TERMS: ONE YEAR $1.00 SIX MONTHS .50c

STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

Office in Record Building, West Main Street.

Entered at the post-office at Chateaugay as second class matter of the second class.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1898.

The extra session of Congress will convene next Monday.

From present indications it is likely that the Sherman act will be repealed without much opposition.

That President Cleveland intends to appoint only first class men to office is shown by the appointment of Hon. George S. Wood, of Plattsburgh, as collector of customs for the district of Champlain. Mr. Wood's many friends throughout Northern New York will be pleased to learn of his selection for this important office, as it is in part a recognition of the excellent work he has always done for the party.

It is said that 100,000 pensions will be temporarily suspended, in consequence of the new ruling of the Pension Bureau and that probably nearly 90 per cent of these will be permanently dropped from the rolls, saving $11,500,000 annually. But not a pensioner will be dropped unless the evidence shows that his claim is based on falsehood. These figures indicate the reckless and profligate mismanagement which has been going on under the last Republican administration.

Republican organs are indulging themselves in the wildest kind of "calamity" prognostications and are doing their best to make them come true, but so little confidence has the general public in these organs that the result will be about the same as last fall when they were so largely discredited by the people. That old campaign "chestnut" that has been used for so many years by the organs has lost its effect, and deception, false pretense and humbug can no longer mislead intelligent people. They understand the present situation of affairs and the causes that brought them about, and can well afford to smile at the frantic shrieks of the calamity peddlers.

The "partisan panic nursing" now being pursued with so much ardor by certain of the Republican press, is very affecting, indeed. It is a grasp at a straw which will hardly save, or help the fortunes of the great and good, but discarded party. The American people are not fools enough to believe that a large majority of the voters are bent on ruining the country. Make hay while the sun shines, gentlemen. But your time is short, for after the ground has been cleared of mushroom growths, engendered by Republican doctrine, you will see an era of prosperity set in which will have a solid basis.

The President has appointed James T. Kilbreth of New York collector of customs for the district of New York, and Walter H. Bunn of Cooperstown, appraiser. James T. Kilbreth, the new collector of customs of New York, is a native of Cincinnati, 32 years old. He graduated from Harvard and is an intimate friend of ex-Secretary Fairchild. He served two terms as police justice in New York city, from 1874 to 1892, and at the expiration of his last term Tammany declined to reappoint him; he not being identified with that organization. The appointment is said to be a most excellent one and with that of Mr. Bunn to be appraiser of merchandise, is credited by politicians to the Cleveland wing of the New York Democracy as contra-distinguished from that recognized as not devoted to the president.

The Pension Bureau is not dropping any names from the rolls simply because the proof is deemed insufficient, said Commissioner Lochren recently. "A man is always given a chance to plead his case. If in the opinion of the board of revision a pension, in any instance, has been improperly granted, the man is notified and given sixty days in which to file additional proof of the justice of his claim. This will explain why there has been apparently so small a number of pensioners dropped. While the board of revision has been in existence five or six weeks, it began active and constant work only a little more than a week ago. In all of these cases sixty days must elapse before final action is taken. It will be somewhere in the neighborhood of September before the removals are sufficiently numerous to deserve special attention. By that time, however, it is expected that the work of cleaning the lists of illegal pensioners will be in full swing. The intention of the department is to mete out exact justice in the matter. It goes upon the principle that if a man is entitled to a pension he ought to have it and if he is not so entitled he has no business on the rolls."

Hay Crop

The phenomenal drought in England and France this spring and summer has reduced the forage and fodder crop of those countries to so low a point that in many sections it has become a question of existence with live stock and at some of the worst points farmers must choose between slaughter or starvation for their cattle.

Throughout New York state at the present time the farmers are engaged in getting in their hay, and the intelligent American agriculturist must realize how thoroughly he is a citizen of the world and how closely its great trade laws come home to him as he reflects that the condition of the hay crop abroad is likely to be the most important factor in the market and price of his crop at home. At present prices abroad, hay selling at forty dollars per baled ton in England against less than half of that in American markets, there is a profit in the export of hay and large quantities will doubtless be shipped abroad in the near future. The Cleveland administration which proposes to do its utmost to increase our foreign trade, according to good old democratic doctrine, is already securing the fullest possible information through our consular service of the conditions of foreign forage crops to facilitate the opening of new and larger markets for our own and Secretary Morton is diligent in preparing the information and showing these opportunities to our own people.

The greater the volume of our foreign trade, the greater the markets open for the sale of American farm products, and it has been one of the anomalies of politics, attributable only to the survival of old war sentiment, that so large a majority of the farmers of New York state should stick to republicanism with its policy of restricted foreign trade, while the democratic party is striving to find buyers for American crops in every harbor in Europe.

The scarcity of hay abroad is a lesson in political as well as domestic economy to the farmers just now.

The Pension Question

Pittsburg, Penn., Aug. 1.—Assistant Secretary of the Interior John M. Roy holds sent a letter to Judge Stage on the pension question which reached the city yesterday. The assistant secretary says: "The administration is not hostile to the soldier who fought for the union. Were it a fact, I would not remain here an instant. The country cannot be deceived in the nature of our work through extension or denunciation. We are at present engaged in correcting abuses and placing all pensions under the act of June 27, 1890, on an equality. We are pledged to make the pension roll a roll of honor and we will continue this work as long as it is the people who demanded this reform shall call a halt."

This is to be decidedly an off year in state politics. Out of forty-four states in the union, only thirteen will hold state elections—Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia, and Wisconsin and Virginia alone will elect full tickets.

New York elects both branches of the legislature and all the state officers with the exception of governor, and also delegates to the constitutional convention.

The other remaining eight states will choose judges or legislatures. Only three of these legislatures will elect United States senators—Iowa, a successor to James F. Wilson, Kentucky, a successor to William Lindsay, and Virginia, a successor to Eppa Hunton, appointed to fill out the unexpired term left vacant by the death of Senator Harbort.

Publish the pension lists with a statement of the nature of the disability in each case. The taxpayers are entitled to know who gets this pension money, and what it is paid for.
