State Law Grants Vacations for Village Firemen

An old saying has it that time is money.

But that old saying doesn't apply to village firemen who want extra money to make up for inadequate vacation time, according to State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

Instead, he says, the law applies and the law requires vacations to be made up in extra time off. So some members of one village fire department will get an extra week's vacation in each of the next three years to make up for weeks they didn't get in the last three. A State law granting three weeks vacation to firemen has been overlooked by the village, whose vacation policy wasn't so generous.

PRACTICE SET

The candidates for Junior Olympics' berths will report Tuesday at 3 p.m. for practice at Perkins Park.
