

MAY ANNIHILATE MOORISH BANDS

FRANCE ALARMED OVER GROWING RESISTANCE IN MOROCCO WHICH IS NOT AFFECTED BY CONTINUED SLAUGHTER

PARIS, Sept. 4. — The news of Monday's sanguinary engagement near Casablanca has shocked as well as surprised France. The fighting demonstrated that the Moroccan situation is steadily growing more serious, and that although France is constantly victorious, the dogged fanatical resistance of the Moors, who appear to be mobilizing in larger numbers, may necessitate a distinct enlargement of the allied forces in order to bring the fighting to an end.

The fierce assaults of the enemy are believed to be due to France's failure to annihilate the Moors during the early part of the expedition, a result which France was unable to accomplish on account of the restrictions imposed on her by the Algerian convention.

M. Regnault, the French minister at Tangier, left Paris today for Spain, where he will confer with the Spanish officials on the subject of the enlargement of the action, and co-operation of Spain and France.

EIGHT FRENCHMEN KILLED BY DETERMINED ATTACK

CASABLANCA, Tuesday, Sept. 3. — Eight Frenchmen were killed and seventeen wounded in an engagement yesterday outside the camp. The dead include Major Prevost, of the First Battalion of the Foreign Legion, and Lieutenant Benizaz, of the Second Battalion of Algerian sharpshooters. The Moors concentrated the largest force they have yet mustered in this vicinity, and returned to the attack again and again after encountering the deadly fire of the French artillery and machine guns. The enemy's losses are described as enormous. The fighting was started by an attack made by the Moors on a French scouting party.

SAYS WHISKEY ISN'T A CONSUMPTION CURE

Henry Phipps Institute Also Calls Attention to the Fact that Consumptives Have to Work

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4. — Whiskey neither cures nor prevents consumption as many persons believe, according to the annual report of the Henry Phipps Institute, one of the leading institutions in the United States for the treatment of tuberculosis. The report, which has just been issued, says:—

"As our statistics on alcoholism in tuberculosis grow it becomes more and more manifest that all extreme views upon this subject will have to be abandoned. That alcohol neither prevents nor cures tuberculosis is evident from the number of alcoholics who have come for treatment; and that it does not strongly predispose to the disease seems to stand out prominently from the vast preponderance of non-alcoholics among the applicants for treatment. Neither can it be shown that the children of alcoholics are more prone to tuberculosis than the children of non-alcoholics."

It is pointed out that nearly half of the patients treated at the institute followed some occupation while undergoing treatment as their lack of means would not admit their not doing so. This fact arouses this observation:

"Is society doing its duty by these people? Sick horses are not permitted to work, and sick cats are sought out and humanely cared for. Sick brothers and sisters, however, not only are permitted, but are compelled to work at even laborious occupations. How strange that there are no societies for the prevention of cruelty to human beings."

MUTINY AMONG STOKERS ON PORTO RICO STEAMER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. — Mutiny broke out in the stoke hold during the voyage of the steamer Brooklyn, of the Insular line, from Porto Rico, and when the steamer reached here today, two of the mutineers were manacled in irons in the brig. As the Brooklyn was leaving Porto Rico several firemen made an attack on Second Assistant Engineer William Redding, who was supervising the stoking of the furnace. One of the firemen struck the engineer in the face with a bar of iron, while another tried to brain him with a lump of coal.

Redding would doubtless have been killed but for the arrival of some of the Brooklyn's officers, who quelled the trouble, and placed the rebellious firemen in irons. Redding was badly cut and bruised about the head.

HIGH HONOR FOR DEAD ARCHBISHOP

CHURCH, STATE AND CITY UNITE TO PAY HOMAGE TO MEMORY OF MOST REV. JOHN JOSEPH WILLIAMS, OF BOSTON.

BOSTON, Sept. 4. — Honored by a prince of the church, the cardinal archbishop of Baltimore, his intimate friend for upward of half a century, by a host of prelates and priests, and by the commonwealth of Massachusetts and city of Boston, where he was born when the metropolis of New England was yet a town, the body of Most Rev. John Joseph Williams, D. D., Archbishop of Boston, and dean of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, was, today, placed in the crypt beneath the high altar of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, which stands as a monument to his endeavors as a bishop and shepherd zealous in the work of saving the souls of men.

The solemn ceremony of transferring the body from the huge catafalque, upon which the casket had rested since Monday, to its place of repose, followed a pontifical mass of requiem for the repose of the archbishop's soul, celebrated by Cardinal Gibbons, whose red hat was bestowed upon him by the Roman Pontiff at the request of Archbishop Williams, who had declared the honor in his favor. Before the solemn pontifical mass, masses for the late archbishop were said or sung in all the parish churches and chapels of the jurisdiction.

The procession consisted of more than 500 clergymen, the last of the officers of the mass being the venerable prelate, James Cardinal Gibbons, the celebrant. During the exercises the city bells and fire alarms were tolled. City hall was closed between 10:30 and 12 o'clock, and the flag on the building was at half-staff.

GRIEG, NORWAY'S GREAT COMPOSER, IS DEAD

Had Started Out on Long Journey When He Became Ill and Expired Soon Afterward

BERGEN, Norway, Sept. 4. — Edward Hagerup Grieg, the composer, died here today. He intended sailing for Christiania yesterday and his baggage was already on board the steamer, when he complained of feeling ill, and the symptoms appearing serious, he was removed to a hospital, where he died.

The deceased was born at Bergen in 1843, of Scotch ancestry, and received his musical education at Leipsic and Copenhagen. Grieg had been growing weaker for some years, necessitating the greatest care of his health. He leaves a widow, who was well known as an interpreter of his songs, but no children. Among his works was "Peer Gynt," an opera, on which the play of that name, produced by the late Richard Mansfield in March last was founded. He was distinctly a Scandinavian composer, and his striving after nationalism in music resulted in giving a decided Scandinavian coloring to many of his compositions. His death is considered here to be a national loss.

FEAR ATTACK ON RAILROAD

GERMAN GOVERNMENT WATCHING ROADBED TO PREVENT WRECK OF TRAN BEARING RUSSIAN GRAND DUKE.

BERLIN, Sept. 4. — The Prussian Railway administration has offered a reward for the discovery of the person who wrecked the St. Petersburg-Berlin Express, between Strausburg and Rehfeld, near Berlin, shortly before midnight, resulting in eleven persons being injured. Presumably it was the work of anarchists or Russian revolutionists who hoped to kill a member of the Russian imperial family, who is said to have been on board the train. The train was derailed, several cars were telescoped, and they afterward caught fire. An examination of the scene of the wreck at daylight showed that the bolts had been removed from the fish plates of a fifty foot rail, resulting in the latter becoming derailed over it. The persons injured were mostly inhabitants of Berlin, postal clerks, commercial travelers, and two army officers. It does not appear that any Russian of high rank was a passenger on the train, but the Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch, with a staff of six officers, is expected to arrive here tomorrow on his way to the German army maneuvers, when he will be the guest of Emperor William. The officials of the Prussian Railways are unusually alert at present owing to the frequent accidents which have recently occurred.

The forty-five men from the different locals who are coming here to discuss arbitration might as well save expenses and remain where they are. Their coming here will do them no good."

HEAVY WEATHER FOR THE FAIR

JUDGING OF EXHIBITS GOES RIGHT ALONG IN SPITE OF POURING RAIN AND ABYSMAL MUD.

The heavy rain Wednesday again prevented the fair association from carrying out their plans. Today's program will take place tomorrow, weather permitting. The continued down-pour has made the grounds a sea of mud, but with a few hours sunshine, and the amount of saw dust and tan bark that the association will have to distribute over the grounds, everything will be in readiness for the balance of the week. The judging of the departments is taking place right along as fast as possible in spite of the weather.

The baby show will be held tomorrow afternoon, and if possible, the racing program announced for today will take place tomorrow, although it is doubtful if the track will be in condition.
