

HAMILTON COUNTY RECORD
OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER
PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Carl L. Fry Estate, Prop.
Vernon E. Dewey, Editor

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
TAKE NOTICE—That the office of the Sheriff of Hamilton County will be held at Long Lake in said county.
Dated January 3, 1938.
BERNARD WILSON,
Sheriff of Hamilton County

NOTES OF INTEREST

John Orr and crew of men are engaged in cutting ice.
Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeMarco of Johnston were in their camp Friday.
Mrs. Mary Jane Dunham was in Gloversville, Friday on business.
Mrs. Hiram Craig who has been suffering with grippe and under Dr. H. W. Beaty's care, is able to be out again.
George H. Cole of Albany spent the week-end at his Camp in Jolie Montague Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Schreckenberg and son Eddy spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Simons.
Homer Callahan has returned from Lowellville, where he had been employed on a pulp job.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Bates enjoyed New Year's dinner with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bates.
Mrs. Jennie Potter has returned to her work in Syracuse, after spending the holidays with friends in town.

Winter arrived with the new year, about a foot of snow fell during the night. Roads are kept open and the careful motorist will have no difficulty.
Myron Earley had the misfortune to lose a horse, within the past few days. According to report, the horse in some way became entangled with his halter.

Mrs. John H. Walsh of Springfield Gardens, Long Island, is spending a week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Wm. A. Brazier.
Mrs. Arthur L. Earley recently returned from the holidays' visit with her parents at Lowellville. She reports her father in poor health.

Please notice that the Town truck will gather garbage every other Friday, the next collection taking place January 14th.
Miss Alberta Whitman, student nurse at Littauer Hospital, spent the week-end at her home. She expects to leave this week for further study at John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coulombe are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coulombe. Mrs. Kenneth Coulombe was recently dismissed from the Littauer Hospital and is now recuperating.
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Abrams and Mrs. Lana Judway of Plasco are spending the winter in Florida. Mrs. Judway is the mother of Mrs. John Hoesley who received a letter stating that they will spend some time at Palm Beach.

Miss Dorothy Ellen Burton of Lake Pleasant and Gerald Chris Whitman of Wells were united in marriage New Year's in Northville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George K. Fraser at his home on Third street this village. The ring service was used during the ceremony. The young couple was accompanied by Mrs. Bertha Burton, mother of the bride, and Sanford Parslow, also of Lake Pleasant. The newlyweds will make their home at Wells.

The basketball season will be resumed on the local court Friday evening, Jan. 7th, with Fonda High School supplying the opposition in a Tri-County League game. Fonda is tied for the League leadership and will be striving to maintain that position. Wells H. S., on the other hand, will be out to improve its position in the League standings and is determined to chalk up a win Friday night. A fast game is assured. The preliminary will feature the girls' teams of the two schools and is scheduled to begin at 7:30.

Weight of the Brain
The brain attains full weight at from fifteen to eighteen years, except in unusual cases. It remains the same until sixty or thereabouts, when it begins to decrease in weight. At eighty years about six per cent of the weight has been lost.

Avoiding Uneasiness
If you would be exempt from uneasiness, do nothing which you know or suspect is wrong; and if you wish to enjoy the purest pleasure, always do everything in your power which you know is right.

Ice Cream Old
Ice cream was first produced commercially in 1851 in Baltimore. By 1900, according to "Food Industries," annual consumption had reached 25,000,000 gallons, and now it is 200,000,000.

Triumphal Arch Ancient
At Orange, not far from Avignon, stands the finest triumphal arch in France, probably dedicated to Tiberius. It stands 62 feet high and occupies a space 64 by 28 feet.

EDWARD D. CALL, HOPE,
ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF
BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The Board of Supervisors of Hamilton County held their organization meeting at the County Seat, Tuesday, Edward D. Call, Democrat of Hope, has been chosen Chairman of the Board, succeeding Oscar Quilan, Democrat of Benson. Henry Rogers of Arietta was re-elected Clerk of the Board. The various committees to be named will be published later.

At this meeting, the Supervisors appropriated an additional sum of $2500.00 for the new bridge which is under construction at Wells.
Another important decision was to ask the Building Committee to secure bids for the new stone addition on the south side of the County Jail at Lake Pleasant, excellent plans for which have been prepared by Architect White of Albany.

The Board of Supervisors is composed of: Lyman Avery, Arietta; Oscar Quilan, Benson; Edward D. Call, Hope; Vernon Hutchins, Indian Lake; K. L. Harwood, Inlet; Harrison D. Jennings, Long Lake; Kenneth Sturges, Lake Pleasant; Earl C. Farber, Morehouse; and George R. Babcock, Wells. All were present at the organization meeting, except Benson's supervisor.

OBITUARY

Patrick Collins, 68, veteran hotel owner deputy sheriff and hunting guide, died at North Creek Tuesday, after suffering a heart attack while cutting ice on nearby Little pond. Mr. Collins for many years had operated the Forest house at Indian Lake and a livery business in North Creek.

WELLS CHURCH NOTES

Methodist
Sunday Services
10:30 A. M. Worship.
11:40 A. M. Sunday School
Rev. Franklin W. Worden, Minister

St. Ann's Catholic
Sunday, 10:30 A. M. Mass, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Confessions are heard before the Mass.
Mass on week days at 8 o'clock, except First Fridays, at 7:30, in Wells. By Franciscan Fathers.

Pilgrim Holiness
Sunday:
10:00 A. M. Sunday School
11:00 A. M. Morning Worship.
7:00 P. M. Prayer and Praise
7:30 P. M. Preaching Service.

Thursday:
7:30 P. M. Prayer Meeting.
You are invited to attend these Services.
Rev. M. R. Biann, Pastor.

Baptist
10:30 A. M.: Morning Worship
11:30 A. M.: Sunday School
7:30 P. M.: Evening Warship

Wednesday:
8:00 P. M.: Prayer Meeting
Everybody is welcome. Come and bring your friends.
Rev. Sterling Helmer, Minister.

Visited by Virgin Mary
The name of the girl fourteen years of age, who, according to tradition, was visited by the Virgin Mary at the Grotto of the Spring, at Lourdes, France, and informed of its miraculous properties, was Marie-Bernarde Soubirous. She was better known in her village as Bernadette. It occurred in 1858.

English Clover in Australia
English clover would grow in Australia, but produced no seed until bees from Great Britain were taken there for cross-fertilization purposes.

Severe War Epidemic
Notable among epidemics during a war, was the killing of 21,000 of the 24,000 French troops by typhus, as they laid siege to Naples in 1926.

President's Flag on Vessels
When the President of the United States visits an American vessel, his flag is kept flying at the mainmast as long as he is on board.

Loudest Noise Ever Heard
The loudest noise ever heard was when the volcano Krakatoa erupted, in 1883. The eruption was heard 3,000 miles away.

U. S. Bank of England Built in 1798
The old United States Bank of England was erected in 1798 and bore the American eagle on its front.

"All Is Lost Save Honor"
The expression "All is lost save honor," was first used by Francis the First of France after a military defeat.

Original Library Destroyed
The original Library of Congress was destroyed when the Capitol building was burned in 1814.

Soap Carried by Columbus
Soap was included among the supplies carried by Columbus in his voyage of discovery.

Spanish-Speaking Nations
There are 17 Spanish-speaking nations in the western hemisphere.

Capitals of Pennsylvania
The year after Penn's arrival the Provincial government was established in Philadelphia, which remained the capital until 1790, when Lancaster received the honor on the first Monday of November of that year. By an act approved February 21, 1810, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, Harrisburg was declared to be the capital after 1812. From that date Harrisburg has been the capital of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia was the capital of the United States from 1790 to 1800. Lancaster and York were temporary capitals during the Revolution, Lancaster— for three days from September 27, 1777, until September 30, 1777, when York became the capital.

Fleeing Rat Carries Young
The russet-brown rat of the islands on the north Australian coast has a novel way of carrying its young. You will see a mother rat scurrying along with one or more half-grown babies clinging to her and claw to the fur of its haunches. The added weight does not appear to cause much inconvenience, as the mother can make good time over the ground when hard pressed.

Army and Navy Legion of Valor
The Army and Navy Legion of Valor is composed of men who have won the Medal of Honor. Distinguished Service Cross or Navy Cross. The Army's Distinguished Service Cross is for extraordinary heroism in war; the Navy Cross for a similar service. And over them comes the Medal of Honor (Army or Navy), the highest decoration given by the United States.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Printing Was Delayed
"Printing in the Americas" ascribes the reason for the delay in printing after America was settled to the attitude of the powers overseas who ruled the colonies. Printing was forbidden in some colonies and discouraged in others. Governor Berkeley of Virginia said that he thanked God that there were no free schools nor printing, for learning had brought disobedience and heresy, and sects into the world, and printing had divulged them, and libels against the best government.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Shrub of Many Uses
Few shrubs on the farm that grow from 6 to 12 feet have as many medical and practical uses as the smooth sumac. The leaves, and to a less extent the bark, are a source of tannin for tanning leather. The berries were a favorite of the old time herb doctors, who used them for many diseases and ailments. Pioneers also used the berries to get a heavy oil which eventually could be molded into candles. Using the same berries for a wine they could obtain a tonic drink. Thus the smooth sumac, a colorful shrub, is able to pay its way through every season by providing wine, oil, and a tonic, astringent, and antiseptic from the bark.

Why Printing Was Delayed
"Printing in the Americas" ascribes the reason for the delay in printing after America was settled to the attitude of the powers overseas who ruled the colonies. Printing was forbidden in some colonies and discouraged in others. Governor Berkeley of Virginia said that he thanked God that there were no free schools nor printing, for learning had brought disobedience and heresy, and sects into the world, and printing had divulged them, and libels against the best government.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Development of Voting Machine
The voting machine is not the product of a single inventor. Its development covers a considerable period of time. As far back as 1849 Jan Josef Baranowski published a pamphlet in Paris in which he showed the feasibility of applying adding machine principles to voting.

Marked Beginning of Canoeing
When John Ledyard heaved his own canoe and sailed from Hanover, N. H., down the Connecticut river, and thence on his round-the-world cruise, he marked the beginning of canoeing as a leading recreational sport at Dartmouth college as far back as 1773.

British Bachelors Once Taxed
British bachelors were taxed by parliamentary order in 1695, says London Answers Magazine. The amount payable varied according to the rank of the "victim." It ranged from 1 shilling for a "person" to 12 pounds 10 shillings for a duke.

Why Printing Was Delayed
"Printing in the Americas" ascribes the reason for the delay in printing after America was settled to the attitude of the powers overseas who ruled the colonies. Printing was forbidden in some colonies and discouraged in others. Governor Berkeley of Virginia said that he thanked God that there were no free schools nor printing, for learning had brought disobedience and heresy, and sects into the world, and printing had divulged them, and libels against the best government.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.

Why Grocer Is So Called
In former days the dealer in spices, sugar, dried fruits, tea, and coffee, etc., was called a spicer, and a wholesale dealer in these articles was known as a "spicer en gros," or a "grossier," one who dealt by the gross or bulk. "Grossier" is from the French "gros," meaning great or large, and in time became "grossier," probably due to the influence of the French "merchand grossier," became simply grocer.