

E. G. THAYER & CO.

NEW DRUG STORE!

2nd DOOR NORTH OF BENT'S BLOCK.

E. G. THAYER & CO.

DRUGS.

MEDICINES.

PATENT MEDICINES

Druggist's Sundries.

WINES AND LIQUORS

FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES.

E. G. Thayer. Dr. Geo. Thayer.

NEW YORK STORE

It will pay you to see the Bargains in dress goods, flannels, table linen, underwear, hosiery, gloves, corsets and fancy goods of all kinds now being sold so low at this great bargain store of Medina. Remember the NEW YORK STORE, BENT'S BLOCK.

D. B. ABELL,

Proprietor of the Center Grocery Store,

53 Main St., Medina, N. Y.

has in stock a very fine selection of

GROCERIES

Rock Bottom Prices.

TEAS and COFFEES

A SPECIALTY.

CANNED GOODS

a great variety in stock.

Fruits Always on Hand in Season.

Goods Delivered Promptly.

R. N. JONES,

"GUNS-MITH"

AND

DEALER IN SEWING MACHINES.

1st Door West of Postoffice, Center St.

The following are the leading machines:

"HOBBSHOLE,"

"WHEELER,"

"WHITE,"

"REVIVAL ST. JOHN,"

"WHEELER & WILSON," No. 8, (Improved.)

Every Machine Warranted Five Years.

My stock of these goods is the largest and most complete offered in Medina. Call and examine this line of goods before buying elsewhere. I make it a study to know the wants of the public, and my line and stock to supply them with the best to be procured.

General Agent for R. N. Jones, manufacturer of the "Hobbshole" Sewing Machine, and dealer in all kinds of School Furniture and Supplies.

LOCAL BREVITIES

SAYINGS AND DOINGS WISE AND OTHERWISE.

Originating From Various Sources and Usually Caught by the Register Follow.

CHILD'S ANNOYANCE.

The father of a child is not a contented man if he does not receive his affection.

A very old man with him in solitude.

He often indulges in the story of his life; and you can bet your sweet life that I spread the confessions of my pretty child.

Ladies, use Yea Tooth Powder.

Brushes and uses every day at Dadd's.

Bernina Onions at Britton & Son's.

Dentists recommend Yea Tooth Powder.

Best line of teas in town at Healy & Son.

All the standard brands of cigars at Dadd's.

Go to Dadd's for your fresh oysters.

Dog days on paper ended on Tuesday last.

Best five cent cigar in the county at Dadd's.

By this way, what has become of the top of the hat?

Has the organ for sale cheap at C. S. Marlock's?

The first New Japan Tea in the world at Dadd's.

Go see the Baby Wagons, Carts, Barrows, etc., at Smith's.

1000 pounds Choice Bologna Sausage sold daily at Smith's.

Fresh baked bread every day at John Dadd's, 45 Main street.

A full assortment of men's and boys clothing at Adler & Co.

Medina is now in telephonic communication with Buffalo.

Coal tar makes the best protective covering for wounds of trees.

Boston Mixed Coffee twenty-five cents per pound at Healy & Son's.

Was something said about an appropriation for Oak Orchard creek?

Farmers have commenced plowing preparatory to sowing winter wheat.

If you wish teeth like pearls, and a pure breath, use Yea Tooth Powder.

House and lot on Shelby street for sale. For terms see ad in this office.

Tanks attached to locomotives hold about three thousand gallons of water.

Healy & Son give four beautiful chromes with a pound of standard Java coffee.

A hotel keeper may not be a practical man, but he daily displays his ineptitude.

To observe Jumbo is the more scathless rebuke of "to see the elephant."

Some device for better protection of horses against flies should now be forthcoming.

Tramps will soon return from their summer wanderings and look up a new free lunch room.

It was lawful to shoot squirrels if you happen to meet them and are any good with a gun.

The clergy now pronounce round dances harmless, provided chairs are used for partners.

Any single young man wishing for a good place to board can learn of by calling at this office.

The Fry Engine Company's picnic at Bancroft's Grove on Friday last was a very enjoyable affair.

It is now definitely decided that chickens cannot be raised from egg-plants, nor calves from cow-teeth.

Beef at the present price reminds one of the time when the Israelites were sent to seek their bread in the wilderness.

The clock on the Bancroft house is of great public utility, and so is the grand stand at the ball ground.

The fashion of tracing the reins with blue paint is gaining favor, and so is the fashion of being hopeless idlers.

Biggest and best stock of Clothing and Gent's Furnishing Goods ever brought to Medina, at Adler & Co's.

It requires considerable tact to so distribute taffy that the recipient will imagine he is getting pure maple sugar.

A man never fully understands the difference between probability and possibility until he runs for office and gets left.

An effort is on foot to perfect arrangements for the rendition of the "Ode of Numbandy" by local talent in Medina soon.

The Reformer is pleased to place upon its exchange list the Lyons Democratic Press, one of the neatest papers in the county.

Some young men who have solemnly pledged to abstain from drinking at a public bar, now have it sent up on the dumb waiter.

Viewed through the microscope a hair has rough edges like a file. No wonder a young man's monstache so frequently tickles a girl's nose.

Spence Baker is doing a large cigar trade, and sells many of the best brands in the market. He also sells the Post Express for two cents.

Ladies, Johnson sells a kid button shoe hand made and hand turned. They are ordered by Phelan of Rochester. They are light and durable.

In consideration that the price of milk will soon be advanced, it would be well for schools to purchase their black-board materials at once.

A well posted exchange remarks that the use of sunflowers by the girls is commended by the boys who say the perfume just neutralizes the mawk.

A tramp who was on half-starved states that he was so exceedingly thin that he was unable to tell whether his back or his stomach was paining him.

Mr Horan is now getting out some very fine stone to be used in connection of the elegant residence of Mr. P. Mason at Carthage, Jefferson county.

It may not be generally known that one of the sharpest canes in the entire county of the Erie canal is at this place.

Several boats have recently very narrowly escaped serious collision in passing.

HE TOLD THEM SO

AND HUMBLED THEM ALL NO A CHARM.

Barbara's Greatest Show on Earth

At Medina Today - An Immense Crowd.

The American people like to be humbled; and the bigger the humbler, the better they like it.

And never was Barbara more fully demonstrated the truth of his assertion than the present season.

The largest crowd ever seen in Albion assembled in that place to-day to witness the greatest of printers' ink shows in the known world.

The street parade was a large one, but not so gigantic as many were hoping to see.

Jumbo was there, but he was not the "mastodon of by-gone ages" that so many had foolishly pictured. He is a lean, scaly old beast, and if this be the Jumbo over whom Queen Victoria wept so profusely upon his departure from England, it is a very peculiar taste.

There have been some comparisons made in this country that would compare most favorably with Jumbo in height, and others that it would be safe to venture would outweigh him. His exact height and weight is not known, for it is said that Booth, his keeper, "killed" him for his height, and he was killed at the same time, and he is no answer to his belief that he threatens to return to England if anything of the kind is attempted.

This is good. And at the same time highly suggestive. Jumbo did not participate in the parade, from the fact that he is the special attraction offered by the ingenious Barnum, and to exhibit him in public would be to humiliate the people free of charge, which would be the ruin of his business at fifty cents a head.

The majority of those who attended the "grand performance" in the tent this afternoon were free in expressing their disappointment. It is the general belief that the manager was good, but the ring performance in quality was not beyond that given by some smaller and less pretentious shows that have come over the road this season.

That Barnum is the most successful humbler in the world will not admit of a doubt.

MEETING FOR BIBLE STUDY.

On Tuesday evening a large and highly cultured audience gathered at the Baptist Church to hear the address of Rev. W. J. Erdman of Jamestown. He had chosen for his subject "The Bible, its Main Idea, its Books." His address was well received, and none could deny that the speaker was more than at home with affairs relating to the Good Book.

Yesterday morning the meeting was held at the Presbyterian Church, at which highly interesting Bible readings were given by Rev. E. P. Marvin of Lockport and Rev. J. E. Williams of Medina. In the afternoon the audience listened to some pleasant remarks by Rev. Robert Cameron of Canada, after which the time was devoted to Bible study. In the evening the audience was greatly interested in the discourse of Mr. John Currier of the Evangelist, and Mr. Robert Gray of Lockport.

Among the speakers to-day were Rev. T. E. Babb of Victor, Rev. D. B. Eldy of Brockport, Rev. R. P. Gardner of Fairport. This evening at 7:30 Rev. W. J. Erdman of Jamestown and others will speak.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The usual services will be observed at St. Mary's church the coming Sabbath.

Mr. Currier of the Evangelist who spoke last evening with great force and acceptance, will preach in the Presbyterian Church Sabbath morning and evening.

Rev. Mr. Brink, the able gentleman who officiated at the Baptist Church last morning and evening at that church this coming Sabbath.

It is understood that the Rev. H. S. Danforth will preach at the Baptist Church on Sunday next, in the presence of which the annual services will be observed at St. John's Church.

On Sunday morning Rev. J. E. Williams of Medina will preach at "Prayer, its Place, and its Power." Subject for evening discourse, "The Present in Relation to the Development of the Bible Plan."

We will sell flour and feed at the following reduced prices until further notice:

Hazell's Extra Butter $8 00

Blue Jacket Lard 7 00

Guaranteed superior for any eight or nine dollar flour sold by any of our dealers.

Middlings per ton $28 00

Sourcrumbs per ton $22 50

Flour in sacks at Slack Box

Wheat and Rye

Medina, May 27, 1882.

Farmers bear in mind that Wald & Hill are grinding from twelve to fifteen hundred bushels of wheat per day.

Consult your own interests and get their prices before you sell. You can have all the time you want to draw.

JOSEPH T. MOON.

Ground Limestone.

I and selling carbonate of Lime Flour or ground limestone, the best fertilizer in the market. All persons who are about to purchase a fertilizer will do well to give me a call.

JOSEPH T. MOON.

Best quality of flour

Of the millinery goods formerly owned by Mrs. M. E. Barnea. These goods will be sold at twenty-five per cent below cost for the next ten days at No. 69 Main street.

Flour Wanted.

All varieties of plans wanted. Should be delivered in bulk.

R. O. BOWEN & SONS.

ORLEANS ECHOES

NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE GOOD OLD COUNTY.

Mostly condensed from the Columns of New York Neighborly Exchange.

An alarming amount of sickness prevails in West Barre.

Sanny Laws died at the almshouse last Wednesday. He was insane.

James Kennedy, died at his home in Albion on Monday, aged sixty-two years.

Phoebe Quincehook died last week in Knowlesville, aged seventy-one years.

The Republican Congressional Convention will be held in Albion, October 6.

While playing on a ladder, Miss Bertha Swoor of Albion fell and broke her wrist.

A Kendall man swallowed a whole box of liver pills by mistake. By mistake for what?

A twenty-five horse-power engine has been purchased for the Tyler pump works at Albion.

O. J. Flood obtained two hundred and thirty bushels of wheat from six acres of land in the town of Verona.

Geo. W. O. T. U. of Holly are making serious efforts to establish a free reading room at that place.

On Friday last a drunken quarryman named Payne jumped into the canal at Albion and was rescued with difficulty.

Dr. E. M. Tompkins of Knowlesville, and Miss Rattie Merrill of Albion were married at the latter place on Tuesday last.

The Orleans House at Albion is offered for sale, to Mr. Taylor's illness. In the event of its sale the traveling public will lose a good landmark.

Mr. James C. Allen, who resides south of Holly, has picked one hundred and fifty-two quarts of blackberries at one picking from fifty-two rods of ground.

Love Harlan died in Kendall on Friday last from injuries received in a runaway accident not long ago. It will be remembered that his horse took fright at a bridge.

Orleans Legion No. 3 will hold their annual picnic at Lake View next Tuesday. All ladies of the A. O. U. W. in the county are cordially invited to attend.

The brick work of the addition to the Holy Union School building is completed and it is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by Monday, September 18.

Miss Edith Dunning closed her term of school at Kendall's Corner last Friday, and those who were present spoke highly of the exercises on the occasion. A number of prizes were awarded.

Miss Carrie Kinney's school at Eagle Harbor closed on Saturday last with a party on Henry D. Reed's lawn.

About seventy-five persons were present and an excellent time was reported.

The Orleans Republican is of the opinion that the sewerage of Albion will not bear cranking up to any great extent. Will the Republican kindly mention something in Albion that will?

The Presbyterian church of Holly has engaged as pastor Rev. H. C. Hosen of Medina, N. Y., who will enter upon his duties the first of October. The church will remain closed until then.

Mr. Geo. H. Shedd, a prominent citizen of Holly, has purchased of the Holly establishment to Mr. Fred S. Wells, a highly esteemed young gentleman of that place, who had long been the confidential clerk.

A grand Catholic Church Fair will be held in Holly from Sept. 26 to 29, the proceeds of which will be applied to the payment of the remaining cost of recent improvements on the Catholic church property in that place.

On the third trial of Mr. Clancy at Holly, on a charge of drunkenness, the jury finally came to the conclusion that the defendant had really sabbathized to the detriment of his morals and health. He was fined ten dollars and costs. He paid.

The first prize at the Brockport Carnival of a handsome baby carriage, given by Daniel Pade, a furniture dealer of that place, was awarded to Clara Harbeck of Knowlesville, N. Y. Orleans county babies take the cake; you can bet on this, and no mistake.

An Albion girl, on a recent visit home from boarding school, upon being informed by the servant that no gooseberries could be found for tea, was too indignant to remain silent about it, and in reply exclaimed, "Why, what in the world is the matter with the goose?"

Arrangements have been made by which Messrs. O. N. Bowman, O. A. Eldy and John Downs succeed to the banking business heretofore conducted in Holly by G. N. Bowman and L. D. Hand. Mr. Hand's ill health necessitates his retiring from an active interest in the business.

LEAVES OF GRASS.

New York Graphic.

The edition of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," about which so much has been written on account of the abandonment of its publication by a Boston firm in consequence of Mr. Anthony Comstock's allegations that it contained objectionable passages, has been issued by Ross Wadell & Co., Philadelphia. The book contains no such trashy poetry, so many passages which stamp their author as a true poet of a high, though certainly not of the highest order, that it is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

It is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam," words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not of a nature to offend the public mind.

LETTER FROM YATES.

Two of Watson Clark's children died last week, with that dreadful disease, diphtheria. His other children are recovering slowly.

Rev. Mr. Piggard of Wilson will address the union temperance meeting at the Baptist Church next Sunday evening.

A rather lively party from this place with their wives and best girls went to Lake Ontario for a picnic on Wednesday. They report having a fine time even if the supper was one size too small for them.

The Methodist Church have caught the snail fever.

Our base ball club appears in blue.

They played their return game with the Somerset club last week and annihilated their faces with a score of thirty-two to one.

They also played the Gaines club with a score of twenty-five to twenty in favor of the former.

William Gray thinks his new scales could tell Jumbo's weight to a sixteenth of an ounce.

Miss Hannah Church has gone to New York to visit friends.

W. E. Stockwell has accepted a position as telegraph operator at Medina. We wish him success.

A new doctor is about to locate at Yates Center.