Reforming the Civil Service.

President Cleveland's Plan Unfolded.

On Saturday of last week President Cleveland gave to the world his plan for reforming the civil service of New York.

First, by filling the great and responsible office of Collector of the Port of New York with an obscure and unsuccessful merchant named Hedden, who has no business reputation, no experience in public life, and no known qualification for the office.

Second, by removing, in the middle of his term, the old and experienced Surveyor of the Port of New York, Mr. Benedict, who has attained his position through the slow process of promotion under the civil service regulations, and filling his place with a political hanger-on, named Beattie, who is even more obscure than Hedden, has no business reputation, and no knowledge of the duties of the office.

Third, the removal in the middle of his term, of the gallant disabled soldier, General Graham, the excellent naval officer of the Port of New York, in order to make a place for Colonel Burt, a civil service "reformer!"

The broad grounds on which the President makes these reforms are as follows: Among the large number of applicants for the place of Collector of the Port of New York, was Herbert O. Thompson, the boss of the New York county Democracy, Cleveland's and Manning's most intimate supporter and friend. Thompson's political and official record is of such an odious character, and has such a Tweedy smell, that it would never do to appoint him, and so he was allowed to designate a substitute, and named Mr. Hedden. By this simple arrangement, Mr. Thompson, for all political purposes, became Collector of New York, while Hedden acts as the figure head.

In order to make the reform complete, the Secretary of the New York political faction controlled by Mr. Thompson, Mr. Beattie, is made Surveyor of the Port.

Colonel Burt, a renegade Republican, having always shown his devotion to civil service reform in a manner calculated to keep himself in office, supported Cleveland and Hendricks last fall, and the naval department is now reformed in order to recognize the mugwump element.

Such in brief is Mr. Cleveland's comprehensive plan of civil service reform, original in its conception, and the product of Manning's and Lamont's best efforts to secure the control of the coming New York State Democratic Convention.

True, these changes, at least two of them, are in direct violation of the civil service regulations, and of the teachings of Geo. William Curtis and Col. Burt. They are also in direct conflict with Cleveland's letter to the mugwumps. But what of that? Necessity knows no law! Sooner or later the hypocritical mask must be thrown off, and the administration must find its level, and this is as good a time as any!

We might add that there is wide-spread disgust among the Democrats in Clinton county over the appointment of Collector, as it was confidently believed that the appointment would be given to Hon. Wm. E. Smith, of Plattsburgh. But this is none of our business!

Political Topics.

—The New York Sun is urging Senator Evarts to run for Governor of this State this fall.

—Gov. Hoadley says he will not be the Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio at the coming election.

—Chairman James C. Warren of the state committee through the columns of his paper, the Buffalo Commercial, favors holding the Republican state convention after the Democratic.

—E. L. Hedden, the newly appointed collector of the port of New York, and H. S. Beattie, the new surveyor, called upon the President on Monday. Mr. Hedden took possession of his office Wednesday.

—A committee representing Tammany Hall waited on the President on Monday and urged that that organization be recognized in the appointment of either United States marshal or the district attorney for New York city.

—A somewhat disgusted Democrat is quoted as saying, when asked what he thought of President Cleveland: "He reminds me of McClellan's term as governor of New Jersey. McClellan went in by a small majority, but he went out unanimous."—Minneapolis Tribune.

The order issued by Postmaster General Vilas prohibiting loafing in fourth-class postoffices is about as absurd as anything this administration has done. It shows clearly enough that Vilas has never visited any crossroads offices in the backwoods, where the postoffice is generally run in connection with a country store, and where the old farmers gather in the evening to swap remedies for foot-rot in sheep, and compare the dimensions of their prize steers, and talk about the short crop of corn over on Dutch ridge. Vilas should extend his acquaintance with the men of our postal institution.—Philadelphia Press.

The Street Car Riot in Chicago.

A Mob of 1,000 Led by Strikers.

The street car conductor's strike on the West Division culminated on Wednesday in an attempt to run the cars under guards. A mob of four or five thousand attacked the cars at Jefferson street, following them up Union and Halstead streets, hurling beer kegs, stones and bricks at the cars, smashing the windows.

At Ann Street the cars were wrecked and thrown from the track. Many policemen were injured, but the entire reserve force was finally massed and the riot quelled. But business on the division is entirely suspended at present, and it is not known what course the company will pursue.

The decrease of the public debt during the month of June was $8,993,993.75; decrease of the debt since June 30, 1884, $93,494,708.04.

The Trial of Yseult Dudley.

The Jury Acquit Her on the Ground of Insanity.

The trial of Mrs. Lucelle Yseult Dudley, the English woman, for shooting Jeremiah O'Donovan Rossa in February last was begun in New York on Monday. The court-room was crowded to its utmost capacity. O'Donovan Rossa was the first witness called by the prosecution. During the taking of his testimony Mrs. Dudley made remarks of scorn and sarcasm against Rossa and as O'Donovan stepped down from the witness stand he passed the prisoner on his way to the door and Mrs. Dudley shouted in his face "Down with the dynamiters! God save the Queen!" and then added tauntingly "Don't kill me, for God's sake."

On Tuesday several witnesses testified that they believed Mrs. Dudley to be insane. Dr. MacDonald, superintendent for the insane on Ward's Island, testified that he was convinced that she was suffering from chronic mania.

Mrs. Dudley insisted on taking the stand to prove that she is sane and finally was allowed to do so.

ACQUITTED ON THE GROUND OF INSANITY.

The jury were only in consultation about five minutes when they returned a verdict of not guilty on the ground of insanity. A motion was made to send Miss Dudley to an asylum, which her counsel opposed. The latter asked that their client be permitted to return to her native country and be placed in an institution there. The court listened to arguments on this motion Thursday.

Washington Topics.

—The president has suspended Horatio C. Burchard, of Illinois, as director of the Philadelphia mint and appointed James B. Kimball of Pennsylvania in his stead.

—Gen. Hazen, chief signal officer, has issued an order extending to a day and a half in advance the weather predictions which now only cover a day. The change took effect July 1.

—The work of placing lightning rods on the roof of the Washington monument has been completed. It is thought all danger to the monument, from lightning, will now be averted.

—The President on Monday appointed William D. Robinson to be supervising inspector of steam vessels for the ninth district, which includes Buffalo, Cleveland, Oswego and Burlington, Vt.

—The President on Saturday made the following appointments: Edward L. Hedden, collector of customs for the district of New York; Hans S. Beattie, surveyor of customs in the district of New York; Silas W. Burt, naval officer of customs in the district of New York.

State Board of Health.

What to Do in Regard to Canadian Huckleberry Pickers.

Among the many communications recently received by the State Board of Health was the following from the health officer of Altona, Clinton county, which speaks for itself:

"I write in regard to what course we should take to prevent infection of smallpox from Montreal. We are located forty-five miles from that city and six miles from the Canada line. During June, July and August, we are in constant communication with Montreal by means of a constant influx of the lower classes, who annually come here to pick huckleberries and market them in that city. I most respectfully beg of you to point out the proper course for us to take, for should the smallpox reach here now, it would be conveyed to a large portion of Northern New York and Vermont, owing to the heavy traffic."

An answer was sent advising immediate vaccination of all susceptible persons, and a rigid examination of all persons arriving from Montreal. The State Board offers all the assistance in their power should an emergency arise.

From the Essex Co. Republican.

The Senatorial Question.

Candidates for the Nomination in Essex County.

As is well known a considerable number of gentlemen in Essex County are mentioned as candiates for the nomination of State Senator from this district. We have already named two who from our personal knowledge will be presented by their friends for the nomination, and we take pleasure in adding the name of R. C. Kellogg, Esq., of Elizabethtown. We think we can safely say that Mr. Kellogg has the universal esteem of the Republicans of Essex County, and a clean record both officially and politically.

Skipped with a Little $200,000.

A Chicago Man Who Made a Big Show in the Dry Goods Business at Omaha.

L. S. Smith went to Omaha from Chicago a few months ago with several thousand dollars, which he had made on the Chicago board of trade, and started a dry goods store. He hired fifty clerks, advertised extensively, gave concerts in the store, ran excursion trains, etc., and sold goods at unusually low prices. Monday morning a stranger named Oole took possession of the store as assignee, and it was announced that Smith had fled. It is presumed he has gone to Canada and has taken $200,000 in clear cash with him. The creditors arrived there on Saturday morning to close Smith up, but he stole a march on them. His liabilities are said to be $150,000.

Dynamite in a Sanctum.

An Attempt to Blow Up an Editor.

An "infernal" machine of a rather clumsy pattern was sent by mail to L. Lum Smith, publisher of the Agents' Herald, at Philadelphia, on Monday. It was a wooden box about five inches square and three inches high. The words "private" on the lid of the box aroused Mr. Smith's suspicion. He opened the box cautiously and found a forty-four calibre breech loading derringer inside. It was loaded and cocked. A piece of copper wire was attached to the trigger and fastened to the lid of the box, but in such a way that the opening of the box could not possibly have discharged the pistol. The postal authorities are investigating the matter.

Enlarging the Erie Canal.

Ex-Governor Seymour will write a public letter in a few days advocating the appropriation by the state of enough money to enlarge and improve the condition of the canals so as to increase their capacity three-fold. He will also, if his health permits, attend a state convention to organize a movement for the improvement of the canals. The meeting will probably be held in Utica August 5.

The Voice of the People.

The people, as a whole, seldom make mistakes, and the unanimous voice of praise which comes from those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, fully justifies the claims of the proprietors of this great medicine. Indeed, those very claims are based entirely on what the people say Hood's Sarsaparilla has done. Send to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., for book containing statements of many cures.

Barb-Wire Fence.

[Communicated.]

Fences made of wire are of recent origin. Round wire and barbed wire are used for fencing. A farmer is not required by law to make or maintain any fence along the highway; but if he makes a barb-wire fence upon his own land, along a public highway, he has a right to do so; and if animals run into that fence and get scratched, it is their fault, and no damages can be recovered.

But when barbed wire is used to make a division fence between adjoining owners of real estate, there should be a board in the fence to notify cattle and horses of the existence of a fence, else they may run or be driven into and upon the barb-wire, and be more or less damaged.

By statute, the people of each town in the state have authority to make rules and regulations for ascertaining the sufficiency of all fences in town. This law was passed in 1823, and stands unchanged at this day. There were no barbed wire fences in those days. Fences were made of nails and boards and posts, and the resolution of the town declared the height of such fences to be of some stated height in feet, as usually four and a half or five feet high.

We are not aware that any town in this county or state has authorized a wire fence to be made as a division fence, or made any rule or regulation declaring the sufficiency of such a fence.

There should be one board the whole length of every wire fence at the top, or next to the top, to notify animals of the fence.

If some precaution of this kind is not adopted in a division fence, and animals are injured by the barb-wire, it is difficult to see why the owner of the fence is not liable for damages to cattle and horses on the other side. A barb-wire fence without a board in it, is no fair play to animals in an adjoining pasture. A. B.

Marvelous Escape of a Boy Who Reached for His Falling Hat.

Saturday afternoon while a Delaware and Hudson passenger train was approaching Gansevoort, Saratoga county, at the rate of 45 miles an hour, a gust of wind blew the straw hat from the head of a 12-year-old boy who was standing on the platform of one of the coaches. The lad threw up both hands, attempted to catch the hat, and fell off the platform. He clutched the rod attached to the bottom step with one hand as he fell. He loosened his grip after being dragged through the gravel several feet. The train was stopped and backed up toward where the boy had fallen. All who witnessed the accident thought he had been killed; but as the train rounded a curve, the lad was seen running toward the train with his hat in his hand. Aside from a few bruises he was uninjured.

Battle with the Indians.

An engagement between the Apache Indians and the U. S. troops under Lieut. Davis took place on Thursday of last week, thirty miles southeast of Fronteras, Ariz. Sixteen Indians were killed and fifteen to twenty taken prisoners. The loss of the whites is not stated.

Gen. Grant's Condition.

MOUNT MACGREGOR, July 1.—During the forenoon Gen. Grant brightened, as though he had had enough of sleep. Before lunch he had employed fully an hour in writing matter which will become a part of his book. There is no truth in the story that the general's jugular vein is affected.

—The President has decided on the appointment of William Dorsheimer to be United States attorney for the southern district of New York, vice Elihu Root, resigned, and of Martin J. McMahon, to be United States marshal for the same district, vice Joel B. Erhardt.

—Adolph Sprockles has been acquitted of the charge of assaulting with intent to murder W. H. DeYoung, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle.

LIME BAKING POWDERS.

Why the "Royal" is Absolutely Pure.

Analysis shows the presence of Tartrate of Lime in several brands of Baking Powder placed upon the market:

"CLEVELAND'S" baking powder contains tartrate of lime.
"HANFORD'S" baking powder contains tartrate of lime.
"TIP TOP" baking powder contains tartrate of lime.
"HECKER'S" baking powder contains tartrate of lime.
"DE LAND'S" baking powder contains tartrate of lime.
"GILLET'S" baking powder contains tartrate of lime.
All BULK baking powders contain tartrate of lime.

The presence of this substance in the above-named Baking Powders results from the use of inferior Cream of Tartar in their manufacture. The Cream of Tartar of the market, from which they are made, contains Tartrate of Lime in amounts varying from six to twenty per cent, and hence these powders contain this impurity as a foreign substance to a corresponding extent, which is of no value, but a positive detriment in any powder in which it is found.

NO LIME IN ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

The Royal Baking Powder is made from Cream of Tartar specially refined and prepared for its use by patent processes by which the Tartrate of Lime is totally eliminated.

This highly important result has been attained only with great care, labor, and expense. In money alone a quarter of a million dollars has been invested in patents, machinery, and appliances by which the crude Cream of Tartar, being procured direct from the wine districts of Europe and subjected in this country to these exclusive processes, is rendered entirely free, not only from the objectionable Tartrate of Lime, but from other foreign substances.

This adds greatly to the cost of manufacturing Royal Baking Powder; but, as all its other ingredients are selected and prepared with the same precise care, and regardless of labor or expense, an article is produced that is entirely free from any extraneous substance, and chemically pure in all respects.

No lime, earth, alum, or impurity of any kind can, by inadvertence or by the use of adulterated articles or otherwise, be introduced into the "Royal," and it contains no ingredients except those certified by the most eminent chemists necessary to make a pure, wholesome, and perfect Baking Powder.

It costs more to manufacture the Royal Baking Powder than any other, but it is, as shown by chemical analysis, the only "absolutely pure" Baking Powder made.
