The Granville Sentinel

Granville, N. Y., Friday, Dec. 25, 1926.

LOCAL MENTION.

Granville chapter of DeMolay will attend Trinity church in a body Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee F. Phelps have issued invitations for a New Year's day reception.

The Rev. H. P. Kauffus delivered a fine address at the mid-week service at the M. E. church last week.

The non-resident teachers of the Granville schools are spending the holidays at their respective homes.

G. Burr Waite and family of Rutland, are to pass Christmas day with Mrs. Waite's mother, Mrs. G. H. Monroe.

Mrs. G. H. Monroe and daughter, Miss Marion Monroe, entertained a few friends at tea Wednesday afternoon.

One of the prominent social events of the season will be the dance given by the DeMolay chapter at Odd Fellows' hall Monday evening.

A large number of parents attended the Christmas exercises held at the Church street school Friday afternoon. The pupils took their parts well.

If you wish to buy or sell or rent, buy or sell anything of any description, want boarders or roomers, try the classified ad. column in the Sentinel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nichols have the Rogers family reunion on Christmas day and Mrs. Rogers and daughter, Mrs. Raymond Stevens, have the family at their home on Sunday.

The Rev. S. W. Irwin of North Heron, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday morning, the pastor having been called to Watertown and will arrive Friday morning. The evening service will be omitted.

Among the latest property sales in Washington county published is that of M. W. Hicks and Cora Hicks and Dwight Sykes and Mary J. Sykes of Granville to the Granville Telephone company, $12,000, property in the village of Granville, which is the granite building on North street.

The W. B. A. held a Christmas tree after their meeting Tuesday night for the juniors and members. A large number were present and a thoroughly good time enjoyed. Each member received a gift, a pop-corn ball and candy. Five new members were taken in and two more accepted. This organization is growing rapidly.

Adolph Kohn, who has been proprietor of the Pastime theatre for many years, had an informal farewell to his many patrons to whom he was host at the theatre Friday night. He explained the reasons for selling, although he expressed regret at leaving Granville and the hosts of friends who made such a cordial farewell.

After a lengthy conference of hardware dealers and turkey assessors it was decided that the Sentinel was due a turkey from the hardware store. An effort would be made to purchase a heating apparatus. There might be some question as to the quality in the matter but it is pleasing to the recipients to know that their decision resulted thus. The bird will go to the best possible place for enjoyment.

The Pastime Book club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Newton Price, Thursday afternoon, each member of the club taking part in the program. Mrs. Melvin Blossom gave a reading; vocal solo, Loreta Courter; recitation, Norma Price. Games were played, each member winning a prize. Mrs. Price then brought in a large bag filled with Christmas gifts for the members. A delicious supper was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Richard LeVain, and Mrs. Benjamin Courter. The guests were Mrs. LeVain and Blossom and the little Misses Courter and Price.

The Christmas cantata, which was sung by the choir of the Baptist church Sunday morning, seemed to elicit the general opinion that it was the best ever rendered by this young choir. For over twenty years, under the direction of Will Barnard, these devoted musicians have contributed time and talent toward making the services of the church attractive. The chorus of twenty-five voices, moved the value of long and faithful singing together. The solo parts were sung by Mrs. M. Waite, Hicks, Mrs. H. S. Norton, Miss Lulu Hull, Joseph Williams, John F. Williams, Kenneth Courter and Walter Barnard. Miss Charlotte M. Herold played the organ and Miss Ruth Barnard accompanied Mrs. Hicks on the harp. The cantata will be repeated Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The December meeting of the World Wide Guild chapter of the Baptist church was held at the home of Mrs. W. T. Barnard. The members sang on White Cross work with a very interesting program planned by Merilla Hicks, the leader, was given. After the scripture reading by Helen Hatch and prayer by Mrs. Behrnt, Ruth Hambley told about Christmas in Germany and Ruth Barnard about Christmas in England. Artella Pritchard reported that the Missionary banquet in Glens Falls was a great success and gave a summary of Miss Lee's talk. Ruth Barnard played a harp solo. Hildah Hicks' song was Christmas in America which she illustrated by an interesting Christmas story. A short business meeting was held with the president, Adelaide Kingsley presiding. These new members, Madeline Miller, Leona W. Williams and Betty Evans were initiated. A social hour and refreshments followed.

Metwewe Trims Aviators.
The basketball game between the Mitchell Park Aviators Five and the Metwewe team at Cortland hall, Middle-Granville, Wednesday evening, resulted in a score of 28 to 8 in favor of the Metwewe players. The game was interesting but it seems the visitors were not fast and accurate enough to hold Granville down.

Death of Mrs. McClellan-Smith. Word was received in Cambridge Monday of the death in Orlando, Fla., of Mrs. Caroline McClellan-Smith, sixty-one years of age, widow of George Smith and daughter of Mrs. Mary McClellan, for whom the Mary McClellan hospital at Cambridge was named.

Mrs. McClellan, and left Cambridge and went to Florida for the winter. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Crandall, after a brief illness. Mrs. Mary McClellan's husband was the late John A. McClellan and therefore her name was McClellan.

Mrs. McClellan was the founder of the Mary McClellan hospital at Cambridge, naming it for his mother. The body will be brought to Cambridge for burial.

State Street!

The Christmas festivities of the State Street club were held December 18 at the Andrews' home. Mrs. Morris Andrews being hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edna Andrews. Twelve members responded to the call with Christmas rhymes. Two guests were present, Mrs. C. A. McQuaid and Miss Genevieve Pittman. After the annual report of officers, committees were appointed for the banquet to be held at Assembly hall in West Pawlet, during the month of February. The following appropriate program was enjoyed: Victrola selections, chorus, joy to the world, ringing bells, White Shepherd's watch their flocks, Mrs. R. Conely; recitation, Last Christmas Time, Lawrence Andrews; reading, Mrs. Mary Gibson; Christmas song, Miss Mildred Hanks; readings, Mrs. Harold Hanks; recitation, Come All Ye Faithful, immediately following this program, Christmas gifts were distributed from a beautiful evergreen tree, everyone giving and everyone receiving a gift. All formally was christened and a jolly Christmas gathering was the result. Going to the dining room, where a real Christmas dinner was spread, completed the very-pleasantable afternoon at this hospitable home. The decorations were unique and pleasing, showing much work on the part of the hostesses and much credit for their efforts is due them.

Pawlet.

Mrs. Herbert Trombley, who has been in the Cambridge hospital, has returned home very much improved in health.

Doctor Thomas of West Pawlet, accompanied by Herbert Trombley, visited Mrs. Herbert Trombley at the Cambridge hospital Monday of the week.

Pastime's Last Special Order Present Management.

In choosing his closing special which is his last picture at Pastime Mr. Kohn has selected one that would be hard to beat. Those who are here for their vacations will tell you how "Driscoll's" with a "Merry" which is the title, pleased thousands of moving picture fans in the cities. Those who saw "Over the Hill" will remember Mary Carr for the wonderful part she played as the mother and as Driscoll, an aged inmate of a charity institution, who suddenly finds herself with one million dollars, and who starts out doing good deeds—her work is simply superb. This fine special production as well as the remaining ones under present management are all of the best and chosen personally by the manager as a fitting windup.
