KELLY TOSSES NEW TEASER

KELLY, Miss 31, left-handed pitcher for the Minors, showed all the weapons to the maximum advantage Sunday afternoon when the Orioles defeated the Senators, 7-3, at Memorial Stadium. It was the first time in a major league game that a woman had thrown a complete game and the first time in the Oriole history that a woman had pitched a complete game.

KELLY'S STRIKEOUTS

KELLY was a runaway winner with 15 of the 22 strikes she threw. She also hurled the ball past the Senators in the first, second and third innings, each strikeout being more than 150 feet from the plate. Her fastball was 95 miles per hour, her curve was 85 miles per hour and her change-up was 80 miles per hour.

KELLY'S WINS

KELLY's win was the second of the year for the Orioles, who are now 12-1-2 for the season. She set a new record for the most complete games pitched in a season with a total of 20. She also set a new record for the most innings pitched in a season with 150.

THE YORK TIMES

New York, April 12 — Mrs. Mary Kelly, 31, of Lynbrook, L. I., is making a bid for the first woman to pitch a complete game in a major league game. She has already pitched two complete games in the minor leagues and is expected to make her debut in the major leagues next week.

While Mrs. Kelly, a former basketball star, has been pitching for two years, she has never pitched in a major league game. She has pitched for the Long Island All-Stars and the Lynbrook All-Stars and has a record of 32-4, including two no-hit games.

In 1965, Mrs. Kelly pitched for the Lynbrook All-Stars and the Long Island All-Stars and had a record of 32-4, including two no-hit games. She was also named the Most Valuable Player in the Long Island All-Star Game.

Mrs. Kelly has been married for 10 years and has two children. She lives in Lynbrook, L. I., and commutes to the Lyndhurst, N. J., home of her husband, a steel worker.

DODGERS STAY ON TOP; GIANTS AND METS LOSE

The Dodgers, led by Lefty Leboeuf, won their third straight game against the Mets, 7-3, at Ebbets Field on Saturday night. Lefty Leboeuf pitched a complete game and the Dodgers scored four runs in the third inning, including two on a double by Alton Caruthers.

The Mets couldn't be blamed for their loss, as they pitched a masterful game by ace pitcher Jack McCall. However, the Dodgers' bats came alive in the third inning, scoring four runs and keeping the Mets at bay.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the first inning, including one on a triple by Ken Boyer. They added two more runs in the third inning, including one on a double by Alton Caruthers.

The Mets' only runs came in the second inning, when they scored two on a triple by Joe DeLorenzo. However, the Dodgers quickly put the game out of reach with four runs in the third inning.

The Dodgers' win improved their record to 16-11, while the Mets dropped to 10-17. The Dodgers are now in first place in the National League East, while the Mets are in third place.
