OFFICIAL PAPER.

LANSINGBURGH, NOV. 27, 1880.

GAZETTE JOTTINGS.

—The Hudson river is frozen over, and pedestians are crossing.

—The circulation of the GAZETTE is constantly and rapidly increasing.

—The supervisors adjourned last Wednesday until next Monday at 10 A. M.

—Counselor R. B Stiles spent Thanksgiving at a family reunion at the old parental homestead in Connecticut.

—Our respected citizen, Robert Harrison, the druggist, we are happy to learn, is convalescing from an attack of pleurisy.

—Vennor, the Canadian prophet, proclaims the greatest snow storms the last of December, January and March, and the severest cold weather in January.

—A very convenient one horse sleigh, with one or two seats, adapted to business or pleasure, for sale cheap. Apply at GAZETTE office.

—Our town board audit this year $9,443 - 90; last year $8,453.11. Extra expense this year, as follows, makes the difference;

A new safe	$ 140 00
For registers, about	500 00
Expenditures on small pox acc't, about.	2,500 00

—"Curley Drum," the ostensible wife of a Mr. Bergeran, who kept a bagnio in Troy under the nose of the detective officials, was accidentally shot by Bergeran last Monday night. There is much mourning among municipals.

—John B. Gough's lecture last Tuesday evening at Music Hall, Troy, was largely attended and well received, but we do not think that Mr. Gough is at all equal to his former palmy days. We trust the free reading room received a substantial lift.

—Miss Eleanor Bird Sarton died last Sunday at the family residence, corner of State and North streets, where the funeral took place yesterday. Miss Sarton was a devoted communicant of Trinity church and an untiring laborer in the Sunday school vineyard.

—The Omaha Bee contains more far western news than any other paper on our exchange list. The effort of the publishers to draw immigration to that fertile region, is commendable. The Bee is mailed free to any one sending his address to the "Daily Bee," Omaha, Neb. We shall be always happy, as the GAZETTE is the oldest paper in the Empire State, being 83 years old, to have on our exchange list the Omaha Bee, the leading journal of Nebraska. We trust the Bee will contain all the principal news west of the Mississippi, including the great State of Kansas. In such case we shall be happy to still further commend it to the numerous readers of the GAZETTE.

—The Saratoga Eagle, in referring to our suit against the Troy Whig publishing company, B F. Judson and others, says: "Dr. Elbutt wields a graphic pen, and has just returned from a successful stumping tour. Flushed with victory, and with the blood of renewed youth coursing through his veins, it is barely possible that the Doctor's prosecution of the complications is too animated and one-sided in its character." It is "animated and one-sided" to the extent of about $4,000 of the GAZETTE editor's money, which the "compilers" propose to chisel us out of, while he propose shall not be done; "not if the court knows itself."

THE SPIRITUAL RAILWAY.

The following lines were found in a railway station house; they are supposed to have been written by a gentleman who had been there detained:

The line to heaven by Christ was made,
With heavenly truths the rails are laid;
From earth to heaven the line extends,
To life eternal, where it ends

Repentance is the station house,
Where passengers are taken in;
No fee for them is there to pay,
For Jesus is himself the way.

The Bible is the engineer,
It points the way to heaven so clear;
Through tunnels dark and dreary here,
It does the way to glory steer

God's love the fire, his truth the steam,
Which drives the engine and the train;
All you who would to glory ride,
Must come to Christ, in him abide.

In first and second and third class,
Repentance, faith and holiness;
You must the way to glory gain,
Or you with Christ can never reign.

Come then, poor sinner, now's the time,
At any station on the line,
If you repent and stop from sin,
The train will stop and take you in.

A STREET SCENE.

GATHERING A CROWD.

The other morning two gentlemen were looking out of the window of a house on Richard street, when they observed a cabbage roll off a market wagon that was passing. Instantly over a dozen well-dressed and apparently sane persons began yelling after the wagon as though the vegetable had been a gold watch or a thousand dollar bill. The driver stopped about half a square off, looked back at the cabbage, yawned and drove on.

"What an absent fuss people in the street make over trivial occurrences, "said one of the gentlemen. "Now, I'll bet a silk hat that I could get a crowd around that cabbage inside of thirty minutes, and yet not leave mine."

"I'll take the bet," said the friend, pulling out his watch. "Are you ready?"

"Yes, give the word."

"It is now 11:30. Go!"

The proposer of the wager led his friend to the window, threw up the sash, and, taking a cane, pouted earnestly at the mud-covered cabbage with a terrific expression. Presently another driver noticed the action, and began to stare at the vegetable from the curb-stone; then a new shop stopped; then a billposter, an errand boy a merchant.

"What's the matter?" inquired a German, approaching the innocent base of his national dish.

"Don't touch it! Look out there! Stand back!" shouted the gentleman at the window. At his horror-stricken tones the crowd fell back precipitately and formed a dense circle around the innocent cabbage. A crowd came running up, and the excitement increased rapidly.

"Look out there!" frantically screamed the better, waving his cane. "Take that dog away, quick."

Several stones were thrown at a cur that was sniffing around the cabbage.

"Take care!" said a car driver to a policeman, who was shouldering his way through the mass. "It's an infernal thing with the smallpox."

Meanwhile the sidewalk was blocked, the street became impossible, women screamed and rushed into State street, and a storekeeper underneath began to fill a bucket on the end of a long pole with which to pour a disinfectant on the fiendish thing. The crowd by this time was panic stricken, the two gentlemen moved away from the window and sat down. In a few moments there was a hurried tap at the door, and there appeared a wee little fellow, with a barman roaster strut, who had come from the mass-meeting outside.

"I should like to know, gentlemen," he said, "what the fuss are? I am a reporter."

"What facts?"

"Why, what there is peculiar about that cabbage out there?"

"Nothing in the world," was the soft reply, "except that it seems to be surrounded by a crowd of the biggest fools in town. Do anything else for you?"

The leetle fellow reflected a moment, said he "guessed not," and retired. Before he handed in his report, however, the policeman had dispersed the mob, clubbing several of the hoodlums who fell on the wind and ——

ONE VOTE.

B F. Judson of Saratoga, who is nearing the close of his postmastership in that town, some time since cast around to ascertain where he could get another grip on Uncle Sam and thrust his arm into the public crib. The scandalous management of the Troy Morning Whig, under the manipulation of "Hall and Gale" had so depreciated and run down the Troy Whig publishing company's business that an effort was made by those who had been "roped in," to secure a reliable purchaser, that they might realize a small portion at least of their cash in the concern. Judson brought he was an "official bonanza" in the Troy Whig, and asked if he bought of the Whig, if it was probable he could get the position of postmaster in Troy, away from its present incumbent. He soon after cut "across lots, and by some hocus pocus with the management obtained possession, giving, with his partner, eleven notes—no cash—for the property, the price being far less than the assorted press value, hence really no consideration for the property; by this scheme expecting to get the supervisors of Rensselaer county to designate his paper, the Troy Morning Telegram and Whig as one of the official papers. By this device a revenue would be derived to pay the notes. This expected bonanza, however, has vanished into thin air, as the sequel demonstrates. The wily schemer concluded he could wield a Troy paper, get the official printing, oust Gil, and dictate the politics of a patronage of city and county, but there is many a slip between the cup and the lip."

Last Tuesday the supervisors met and a motion was made to designate the official papers of the county for the coming year. When the tellers counted the ballots there was for Judson's Troy Morning Telegram and Whig, out of an aggregate vote of 26. Our county legislators do not believe in bestowing their confidence on an outsider, interloper and adventurer; Judson resides in Saratoga county.

Fair dealing and even-handed justice is the best stock in trade for a wily politician. B F. J., we offer you the compliments of the season, and propose in a future issue of the GAZETTE to give a full and complete history of the Whig company and your adventure, to date. Many happy returns.

THANK-GIVING AND MUSIC

Thanksgiving passed off very quietly and pleasantly in the Burgh, in discussing the turkey question and attending services at the different churches. But the event of this national custom was the concert of the choral union at Concert Hall, under the baton of our local Strakosch—M. L. Fancher. The house was crowded with an intelligent and highly appreciative audience. The concert was a grand success, musically, financially and with eclat. The musical spelling school, between teacher and pupil, was worth the price of admission and rapturously encored. The choral union can at any time repeat itself drawing an overwhelming and rapturous audience.

GENEROUS WORDS—WHAT THEY SAY OF US.

TROY TIMES, NOV. 15.

The Lansingburgh GAZETTE now appears under the general headling of STATE GAZETTE, but it is the same old journal after all, with editorial heading unchanged. The GAZETTE is now in the eighty third year of its age, and fresher, livelier and more enterprising than ever before.

BALLSTON JOURNAL, NOV 20

The old GAZETTE has dropped the name of the burgh and appeared last week as THE STATE GAZETTE. The editor says: "The GAZETTE was first issued Sept. 12, 1798. Thus, for over 83 years, amid the mutations of time, and the rise and fall of hundreds of journals, the old time GAZETTE has preserved its journalistic life until the present date. It has withstood the nipping frosts of adverse blasts and the perfidy of false friendships, and is to-day rock-bottomed, rock ribbed and rich crowned with the emblem of the great State of New York, with our motto, Excelsior. This is fitting and appropriate; for over four score years the GAZETTE has been a historic record of State and local events. The GAZETTE will live and flourish as long as its editor and proprietor lives, and it will pass on to the future as a landmark of ye olden times, and a monument of modern live journalism. The GAZETTE is booming. Now let all its old and new patrons extend its rapidly increasing circulation if possible still more."

This appeal is justified upon the ground of merit and good pride, as well as that of age, and we hope the publisher's anticipations will be more than met.

WATERVLIET JOURNAL, NOV 20.

The old and reliable paper, the Lansingburgh GAZETTE will hereafter bear the title of STATE GAZETTE, with all its old time stability.

SARATOGA EAGLE, NOV. 20.

Dr. Elliott's venerable Lansingburgh sheet appears under a new title, THE STATE GAZETTE, and other improvements are noticeable.

ALBANY EVENING TIMES, NOV. 15.

The first issue of the Lansingburgh GAZETTE appeared September 12, 1798. Though under another name, it was published long before that time, and ever since the honored number of the GAZETTE it has been published continuously, without a break or suspension. Thus, for over 83 years, amid the mutations of time and the rise and fall of hundreds of journals, the old-time GAZETTE has preserved its journalistic life until the present date.

GRANVILLE SENTINEL, NOV. 16.

The Lansingburgh GAZETTE of last week reaches us greatly improved and with a new head, THE STATE GAZETTE. The paper is the oldest journal in the State, having been published continuously for nearly 83 years without suspension. It is owned and edited by Dr. A B. Elliott, the renowned editor and accomplished journalist. The venerable doctor contributed largely to the success of the Republican party this fall, not only through his paper but by "stumping it" in Ohio and Indiana previous to the October election, and since in this State. The GAZETTE, as well as its editor, are a credit to Lansingburgh.

CONTEST FOR POSTMASTER AT SARATOGA SPRINGS.

We clip the following from the Saratoga Sentinel: "When we spoke last week of the prospects of Mr. Judson being again reappointed postmaster we supposed the contest would only be between him and Deacon Ritchie, but during the past week some new and strong candidates have been named. A S Hoyt comes forward from his wing of the party, and Levi S. Noyes has secured the signatures of the Republican supervisors to a petition. Lastly, up to this writing, we hear the name of Gen. W. B Frenen suggested, while ought to harmonize all interests and secure his appointment. Gen. French has a record as a soldier which is second to none who went from this vicinity. He has done ardnous and important work for his party during the late campaign, having been one of the leaders in the 'Boys in Blue' organization, also a prominent stump speaker. He was also early in line for Mr West for Congress, and has labored for him faithfully all along. Lastly, his appointment would harmonize the various factions of his party beyond any other one named."

Judson has too many irons in the fire, and has already burnt his fingers badly; he will have to "step down and out."

THE ATTRACTIONS AT MUSIC HALL, TROY.

Gen Tom Thumb, with his retinue of wonderful attractions, commenced spicy exhibitions at Music Hall, last Wednesday. The General's troupe consists of himself, the "Hamlet" of the performance; his amiable little wife, with her sweet and touching vocalizations; Major Newell, the comic genius, also a dwarf and unrivaled parlor skater grotesque personator, consisting the audience with laughter. Giovanni rendered popular melodies on "silver tongd-glasses," his skilled canary birds are a wonder; Mme. Clark, the giantess, weighing 600 pounds; the Nova Scotia midget of four pounds, and being four years old; the Circassian princess. The lives of all these living wonders are sketched by A. W. Hall. A laughable farce supplements the exhibition. Mr. H. R. Jacobs, who is our modern P. T. Barnum, is the efficient general manager. Matinee this afternoon and performance this evening, continuing next week. Go and see the living wonders. See advertisement in another column.

POOR LOUISE, HOW SHE MUST PINE.

A story comes all the way from Atkinson, Kansas, to explain why Clara Louise Kellogg has never married. In her school days she fell in love with a poor boy, and they exchanged vows of constancy. She went on the stage and made a fortune. He declared that he would not become her husband until his wealth equaled hers, and it has never done so, though he has struggled hard to increase it to the required amount.

THE VOICE OF THE PRESS.

ONE WAY OF LO KING AT IT.

Utica Herald.

It is said Gen. Grant's income is about $4,000 a year. Would that it were ten times as large! But we venture to say that his countrymen would honor Gen. Grant as sincerely if he shaped his living to conform with a modest income as it would if he were a millionaire. He is more than a millionaire in honors He can afford, if need be, to dispense with what is necessary to greatness in smaller men. If supersenviceable friends had not interfered to prevent, Gen. Grant would now be entitled to a liberal salary as a retired army officer. The people will approve if the movement espoused three years ago is renewed and completed. The people and the nation have not been ungrateful toward Gen. Grant. They do not deserve that he should be paraded as a mendicant to their shame, and they have given a right to feel surprise that he permitted the exhibition. Let us hope it is ended.

GEN GARFIELD AND HIS POLICY.

Troy Times.

Some imaginative people seem to be greatly ex-cited in mind concerning the attitude of President elect Garfield toward the two wings of the Republican party known as "stalwarts" and "moderates." The simp'e truth is that there is no radical point of difference between Republicans as to the general policy that ought to be pursued, and Gen. Garfield will not be found in antagonism with any of them.

A SENSIBLE MAN.

Philadelphia Times.

Gen. Garfield has started sensibly in declining the serenade proposed for him in Washington Evidently he doesn't care to have the office-seekers hunting him with brass bands.

BECAUSE HE KNOWS BETTER.

Plainfield (N. J.) Bulletin.

The Dover Index wonders if Judge Noah Davis would have "hearkened to the voices of the Democratic charmers" if Beltzhoover had sued the Tribune for libel. We give it up; we never were good at conundrums; but it can come for the Index. Why didn't Beltzhoover try it?

VICKSBURGH HERALD (DEM.)

We drop our usual modesty and suggest to Mr. Garfield and his immediate advisers the manifest propriety of selecting one member of the cabinet from the Cotton States. In this State there is a man eminently fit to be intrusted with a position of this importance. We allude to ex-Chief Justice H. F Simrall, theman whom Gov Stone had the good sense to reappoint to the supreme bench of the State, but whom the Mississippi senate did not have sense enough to confirm. Judge Simrall is a man of ripe experience, progressive ideas and great wisdom. He was on the supreme bench in this State in the dark days just after the war. He believes in the new era, and will work for the good of the whole country.

ANOTHER SOUTHERN EDITOR PROTESTS.

Memphis appeal (Dem.)

Judging by the present temper of the Republicans, and what has already been said in the leading papers about the "whose string" district, they will not allow Chairmore to take his seat, but will declare it vacant until they can fill it with Lynch. The ballots thrown out will be counted by them, and a great parade of rectifying a wrong, of preventing "ballot-box stuffing" will be made before the people of the North, all of whose prejudices incline them to believe the worst that can be said of us. But it is not alone the voters who have been ruthlessly disfranchised in this way that are bulldozed, but the people of the whole South. The Appeal and all the other papers of the South not promptly protest against it, would be shamed into abject silence by people now overwhelming us those the Vicksburgh Herald furnishes.

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

"Studying the subject objectively and from the edu-ational point of view—seeking to provide that which, when altogether will be of the most service to the largest number—I long ago concluded that, if I could have but one more for a public library, I would select a complete set of Harper's Monthly."—Dr. CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, JR.

Its contents are contributed by the most eminent authors and artists of Europe and America, while the low rate at which its publication has made them thoroughly conversant with the desires of the public, which they will spare no effort to gratify.

A LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN ON THE LOSS OF MANHOOD

A LECTURE ON THE NATURE, TREATment and Radical Cure of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervousness, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—BY ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

If The Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps.

Hotel accommodations for travellers are of the greatest importance to persons who have to move about the country on business or pleasure. "Just where to go" is what every man wants to know when he leaves home. The Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot, New York City, is a very popular resort, because the attendance there is prompt and satisfactory. The charges are reasonable and the menage complete; try it. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class Hotel in the city. Be careful to see the Grand Union Hotel is on the sign when you enter. 48-1
