SUCCESS IN STORE FOR HON. GEORGE A. STEVENS MONDAY

The Enrolled Republican Voters Will Defeat Motives of Selfish Candidate in Primary—They Want No More Emerson And Are Out to Show It

The Continual Reign Must Cease and the Established Rule of Precedent Respected—But Above All a Candidate is Desired Who Will See The People's Interests Before His Own And All Are Agreed That "George" Stevens is the MAN Most to be Desired

The Republican party, less than a decade ago, pointed with pride to the thirty-third Senatorial District, Essex, Clinton and Warren Counties, as rock-ribbed and invincible. But in recent years the overwhelming majorities of the old days have gradually dwindled to such an extent that the district has been figured on for the past two or three gubernatorial elections in the doubtful class.

Why have old time loyal Republicans, forsaken their party and voted for Democratic candidates? Was it because their convictions on party principles had been changed? No, they were registering a rebuke on conditions of existing corruption and ill-practices which had crept into the party and over which they had no control. We might further ask: What accounted for the unbounded success of the Progressive Party, the ideals and aims of which conform almost identical with the original Republican doctrines, but the same cause?

Whenever officials failed to serve the interests of the people the latter desired a change which was not always accorded them. The boss saw to it that his best servants were retained and "The people be damned."

Desire for a change on the part of the Republican Party has been felt for some time in this Senatorial district. But despite the protests of the people James A. Emerson has been placed before them on the ballot term after term for their careful consideration. And a large number of them have given "Sunny Jim" careful consideration to the extent that his first majority, the normal one of his party, dwindled from 7900 to less than that many hundred. Still after four terms this same Emerson comes up again for re-nomination. But, the primaries have made it possible for the people of party ties to select their candidate irrespective of machine or boss rule. And on Monday next the Republican Party through the vote of its enrolled voters will cast aside the Emerson yoke for a man in whose hands their interests will stand secure, and who will work incessantly for the betterment of the constituency he serves. That man is one of Lake Placid's most foremost citizens, the Hon. George A. Stevens.

If ever there was a man in any district big enough, strong enough and honest enough, to bring about a reconciliation between the Republican and Progressive Parties as far as his own candidacy might be concerned, that man is George A. Stevens, and The Lake Placid News in supporting his candidacy does so from a Progressive standpoint with the interests of the people at heart. If the G. O. P.

HON. GEORGE A. STEVENS
Candidate for State Senator From the Thirty-third Senatorial District Comprising Essex, Clinton and Warren Counties

could place before the people a list of candidates of the Stevens' calibre there would be no question of their again coming into their own. Mr. Stevens is widely known because of his business connections and activities as an Adirondack booster. He is the proprietor of the Stevens House, and as such comes in contact with influential men in all parts of this and other states. He is in a position to know what the leading men of the State think and how they feel. He has traveled the country over, and by observation knows what other sections of the country have and what they enjoy and what they want. He is an Adirondack man, born and developed. He knows the other side of the question. He knows what the people of the Adirondacks want and, as one of the largest taxpayers in the three counties comprising his district, he knows what they can pay for. Therefore he is in the rare position of a man who knows what may be adapted to his district in the way of legislation and development, and he knows how much money may be available for the development and how to get the most for the money, because he is practical.

Yet Mr. Stevens is modest in his pretensions, and retiring in his assertions and claims. He comes before the people with a reputation for honesty that is above reproach and backed by this high personal record

BOULEVARD TO SARANAC AND PAVED STREETS THROUGH PLACID

VILLAGE TO GRASP OPPORTUNITY FOR PAVEMENT AND CEMENT WALK

Great Situation Presents Itself For Placid's Advancement—Hon. James Shea and Forrest B. Guild Confer With State Highway Official During The Latter's Stay in Town And Bring Result of Conference to Attention of The Village Board—Leading Citizens Favorably Impressed

The visit of John N. Carlisle, State Highway Commissioner, to Lake Placid last Saturday afternoon, as a member of the New York State Automobile Association, afforded leading citizens a splendid opportunity to intelligently discuss the construction of the Ray-Brook-Lake Placid road and the possibility of extending the highway through this village with a higher type of road.

As a result Hon. James Shea, president of the local Automobile Association, and Forrest B. Guild, president of the Board of Trade, introduced the subject to the members of the Village Board at their regular meeting on Monday night with favorable results. It is generally known that proposals for this road will be received soon after October 1, as the second $5,000,000 of the $10,000,000 appropriated by the State for roads will be released on that date.

In several well-considered thoughts and interesting remarks Hon. James Shea made an earnest plea for a paved street through the village. In part he said:

"Let the village determine now whether it wants a paved street or not. Plans are about to be drawn for the road and this is the time for a decision to be made.

Lake Placid has stood up better this year than any other summer resort in the Adirondacks. From the cottage point of view the rentals have been more numerous and better than facilities and the change of idea in the tourist the hotel business has taken a drop. Tourists of to-day do not want to sit on the porch of a hotel. They want to travel, and if our road facilities were improved Lake Placid should offer the hotels the biggest transient business in the mountains. The hotels of our community, and of any community, are entitled to the greatest consideration, and in my mind the transient business of Lake Placid can be greatly developed."

The State road will reach to the Stevens hill, and will be, according to contract, sixteen feet wide. Mr. Shea's suggestion was that the proposed paved street be either twenty-four or thirty feet wide and have a cement or brick covering.

Whether the State will continue the road through the village defraying the expenses of just sixteen feet and any part of the higher grade of material is a matter for conjecture.

However, the members of the Board are very much impressed with the idea, and have taken the matter up directly with the Commission, who will furnish data and figures. If the Board considers the needed improvement within the bounds of possibility a proposition will be submitted to the tax-payers for action.

It is quite probable that a walk would also be laid on the other side of the street if a favorable decision is reached as the crushed stone from the present road would furnish a good base for a walk, and although it might not be as wide as the present one, it would be a much needed improvement.

The matter of investment should not be considered by the tax-payers at this wonderful opportunity. Each and every one should take an optimistic stand and realize the imminent prosperity in store for the most wonderful village in the Adirondacks with needed improved facilities.

It is a well known fact that hotels are often erected in a community not for the purpose of being prosperous in themselves but for the purpose of benefitting the community with the thought in mind that it will benefit if the community prospers.

GRAND VIEW HOTEL HEADQUARTERS

Heralded throughout the neighborhood by newspaper and placard announcements the "See New York First" enthusiasts were ushered into our village on Saturday last at 5 p. m. amid an uproar of sirens and klaxons and a flourish of banners.

This was Lake Placid's "Big Day" in the advocacy of "Good Roads." The time had been set aside by the townspeople and a comfortable attendance was present at the Town Hall where many interesting facts were displayed regarding the roads of the present day and their prospective future.

Arrangements had been made by several of the members to meet the tourists at Keene and pilot them to our town. M. B. Marshall, proprietor of the Grand View, carried the word of welcome as far as Elizabethtown where the officials cars were first greeted by Lake Placid. In Mr. Marshall's car were M. B. Marshall, Mrs. Pike, Mrs. Wheeler, William Shea and Samuel Shuttice. Inasmuch as the Grand View Hotel is the official hotel of this village for the Automobile Association, President Shea invited Mr. Marshall to take the word of welcome to Elizabethtown.

After piloting the visitors to Keene the other Lake Placid people were met. Introductions were given and greetings and welcomes scattered plentifully. From Keene the motorists were led to Placid by Prof. W. L. West's car, which had been chosen as the official car by the local organization.

In the official car were James Shea, president of the local club; W. L. West, secretary of the club; F. B. Guild, president of the Board of Trade; Thomas Leahy, president of the Board of Education, and John N. Carlisle, State Commissioner of Highways.

Among the others to meet the tourists at Keene were Frank Leonard, Wm. Pratt, superintendent of Highways; John White, supervisor; B. R. Bull, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Carey, Rufus Walton and John Walton.

In the party of tourists were the following:

he tells the people that he will attend to it that his district gets what is right and fair; that the legislative body at Albany shall recognize and award to these Adirondack and Lake Champlain counties what is their due in highway building, in fish and game legislation and in the management of the forests.

As a caterer to tourist and automobile travel, as a traveler of the highways himself, Mr. Stevens is qualified to say what the highways shall be and where they shall be to benefit the greatest number.

As a hunter and fisherman who has followed the trail and the stream since a boy, as a hunter and fisherman who has hunted and fished in many other waters than those of the Adirondacks, as an Adirondack native who knows the sentiment of the native of the Adirondacks, Mr. Stevens is qualified to enact legislation which the Adirondacks need and which the people of the Adirondacks will respect and aid to enforce.
