famines threat of interest

The Dairymen League has represented farmers' interests to the New York Legislature and has been an active participant in the marketing of dairy products. The League's Board of Directors has been instrumental in developing a unified approach to the problem of bringing together farmers and processors to achieve fair prices.

The Board of Directors has made a request to the New York Dairy Cooperative Federation to consider the possibility of suspending one provision in the marketing agreements. The request was made during the January meeting and was approved by the Board of Directors. The suspension of the provision is expected to be effective for one month, from October 15 to November 15.

Mr. Benson, representing the Dairymen's League of New York, expressed his support for the suspension of the provision. He stated that the suspension would be beneficial to the dairy farmers and processors alike. The suspension of the provision would allow the dairy farmers to make necessary adjustments to their marketing plans, while processors would have more flexibility to meet the changing demands of the market.

The dairy farmers and processors have been working closely together to ensure that the dairy industry remains sustainable and profitable for all involved. The suspension of the provision is a necessary step in this direction.

The Dairymen League has been working with the New York Dairy Cooperative Federation to ensure that the dairy industry remains strong and competitive. The suspension of the provision is a positive step towards achieving this goal.
