Soviet emigration may bring tougher visa rules

The present ease of the world's contribution to the multilateralism of international organizations has been increased by the increasing number of developing countries seeking to join them. The United Nations has been little help, but the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund have been more active in promoting this kind of multilateralism.

The present ease of the world's contribution to the multilateralism of international organizations has been increased by the increasing number of developing countries seeking to join them. The United Nations has been little help, but the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund have been more active in promoting this kind of multilateralism.

American emigration may bring tougher visa rules

Taylor's men killed two Nigerian journalists missing for six months

The Nigerian daily newspaper, "The Nigerian Times," reported that two of its journalists, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, had been killed in retaliation for the publication of stories critical of the government. The journalists, who had been missing for six months, were reportedly killed in a shooting incident that took place in the city of Lagos.

Croatian rebels agreed to demobilize their local forces

The Croatian rebels agreed to demobilize their local forces in opposition to the federal government's decision to declare a state of emergency. The rebels had been fighting against the federal government for several months, but the federal government's decision to declare a state of emergency had led to a stalemate.

Soviet troops restless, commander warns

The Soviet troops in Iraq are restless and the commander warns that they may become more aggressive. The troops have been in Iraq for several months and the commander is concerned about their behavior.

Explosions rip through Italian disco

The Dhahran Patriots are a group of American soldiers stationed in Saudi Arabia who have been organizing and carrying out attacks against the Iraqis. The group has been active for several months and has caused a great deal of concern to the Iraqis. The Dhahran Patriots are a group of American soldiers stationed in Saudi Arabia who have been organizing and carrying out attacks against the Iraqis. The group has been active for several months and has caused a great deal of concern to the Iraqis.

How the system works

The Patriot defense system is designed to intercept incoming Scud missiles. The system uses a combination of radar and missile guidance to track the Scud and then launches a Patriot missile to destroy it. The system is highly effective and has been used successfully in several battles.

Logistics, Iraqi threat delay ground attack

The Iraqi threat has delayed ground attacks by the Americans in the Gulf War. The Americans are planning to begin ground attacks in the coming days, but the threat from Iraq has caused some delays. The Americans are planning to begin ground attacks in the coming days, but the threat from Iraq has caused some delays.