcopal Church yesterday morning was a continuation of the previous Sunday's discourse, on the difference between Catholicism and Sectarianism. Dr. T. told that the essential truth of Christianity is not vested in any private opinion or narrow creed, but in the broad teaching of the church itself as brought down to us from its original source. This position was amplified and illustrated in his own scholarly way.

CITY BRIEFS.

The iron balcony around the corner drug store is being removed.
The annual excursion of the German church will take place on the lake July 24th.
A large excursion over the lake, composed of Syracuse people is booked for August 8th.
A large crowd of friends will accompany the Hydrants and Ogyagos to Penn Yan on Wednesday.

Con. Mulcahy sprained his right foot yesterday while engaged in an innocent amusement.
A party of ten took a trip to Lodi on the yacht Consuelo yesterday, spending the day there.
It is announced that other interesting attractions will be offered at Pre-emption Park soon.
Innes' famous band of fifty pieces will be the next attraction at the Park on August 2d.

A meeting of the village Board of Health will be held to night. Important matters will be discussed.
The annual picnic and excursion of St. Peter's church, to Lodi and return, will take place on Thursday, July 26th.
The barn and nursery shed of W. & T. Smith, recently burned, are being rebuilt. They are being put up in a substantial manner.
A meeting of Nestor Hose Company will be held at their rooms on Tuesday evening. As business of importance will be transacted a full attendance is requested.

A street car left the track yesterday at the Pre-emption street curve, which is very sharp. It was put on the track again in short order.
Nearly all the merchants on Seneca and Exchange streets have their awnings set at half cock to evade the enforcement of the seven foot limit.
Round trip tickets to Penn Yan and return for Firemen's day on Wednesday next, will be only 35 cents over the Fall Brook road.

Judge Smelser reconsidered the sentence of the three fellows arrested on Saturday for rioting at the Lehigh Valley railroad depot, and gave them sixty-five days apiece in the Monroe County Penitentiary.
Several hundred people assembled at Pre-emption Park yesterday to hear the sacred concert by the Geneva band and witness the programme offered by Jeakle's Pony Hippodrome.

Undertaker Borgman and Coroner Wright accompanied each other to the Park on Saturday afternoon. They claim that the balloon ascension was entirely too successful. The funeral of Mrs. John Naughton, who died in Rochester last Thursday at the home of her son, took place this morning from St. Francis de Sales church at 9:30.
The business men of Geneva and Seneca Falls will struggle for supremacy on the ball field, at the Park on Friday, July 19th. The receipts will be donated to the new hospital fund.

L. E. Kisor has the contract for putting in the plate glass in the corner drug store. The work will begin to-day. It goes without saying that the corner will be greatly improved in appearance.
W. J. Broderick & Company intend soon to convert their liquor store into a drug store. They are tired of the liquor business and feel that the drug trade will be much more congenial.
The barn of T. Smith & Co., at the Bending Works, which was destroyed by fire several weeks ago, has been rebuilt. It is covered with corrugated iron as a protection from fire again.

The entertainment at the Baptist church this evening, by Mrs. Young's class in elocution and physical culture, promises to be of more than ordinary interest. The programme will present a series of drills and attitudes of an interesting character.
Sunday afternoon F. M. Tuttle was in his boat house. He watched two yachts in the distance through his glass and was pleased to see Frank's old yacht built twenty years ago by W. G. Tuttle, boat school's new boat. Mr. Tuttle greatly admired the set of the sail on Frank's boat.
Owing to poor health C. A. Lane has tendered his resignation as ticket agent at the Central depot. His successor has not been definitely determined upon as yet. Mr. Lane will take a vacation of a month or two before resuming work of any kind.
The demand upon the Saturday edition of the TIMES was so great that, although several hundred extra copies were printed, it was exhausted at an early hour. The order for the paper have since been so many that a new edition was issued from the press this morning.
The firemen's convention at Penn Yan on Wednesday will be of considerable interest. Geneva will be brought within easy distance on that day by a special train on the Middlesex Valley road, to leave the station at 7:30 in the morning. The Hydrants, the Ogyagos and the Steamer company expect to take part in the events of the day.

Mr. Wells, who recently graduated with honor from the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, expects to open a dental office in Geneva on his return.

Young but Sterling Preacher.
The pulpit of the North Presbyterian church was occupied at both services yesterday by Rev. Mr. Covert, of St. Paul, Minn., who preached two scholarly and edifying sermons. In the morning his subject was "Christian Love," from Phil. 2:17-1, in which he presented three phases of that love, exemplified by St. Paul, as to its intensity, its mutual reciprocity and its alertness. Although a young man the preacher acquitted himself most worthily, and his discourses were well received by the large congregations.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT

Made by a State Officer on Small Boy.

ALL WATERLOO EXCITED

The Fourth Deputy Secretary of State Mongin Brought into Notoriety—Warrant Issued for His Arrest.
BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Waterloo, July 15, 1895.
A warrant was issued this morning by Police Justice Marshall upon the sworn evidence of Mrs. Joel Woolley for the apprehension of one Justin B. H. Mongin, a former resident of Fulton, Oswego county, and more recently of this village, now a fourth deputy secretary of state at Albany. Mrs. Woolley, in her affidavit, charges the said Mongin with a brutal assault upon her youngest son Paul, 11 years of age and suffering for several years past from hernia. Some of the witnesses who were near by, at eight o'clock last Saturday evening, have made affidavits that the attack upon the boy was a most cowardly affair, not likely to be perpetrated by any but one devoid of the common feelings of humanity. From the facts set out by the TIMES correspondents, the following seems to be the beginning and end of the matter.

The Woolley boy and a companion, named Eddie Lum, were returning home by way of the Central-Hudson track. On reaching the M. E. church corner the boys state, a son of the defendant in the case, accompanied by two other boys, commenced calling the Woolley and Lum boys objectionable names, when they turned back and Woolley caught the Mongin boy, who commenced to make outcry which it seems attracted his father to the spot who administered some blows upon the Woolley boy. The boy broke away, ran up the track toward the passenger depot with Mongin following in hot pursuit.
He overhauled the boy at the freight house of the railway company, picked the boy up and threw him with violence to the ground, the boy's head coming in contact with one of the rails. He then kicked the little boy several times in the back and sides. Several men standing close by, who were waiting for the arrival of the train from the west at 8:35, witnessed the whole transaction, and pronounced it a most cowardly and brutal attack by one claiming to be a man upon a small boy.

Had Mongin not made quick time for his home it is likely he might have found some of the lookers on to administer to him a dose of the medicine he gave the boy. An examination will be had in the case in a few days.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Baker Jr., and daughter Evelyn, of Geneva, spent Sunday with relatives here.
Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bolles, of Geneva, were in town Friday evening. They expressed themselves pleased with our handsome little burr.

Messrs. Harry C. and Alfred L. Ostrander, B.S., of New York city, two Waterloo young men, are home visiting their parents on North street during a week's vacation.
Joseph Marshall, a farmer residing in Fayette, had a valuable cow killed by lightning Friday night.
The receipts of the Waterloo postoffice for the quarter, ending June 30th, 1895, were $8,455.15.
The topic of Rev. G. E. Campbell's sermon at Sunday morning's service at the M. E. church was "Abraham's Vision." At the evening service it was "The Green Bay Tree and its Lessons."

He Likes the Mineral Water.
Albert A. Ashley, proprietor of the Hub Theatre Bulletin, of Boston, and theatrical writer for the Boston Record, is in town to receive a couple of weeks. Mr. Ashley is an admirer of our mineral springs. He was in Geneva when the first spring was discovered and remaining several days partook copiously of its waters. He was greatly benefited thereby and has come from Boston several times since in order to get the water direct from the spring.
One Allston dealer sold 133 gallons of ice cream on the Fourth.

Ever since the Buffalo kidnapping case came to light a Gowanda young woman resident in this village has been a frequent visitor in this city. She says she is afraid if she goes out after dark she will be "killed."
A Tonawanda man recently warned the public that he would pay no bills contracted by his wife. A paper of that village called attention to the fact that it was a needless injunction, as the man was never known to settle any accounts of his own making.
The Geneva Daily Times states that it generally believed that John P. Myers squandered a portion of the legal estate for county treasurer. It is believed that Myers was a successful canvasser for county treasurer. Ingalls did not die until four years after Mr. Myers' thought he could be elected to that office.

"Can Well Support It."
Penn Yan Chronicle.
Geneva has a daily paper—THE TIMES, edited by M. J. Dillon, formerly of the Tonawanda Daily News. Geneva is a lively town of 10,000 inhabitants, and can well support such a newsy paper as Mr. Dillon issues. THE TIMES, though only two months old, has now 2,000 subscribers.

"They Know a Good Thing."
Seneca Falls Journal.
The Geneva Daily Times was sent out in eight page form Wednesday. Its 31 columns of reading matter and illustrations were decidedly interesting, while its 25 columns of advertisements proved that Geneva's business firms know a good thing when they see it.

CARRIED UP IN THE AIR

A WESTERN CYCLONE STRUCK A FARMHOUSE.

The Occupants, Five in Number, Were More or Less Injured.
CHAFTON, S. D., July 15.—A cyclone struck the town of Adonella, doing great damage. A two story house, belonging to Mr. Nelson, containing five persons, was carried up in the air, and when it came down was broken into a thousand pieces. All the persons were seriously injured.

FIRE A SHOT.

HE ACTED AN EMPLOYEE.
He Wounded a Woman, Tried to Shoot Himself and Stabbed an Officer.
BALTIMORE, Md., July 15.—Stephen Webb a colored employe of the Pennsylvania railroad, shot and fatally wounded Emma Harris this morning. When arrested he tried to shoot himself. Failing in the attempt he stabbed the officer slightly wounding him.

ENGINEER LOST HIS LIFE

THE STEAMER CIOLA BURNED AT LEWISTON.
The Engineer Was Burned—American Hotel Near the Dock in Ruins.
LEWISTON, July 15.—A fire last night entirely destroyed the steamer Ciola. The engineer was burned to death. The American hotel was burned to the ground.

MARRIED A GAMBLER.

A Young Woman of Tully Claimed as His Wife.
TULLY, July 15.—Society in the little village of Tully was shocked and indignant a few days ago when Charles LaFayette, a Boston gambler, appeared and claimed Miss Rosamond Gifford, and daughter of a prominent lawyer of that village, as his wife.

They were married at Scranton, Pa., two years ago, he says, she giving her name as Violet Delavena. Miss Gifford was attending school at Cambridge and the last year was there spent at LaFayette. When LaFayette announced himself as her husband she indignantly denied it, and the feeling against the Boston gambler was anything but pleasant in the village. His proofs, however, were sufficient to convince the girl's father and now LaFayette is trying to induce his wife to live with him or he threatens that he will sue her.
LaFayette says that Rosamond often visited him in Oswego a year ago, when he lived there for a time. She traveled on a mileage book, and he claims that it was by that he knew she lived in Tully.

Death of Edward Moaw.
The remains of Edward Moaw, who died at his home in Geneva, Pa., this morning, will be brought to Geneva at 7:45 this evening, over the Fall Brook road. The cause of death was typhoid fever. The remains will arrive in charge of the L. O. P. of Ulster, of which he was a member. They will be met at the depot by a committee of Hydrant Hose men. It will be remembered that when Mr. Moaw lived in Geneva he was one of Hydrant Hose's most active and prominent members. It is probable that the company will attend in a body the funeral, which will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. A committee from Old Castle Lodge 299, I. O. F., will meet the remains at the train and will have charge of them up to and during the interment.
