Blue Jays as Valets
Blue jays sometimes act as "valets" to deer. As the animals drink and browse, the jays go to work removing the ticks that infest the deer. Strangely, each bird adopts one particular deer for regular "brush-offs."

779 LISTED IN 4-H WORK

The successful future of the agriculture and rural life of Wayne County is reassured by the continuing interest and large enrollment in the county 4-H clubs.

The following data was taken from the semi annual report just released by the county club agent, Merle C. Cunningham and supports the above statement. Seven hundred seventy-nine boys and girls are conducting over 1,000 projects in the fields of agriculture and home economics. Of this number 42 per cent are girls who are learning to cook and sew by taking 326 projects in homemaking. In addition 88 girls are doing agricultural work consisting of Vegetable Gardening, Flower Growing and Poultry raising. 4-H boys, making up the remaining 58 per cent of the total enrollment, have signed up for more than 22 different projects: Gardening and crop raising continues to be the most popular project with 306 members enrolled. Calf raising is second with Poultry as third choice. Pig raising, Forestry, and Fish raising are next in popularity with a few members enrolled in colts, sheep, strawberries, baby bees and beekeeping. Besides their training and experience in conducting their agricultural and homemaking projects, these 4-H Club members are receiving valuable education in personal development through the local clubs to which they belong.

Eighty-eight men, women, boys and older girls are voluntarily and without remuneration giving their services to lead these clubs so boys and girls in their communities may benefit by the opportunities the 4-H movement offers.

Through holding offices and being active members of their local clubs, 4-H boys and girls learn how to conduct business meetings, speak in public, to accept responsibilities, the value of cooperation and the importance of community spirit. All of these characteristics and others which are derived from group activities, contribute to the 4-fold development of head, heart, hands and health and makes for leading citizens of the future.

Home Spun Yarns

Even the most delicate gelatine pudding unmolds perfectly if the mold has been lightly oiled with a flavorless oil.

If soup is too salty, drop a sliced raw potato into it, and boil it for five or six minutes. The potato will remove some of the salt.

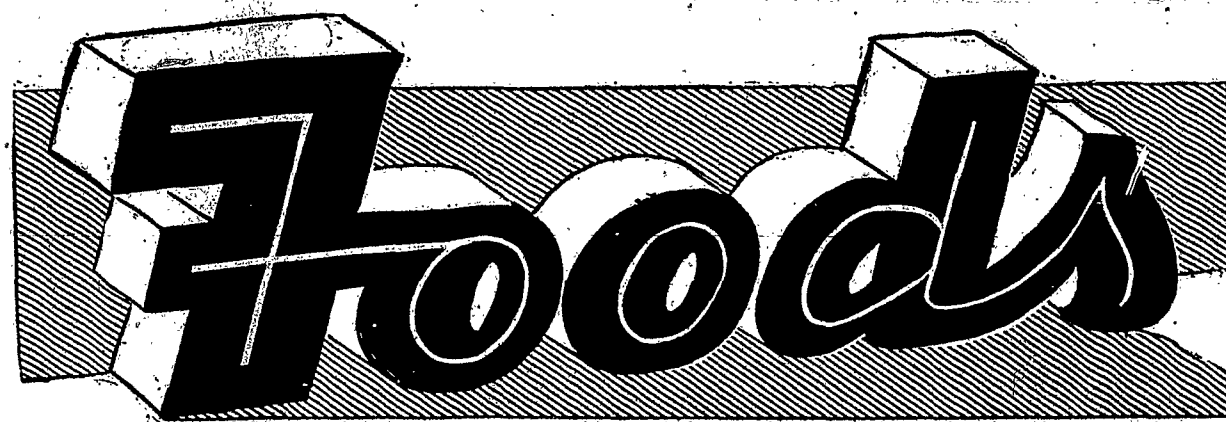

When grinding dry bread, tie a paper bag over the outlet of the grinder. This prevents the crumbs from going over the table or floor.

One favorite way to prepare a crunchy sandwich shredded raw carrot is in a gel-made with shredded carrots, atin salad in combination with chopped peanuts, and salad pineapple or orange. Another is dressing.
