Parade, Cemetery Rites on Program For Town's Memorial Day Observance

All Around The Town . . .

Residents of Greece Central School District this week approved a proposal for a $1,870,000 bond issue to finance construction of two new elementary schools. The vote was 1,623 to 1,474.

Last November, a similar proposition was rejected by a big margin.

The plan calls for one school on district property in Tait Avenue and the other on a Maiden Lane site.

Construction of two large stores to be occupied by the F. W. Woolworth Company and the W. T. Grant Company is scheduled to get underway within the next month at the new Ridgeman Plaza, a half-mile west of Long Pond Road in Ridge Road West.

Robert B. Wegman, president of Wegman Food Markets, Inc., said this week that 21 stores are included in the first phase of the huge shopping center project planned by Wegman Properties, Inc.

S. P. Vasile & Son, Inc., has been awarded the general contract and Mellen & Ploch are the architects. Cost of the initial construction is estimated at more than two-million dollars.

Work on the elaborate, new Wegman Food Market, which launched the mammoth building program, is now nearing completion.

The new Grant store will have 25,000 square feet of floor space and the Woolworth unit will have 15,000.

Ormand B. Keemer of 309 Wendhurst Drive has been appointed district deputy grand master for the Masonic order's first and second, Monroe County districts. He is a general foreman for the Rochester Gas & Electric Corporation.

Serving in the same capacity during the coming year will be Wilford E. Hawkins of Spencerport.

Members of St. Charles Borromeo Rosary Society will hold their installation banquet June 9 at 6:30 p. m. in the School Hall. Scheduled to take office are Mrs. Fred E. Ambrose, president; Mrs. Frank E. Bohan, vice-president; Mrs. James F. Murphy, secretary, and Mrs. Raymond Inderbitzen, treasurer. The Rev. E. Leo McManus will be guest speaker. ### Chest Drive Chief Voices Thanks

Fred E. Strauss, who directed the recent Community Chest-Red Cross fund drive in the town, expressed his gratitude this week for all who had a part in making the campaign a success.

High spots of the campaign included 100 per cent participation by personnel of the J. C. There were gifts totaling $1,183 from administrators and teachers in Greece Central School District 1, and personnel of Caldwell & Cook, Inc., accounted for 36 pledges amounting to $288.

Fred Strauss

Strauss was assisted in the campaign by 12 co-chairmen, including Richard Holden, George W. Badgerow, Samuel Einhorn, Francis J. Cramer, Fernando Di Nardo, Walter L. Wheelan, Laverne Burton, William P. Cass, Thomas H. Pritchett, Frederick J. Conway, Merton Mitchell and Mrs. Dorothy Foreman.

A colorful parade and the placing of wreaths in tribute to the nation's departed war heroes will be highlights of the town's traditional Memorial Day observance Saturday.

Parade units, representing veterans organizations, fire departments, auxiliary drill teams, school groups and Boy and Girl Scout troops, will assemble at the Town Hall at 9:30 a. m.

Following a brief ceremony in front of the Town Hall flagstaff, with Supervisor Gordon A. Howe and Sheriff Albert W. Skinner officiating, the procession will get underway, heading east in Ridge Road to Falls Cemetery, where solemn rites will be conducted, honoring those who have given their lives in the defense of the nation.

Taking part will be Mrs. Louise Wernham, retiring commander of Greece Post, American Legion; Robert Gilliland, head of Greece-Ridgecrest Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, officers and members of both organizations, town officials and representatives of the clergy. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the parade units will march back to the Town Hall.

William E. Hill, county Legion vice-commander, will be parade marshal. His staff will include Norman Gerhard, commander-elect of Greece Post; Philip Brothers and Emmett Mura.

For the first time in many years, there was no Memorial Day parade in Greece last year. Plans for the traditional spectacle were snagged by state regulations governing the use of Ridge Road. The "go" signal for this year's parade was the result of negotiations with Albany, which were launched by Hill on behalf of the Legion post.

Sheriff Al Skinner Says:

If you are planning a trip for the coming Memorial Day weekend, here is some common sense advice—
Start early and don't try to travel too far in too short a time.
Stop and rest when you begin to tire.
Share the road and extend courtesy to all other drivers.
Obey all traffic signs and signals—and, above all, don't speed!
