Redskins finish a game shy of Class D championship

BY BILL JOHNSON

Plate house, 9-10, Saturday's Class D state baseball tournament ended with a big one for Sandy, coach Dave Zemba. "Our kids all came and played their best," Zemba said. "I am so proud of them for geting to this point."

But Sandy's reign did not last long. "They were all playing their best," the coach said. "We had a good game, and we were playing well."

The bottom of the sixth inning opened with the score tied at 3-3.
Sandy would have won the game had they not scored in the seventh inning. Sandy's Brian Stavesky followed with three hits to score the game tying run. After that, Sandy's offense cooled off, and Sandy ended up losing the game.

Sandy's lead was short-lived, however. Their offense cooled off, and they were unable to score in the seventh inning. Sandy's.

Forest rangers warn:

Stay off trails during mud season

RAYS BROOK—Forest rangers are asking hikers to avoid the Adirondack Mountains during the mud season.

"Rangers are being asked to voluntarily avoid hiking more than 3,000 feet above sea level during the mud season," said R.G. Brown, ranger in charge of the Adirondack National Forest.

The mud season is known for its heavy rains and snowmelt, creating muddy trails and potentially dangerous conditions.
