Teen musician brings down Carnegie Hall

Entertainment

By IP YUN HA

HONG KONG (UPI) — Many musicians dream of playing Carnegie Hall, but few achieve that pinnacle. But even fewer still get an opportunity to perform on that famous stage with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and the legendary Yehudi Menuhin.

For 16-year-old Jin Li, only the second Chinese musician to appear in Carnegie Hall, his solo effort directed by Menuhin and backed by the Royal Philharmonic marked his greatest accomplishment to date.

"I played Bruch's Concerto there and it is certainly the most impressive performance for me," Jin said.

For the audience, it was also an enthralling evening. Overwhelmed by Jin's performance, they gave him a standing ovation and refused to leave until he performed one of his selections a second time.

Afterwards, Menuhin, who played on the same stage at age 11, said of his student's concert: "I was worried that the hall would collapse."

Menuhin's excitement could be understood, for the 69-year-old internationally reknown violinist and Jin have much in common.

Menuhin learned to play the violin at age 4 and began performing solo pieces in public at 8. Jin learned to play the piano at age 4 and violin at 6 and also began performing solo in public at 8.

Born in 1969 in Canton, Jin grew up with music. His father is a composer and flautist and his mother is a pianist.

"I came from a musical family, so my parents had high hopes for me and my brother and sister when we were small. However, they would not have forced us if we really had no interest in music," Jin said in an interview in Hong Kong, where he performed at the Huang Ho (Yellow River) Music Festival.

Jin said his sister is learning piano, but his brother has shown no interest in music and wants to become a writer.

Jin took up the violin at school in Canton and in 1979 entered the Shanghai Conservatory of Music. His hard work paid off later that year when he was one of three students selected to play in Peking for Menuhin. The maestro was so enthralled with the performance that he hugged Jin's teacher and asked that Jin be allowed to leave China and attend his school in London.

In September 1980, at age 10, Jin became the youngest Chinese student ever sent abroad to study.

The journey to the other side of the globe marked a turning point in the life of the shy, quiet boy from Canton and took him to a world where he was not wholly comfortable.

His first major obstacle was language. As lessons were given mainly in English, at first he had only his musical sense to rely on in order to grasp what the instructors were teaching. But within three months, the quick-learning Jin was able to comprehend enough English to follow his teachers.

There were other difficulties as well.

Your horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1985

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Judgment is good in work interests. Remain cool when faced with problems and you'll come up with solutions. Watch overindulgence.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Partners must agree on sharing responsibilities. Don't waste your time with superficial types. Let the head rule the heart.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) — Work goes better from the home rather than the office. Sincerity counts now, especially if mixing business with pleasure tonight.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) — Your attitude may be inconsistent with a child. Neither be overindulgent nor too strict. Logic should prevail now.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) — Common sense enables you to solve a home-based difficulty. Avoid temperament in dealings. Income receives a favorable boost.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept.22) — You're serious-minded today and capable of exceptional mental achievement. Still, you'll need tact with others after dark.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct.22) — Financial concerns dominate your day. Certain obligations cannot be avoided, yet you'll come up with new ways to add to income.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — You're the heavy-handed one today. Be sure to accept the company of friends who will lighten your mood and brighten your day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — If you'll face problems in a realistic manner, you'll come up with the right answers. Don't neglect the feelings of a close tie.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) —An impasse may exist between you and a friend and now is the time to patch up differences. Stick to facts. Avoid temperament.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) — Despite the uncooperative mood of a higher-up, you'll still make career progress. Schedule meetings, conferences.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) — No need to carry that weight all by yourself. Talk things over with a close tie. Together, you'll see your way clear.

YOU BORN TODAY are independent and a law unto yourself. In a quiet way, you go about your business. You have the ability to bounce back from adversity and do not accept defeat gladly. Administrative work and public service are likely to appeal to you, though you're also strongly motivated towards an artistic career. You're a good money maker when it comes to business and gravitate towards large enterprises. Birthday of: Greta Garbo, film star; Jack Warden, actor; and Rossano Brazzi, actor.
