Follow the gingerbread man to the featured store of arts at the annual Alaska State Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994. You will be greeted by life-sized gingerbread men and women, the aroma of spices and gingerbread. Walk on in to see our array of handcrafted Christmas trees, raffia, from Vietnam or "for the birds." Plan to buy one for your office, school, home, even one for your favorite veterinarian!

A new attraction this year is a gingerbread house and paintings sale. Local renowned artists are donating paintings as well as the local white goods and local business. Back by popular demand are used shoes and consignments, as well as wonderful jewelry. Our craft auction is one not to be missed. Many local artists have donated their wares and we should not be missed.

Some of our vendors will be: Pepparkakor trees, decorated by students. Christmas stockings, Gingerbread men of all materials, gift baskets made of force, peppers, stuffed animals and dolls, baby quilts, wax until you see it all.

While you are busy browsing and buying, don't forget to purchase aaffle tickets for the Big Raffle, and we are also having a 10 ways Chinese auction. Stop by the coffee corner for cof-fee or cider and donuts, but do plan to bring the children to meet the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

If you need newspapers for any reason, please call the office of Indian Time at (518) 398-9551 or (613) 575-2063 or stop in, Niawen.

Contact Information:
Call for an Appointment with Joy Clinton
Registered Massage Therapist
120 9th St. E. Cornwall 936-0132
Located in Pharma Chine Unit
Wheelchair Accessible

Community Asked to Return Constitution Surveys

The Committee hopes to make the comments before publishing the surveys available to the public by mid-November. The surveys ask questions which are designed to get the comments or suggestions on Constitutional issues. These surveys will be used by the Committee as it continues to work on the draft Tribal Constitution. Anyone with questions about the survey or the Constitutional development process may call the Counselor's staff at (315) 336-2272.

Papers, Papers, Papers

If you need newspapers for any reason, please call the office of Indian Time at (518) 388-9551 or (613) 575-2063 or stop in.

Niawen.

Community Asked to Return Constitution Surveys

Members of the Kwaene House Committee are being asked to comment on the surveys on the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribal Constitution by October 31. The Constitution Committee announced today.

The surveys were distributed dur- ing Saturday's referendum on the amended gaming compact and should be returned to Committee members or Tribal Council pro- gram office. The completed surveys can be left in drop boxes located in the Community Building lobby or just outside the door of the Tribal Council program office. The surveys can also be returned by mail to Tribal Constitution Committee, Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, Community Building, Hogansburg, New York 13655.

The last day we are going to give any comments or suggestions on the written format is October 31. The surveys will be used by the Committee as it continues to work on the draft Tribal Constitution.

Tsi Snahine School Fired Up About Safety

Page 3 Indian Times October 21, 1994

Front Row: Todd Mitchell, Rochelle Sunday, Andrew Leger, John Thompson, Back Row: Kayunee, Rehunk, Neil King, Kabene Sunday, Brandon Swamp (Redhead), Mitchell Aqui'tepe (Singing) Tyson Mitchell

The completed surveys can be left in drop boxes located in the Community Building lobby or just outside the door of the Tribal Council program office. The surveys can also be returned by mail to Tribal Constitution Committee.

Members of the Kwaene House Committee are being asked to comment on the surveys on the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribal Constitution by October 31. The Constitution Committee announced today.

The surveys were distributed during Saturday's referendum on the amended gaming compact and should be returned to Committee members or Tribal Council program office. The completed surveys can be left in drop boxes located in the Community Building lobby or just outside the door of the Tribal Council program office. The surveys can also be returned by mail to Tribal Constitution Committee, Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, Community Building, Hogansburg, New York 13655.

The Constitution Committee hopes to make the comments of the survey available to the public by mid-November. The surveys ask questions which are designed to get the comments or opinions on Constitutional issues. These surveys will be used by the Committee as it continues to work on the draft Tribal Constitution. Anyone with questions about the survey or the Constitutional development process may call the Counselor's staff at (315) 336-2272, Ext. 248.

Front Row: Todd Mitchell, Rochelle Sunday, Andrew Leger, John Thompson. Back Row: Kayunee, Rehunk, Neil King, Kabene Sunday, Brandon Swamp (Redhead), Mitchell Aqui'tepe (Singing) Tyson Mitchell

Tsi Snahine School fired up about safety.

The Constitution Committee hopes to make the comments of the survey available to the public by mid-November. The surveys ask questions which are designed to get the comments or opinions on Constitutional issues. These surveys will be used by the Committee as it continues to work on the draft Tribal Constitution. Anyone with questions about the survey or the Constitutional development process may call the Counselor's staff at (315) 336-2272, Ext. 248.

Follow the gingerbread man to the featured store of arts at the annual Alaska State Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

While you are browsing and buying, don't forget to purchaseaffle tickets for the Big Raffle, and we are also having a 10 ways Chinese auction.

Stop by the coffee corner for coffee or cider and donuts, but do plan to bring the children to meet the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

Follow the gingerbread man to the featured store of arts at the annual Alaska State Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

While you are browsing and buying, don't forget to purchaseaffle tickets for the Big Raffle, and we are also having a 10 ways Chinese auction.

Stop by the coffee corner for coffee or cider and donuts, but do plan to bring the children to meet the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

Follow the gingerbread man to the featured store of arts at the annual Alaska State Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

While you are browsing and buying, don't forget to purchaseaffle tickets for the Big Raffle, and we are also having a 10 ways Chinese auction.

Stop by the coffee corner for coffee or cider and donuts, but do plan to bring the children to meet the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

Follow the gingerbread man to the featured store of arts at the annual Alaska State Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

While you are browsing and buying, don't forget to purchaseaffle tickets for the Big Raffle, and we are also having a 10 ways Chinese auction.

Stop by the coffee corner for coffee or cider and donuts, but do plan to bring the children to meet the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.

Follow the gingerbread man to the featured store of arts at the annual Alaska State Hospital Bazaar to be held at the Malone Middle School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 19, 1994.