AVERILL—SIDWAY

The following article on the mar ge of James Kent Averill, a for r Champlain, N. Y., boy, is from Buffalo, N. Y. Courier-Express. has just graduated from the napolis Military Academy. He the second son of the late Mr. d Mrs. James Averill of Cham in:

A wedding of social prominence, e brilliance of which was height ed by the presence of many na l uniforms, was the marriage of iss Margaret St. John Sidway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank St. John Sidway of Oakland place to James Kent Averill, ensign United States Navy, which was solemn ized yesterday afternoon at 4:30 oclock in Trinity Episcopal church. The Rev. Cameron J. Davis per ormed the ceremony.

The altar in the beautiful church was banked with cybodium ferns. Four tall vases held white peonies and the two candelabra at the sides of the altar were tied with pink peonies. The pews were tied with white satin ribbon and clusters of white peonies.

The bride, who is a slim, lovely looking brunette, wore an exquisite gown of Chantilly lace over flesh colored chiffon, fashioned with a straight bodice which had a round ack and long tight sleeves, and a kirt that was shirred in front and ell in soft lines. A delicate color ontrast was achieved by a long ain of cream colored satin which ll from her shoulders and which as edged with lace from her moth 's wedding gown. Her long veil as of flesh colored tulle and was stened at her head with a smooth and of lace like from her mother's edding gown, with a band of range blossoms at the back. She arried a shower bouquet of weetheart roses and lilies of the alley, centered with a corsage of ie lavendar orchids. Her satin ippers and her hose were of flesh olor.

The maid of honor, Miss Martha idway, sister of the bride, and the atron of honor, Mrs. David Baker ister of the groom, wore dainty rocks, fashioned alike of corn col r yellow chiffon, the skirts full nd fluffy with petals of the ma erial and the sleeveless bodices dorned on one shoulder with a haggy chiffon flower from which scarf fell down the back. The irdles were of velvet in a slightly eeper shade of yellow and fasten d in front with a handsome rhinc tone buckle. Their satin slippers and their hose matched the gowns. They both wore tiny hats of yellow horsehair braid trimmed with vel vet in a deeper shade tied at the side in a bow. They carried arm bouquets of larkspur, pink snapdragon, butterfly roses and sweet peas, tied with yellow ribbon, on one end of which was a nosegay in tints to match.

The bridesmaids, Miss Edith Sidway, sister of the bride; Miss Eliza beth Averill of Baltimore, Mr., sister of the groom; Miss Ethel Andruss, cousin of the bride, and Miss Anne Halley of Lexington, Ky wore ensembles like those of the maid and matron of honor, Miss Sidway and Miss Andrus in pale green and Miss Averill and Miss Halley in lavender. They carried arm bouquets of the same flowers tied with ribbon to match their frocks with nosegays to correspond on the end.

Stanley Averill of Champlain, N. Y., brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were: Elbridge Sidway, cousin of the bride, and Gibson Gardner of Buffalo, D. C. White of Detroit, Mich., ensign United States Navy; W. P. Chilton of Washington, D. C., ensign United States Navy; F. R. Jones of Philadelphia, ensign United States Navy; R. V. Hull of Sultan, Pa., ensign United States Navy; L. V. Honsinger of Syracuse, ensign United States Navy.

Mrs. Sidway, mother of the bride was a handsome figure in a Paris gown of poudre blue georgette, the blouse simply fashioned with long ties trimming the plain neckline.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of Mr and Mrs. Sidway in Oakland place. The bridal party received before the fireplace in the living room. The bridal table was on the porch which had been enclosed and was centered with lavender ladies' lace, delphinium, yellow daisies and pink roses in a long row arrangement. Covers were laid for 26, in cluding the bridal party and several friends, Miss Margaret Mitchell, Miss Eleanor Richmond, Miss and the skirt bordered with velvet ribbon shirred in scallops. Her hat was a large one of black horse hair braid in the new off-the-face style, banded with black velvet rib bon and fastened with a rhinestone ornament, and she wore black satin slippers and nude hose and carried a lovely corsage.

Lucy Mills, Miss Mary Pierce, Miss Charlotte Sidway, Robert Putnam, Francis Smith and John Averill of Baltimore, Md. The buffet table was in the dining room and was decorated with lavendar ladies' lace, delphinium, yellow daisies and pink roses in a fashion similar to the bride's table.

Out of town guests included: Mr and Mrs. Stanley Averill of Champlain, N. Y.; Miss Elizabeth Averill and John Averill of Baltimore, Md. Mr. and Mrs. C. Augustus Collins, Miss Charlotte Collins, Col and Mrs Raymond D. Smith, all of Cleveland; Mrs. Murray Bartlett and Miss Blanchard Bartlett of Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Averill have left for a motor trip and about the mid dle of July will go to Annapolis for six weeks, after which they will make their home in Brooklyn.

ALASKA SETTLEMENT HAS LITTLE THEATRE

CORDOVA, Alaska, July 5. (AP). —The Red Dragon Little Theater of Cordova is the "farthest north" little theatre in America, if not the world.

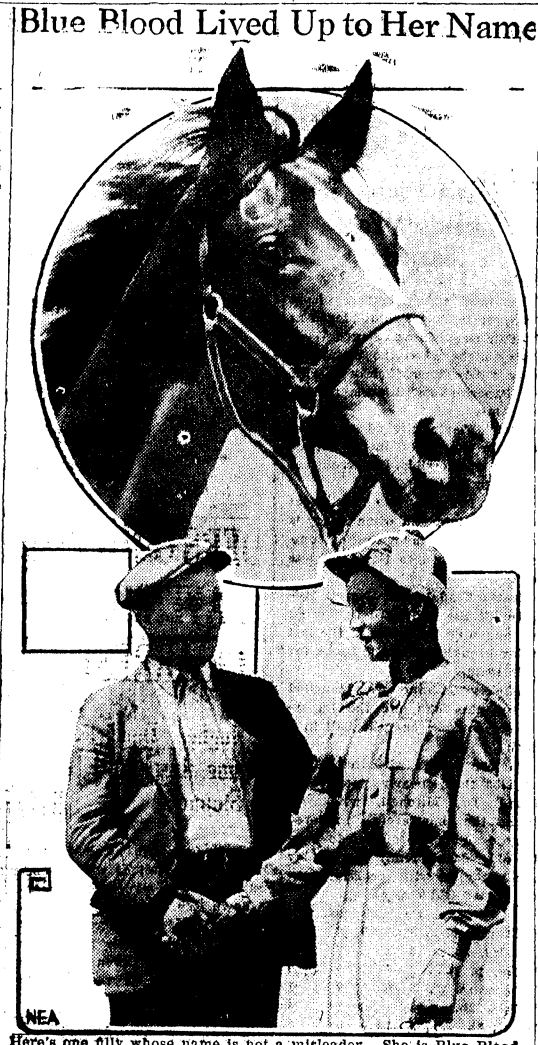
Performances of John Kendrick Bangs' "A Proposal Under Difficulties" and August Strindberg's "The Stronger Woman" have been given successfully to an audience of 125 persons, many of whom saw for the first time in their lives a dramatic production of the speaking stage. The program was presented on two successive nights because of the limited seating capacity of the building.

W. F. Parish, United States commissioner of Cordova, is the founder of the Alaskan movement in the little theater, and the Rev. L. F. Kent, pastor of St. George's Episcopal church, is his lieutenant, who attended to the mechanics of the project in every detail.

The Alaskan little theater project is a development in the progress of a winter class in the appreciation of modern drama, a course which was offered local residents by Judge Parish. For many weeks during the winter's darkest nights a few faithful ones huddled around the Red Dragon stove, imbibing culture from the lips of a septogenarian educator while the wind chased its tail around the building and the sleet beat against the win dow panes.

—The remains of Mrs. Dunn, who was killed in the automobile accident at Chazy Wednesday, will be taken Friday noon to Union City, Tenn., where burial will take place. Mr. Dunn will accompany the remains.

Blue Blood Lived Up to Her Name



Here's one filly whose name is not a misleader. She is Blue Blood whose winning of a race at Homewood paid backers $365. $10 for a $2 pari-mutuel ticket. L. C. Everett, owner is shown congratulating Jockey L. Hardy on his splendid ride. By the way, he had $20 bet on Blue Blood.

SHOWER TENDERED MISS RUTH RYDER

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Ruth Ryder of Beckmantown at the home of Mrs. James Lombard, 4 Broad street, by Mrs. Lombard and Miss Delia Thurlow on Tuesday evening, July 5th.

As Miss Ryder entered the house she was greted by about forty of her former schoolmates and friends, from Plattsburgh, Beckmantown and Schuyler Falls.

The time was spent in visiting and playing games. Later in the evening Miss Ryder was ushered to a seat of honor in the dining room, which was prettily decorated in pink and white. A table was laden with daintly wrapped gifts in a bower of streamers reaching from the ceiling to the sides of the table, with a bridal doll in the center. To each package was attached ribbons alternating pink and white, reaching to the side of the table within easy reach of the bride-to-be.

The gifts which were many consisted of linen, silver and glassware.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served after which the friends left wishing Miss Ryder a long and happy future. Her marriage to Maynard D. Carpenter of Port Henry will take place in the near future.

CALL MRS. COOLIDGE WOMANHOOD'S MODEL

CLEVELAND, July 6. (AP)—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is a model of Christian American womanhood whose habits of dress, conduct and thought may well be emulated by young women of the nation, Christian Endeavors were told tonight.

"The wife of the president is, by all the rules of precedent, the society leader of the nation," Edward P. Gates, general secretary, told the International Endeavor convention.

"Young women who desire to measure their own habits and attitudes should use Mrs. Coolidge as an example instead of looking to Paris for their dress or to Hollywood for their hints on homemaking.

"If they use Mrs. Coolidge as a pattern they will be neither oldmodish in their dress nor oldmaidish in their attitudes."

—All members of Clinton Camp Modern Woodmen of America are especially requested to attend a special meeting of the camp tonight, July 8th. Special business on several important matters will be presented at the meeting. All members who have not sent in their dues for the month of June are requested to bring them to the meeting.

5 DEAD, SCORE INJURED IN TRAIN CRASH

Express Train Filled With Holiday Passengers

HITS FREIGHT

Accident Occurred Near Iona Island Station, N. Y., Near Newburgh

IONA ISLAND STATION, N. Y., July 5, (AP).—Filled with passengers homeward bound from the 4th of July holiday, an express train plunged into the rear of a freight train pulling onto a siding near here today. Five persons are dead. A score of the more or less seriously injured were rushed to hospitals in the vicinity.

The wreck occurred when the freight train was getting out of the way of a southbound New York, Ontario and Western expresss running from Kingston, N. Y., to Weehawken, N. J. Those killed were riding in the front passenger coach which was telescoped into the baggage car ahead.

Boy scouts from a nearby camp marines from the United States naval munitions depot and passing tourists rushed to the scene of the wreck. They had to chop away the wreckage to free some of the injured passengers.

NYACK, N. Y., July 5, (AP).—A checkup tonight of persons who were killed or injured in the wreck on the Wesh Shore railroad near Iona Island today showed the following:

Killed: Dr. M. I. Kessler, 1246 Sheridan Avenue, New York City, died at West Point Hospital.

Barnett N. Goldberg, address unknown.

Irving J. Samadowitz, New Jersey Law College.

Two other unidentified passengers were reported dead.

Injured at Newburgh Hospital: Samuel Hamsling, 1076 Fayle Street, the Bronx, New York City, injuries to head and other possible serious injuries.

Mrs. Rebecca Hamsling same address; cuts, bruises and severe shock.

At West Point Hospital:

Mrs. Ida Nitishen, 62, of 4210 Thirteenth Avenue, Brooklyn; injuries to head and body.

Ray Kolsen, 438 Saratoga Avenue, Brooklyn, injuries to body.

Miss Jennie Kessler, sister of Dr. M. I. Kessler, who died in the West Point Hospital, 169 Essex Street, New York City; fingers of left hand amputated.

500 PERSONS HOMELESS AT ATLANTIC CITY

Block of Boardwalk Razed By Most Disastrous Fires in Years

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 5, (AP).—Nearly a block of the boardwalk between Mssouri and Arkansas Avenues was razed in one of the most disastrous fires here in years in which three firemen were overcome and more than 500 persons were made homeless today.

Firemen battled the stubborn blaze, fanned by a stiff breeze, for three hours before it was brought under control discovered shortly after 3 o'clock in the rear of the Boardwalk restaurant, the flames rapidly spread to a half a dozen adjoining stores on the board walk and within a half hour, the entire block bounded by Arkansas and Pacific Avenues was a seething furnace.

The flimsy structure of many houses in the center of the block made it impossible to save them and a general alarm was sounded, bringing out every piece of apparatus inthe city and Ventnor.

Hotels, and rooming houses, numbering about eight in the burning area, sent vacationists scurrying to the street. Most of them were on the beach at the time and their belongings were either lost in the flames or ruined by water and smoke.

The fire was caused by a lighted cigarette carelessly thrown onto the boardwalk near the entrance to Scattergood's Amusement Parlor according totenants of nearby buildings.

Because of the flimsy structure of the buildings, fire chief Barnett estimated the damage at $300,000. This does not include the loss of personal belongings, [illegible]

MR. AND MRS. COOKE SEE LINDBERGH AT OTTAWA

Local People Had Fine View of Plane and Flier

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Cooke returned Tuesday from Ottawa where they attended the Diamond Jubilee of the Canadian Federation which was celebrated in elaborate fashion at the Dominion Capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke were greatly pleased to see Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, the first trans-Atlantic flier and his plane "Spirit of St. Louis" at Ottawa. They also were able to obtain a very near view of the plane as it stood under guard and roped off in the aviation field. He said that when the flier arrived on the field the rush to the plane in spite of a strong guard of mounted policemen reminded him of the stories of the reception given the flier in Paris and London on his arrival.

Mr. Cooke said that the killing of Captain Johnson, flier in one of the twelve escorting U. S. Army planes, as he was about to land, cast a gloom over the entire celebration. He stated that Ottawa paid a great tribute to the dead flier, more than 50,000 persons lining the route of the funeral procession to the depot. Seven U. S. Army planes flew as an escort from the Parliament Building to the Railroad Station. Lindbergh flew alone and circled several times over the station in his "Spirit of St. Louis."

LINDBERGH'S INVITATION ACKNOWLEDGED

Guggenheim Foundation Is Now in Charge of Itinerary

The great volume of mail sent to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has made it a physical impossibility for him to make personal replies to his letters and telegrams. He, however, expressed a desire that all his mail be acknowledged and thanks be extended to the thousands who felicitated him upon his flight to Paris.

In consequence of this wish, Harold M. Bixby, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, has acknowledged Mayor Cross' invitation sent to Washington for Colonel Lindbergh to visit Plattsburgh during the training camp season here. Mr. Bixby expressed appreciation of the invitation and stated that the letter from the mayor had been referred to those who are looking after Lindbergh's interests and would be given consideration at the time an itinerary is made up, should Colonel Lindbergh decide to make a tour of the country.

A card was inclosed stating that since the writing of Mr. Bixby's communication, arrangements had been made whereby the Daniel Guggenheim Foundation of New York City would have charge of Col. Lindbergh's tour of the United States.

Mayor Cross has written the Guggenheim Foundation repeating his invitation to Col. Lindbergh to visit this city.

PARIS (AP)—Lindbergh dolls are being given as favors at dinner parties in Paris. They are beautifully made, in aviators' costumes, slender like the flier and with a good likeness in the face.

TWO WOMEN INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Residents of Lyon Mountain Victims

OBER CORNERS

Mrs. George Hammond and Mrs. Nelson Charland Treated at Hospital

Two Lyon Mountain women are in the Champlain Valley hospital suffering from injuries received Tuesday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was hurled into a ditch at the side of the road by another car at Ober Corners at Sciota.

The injured are:

Mrs. George Hammond, abrasions about face and cut over left eye. Condition not serious.

Mrs. Nelson Charland, abrasions about head and face. Possible fracture of left leg. Condition serious.

The two injured women were riding in a Chevrolet touring car driven by Mrs. Hammond's husband and were proceeding north.

Omer J. Paquette of Fall River, Mass., was traveling east from Mooers in a Hudson car. Both vehicles collided at the corner. Poquette's car hitting Hammond's auto squarely in the center. The force of the impact hurled the Chevrolet into the ditch.

Poquette's party assisted getting the injured women out of the car and Dr. W. E. Stiles of West Chazy was summoned. After administering first aid treatment to the injured, they were brought to the hospital in this city where they were attended by Dr. R. S. Macdonald. Mrs. Hammond was discharged later in the evening.

WINCH—FLOWERS

A very pretty wedding took place at Salem, N. Y. Saturday July 2, at ten o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Flower when their daughter, Miss Luella Frances, was married to Rev. Claude Winch, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at North Ferrisburg, Vt. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leigh Diefendorf, the district superintendent of the Rutland district, Troy conference.

The bridesmaid was Miss Louise Coulter of Salem, and the best man was G. Paul Winch of South Glens Falls.

The bride was gowned in white georgette and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. The bridesmaid was dressed in a gown of flowered chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. The flower girls wore blue organdie and carried a basket of forget-me-nots. The ceremony took place before a bank of mountain laurel, peonies and ferns. A wedding luncheon was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore. Rev. and Mrs. Winch are on an automobile tour through the Adirondacks, and on their return they will take up their residence at the Methodist parsonage at North Ferrisburg.

KEESEVILLE MAN BEATS UP WIFE

Passino Throws Wife Out of House and Breaks Several Windows

Raymond Passino of Keeseville was arraigned before Justice of the Peace S. E. Wilcott at Keeseville yesterday on a charge of assault in the third degree. He pleaded not guilty and his case was adjourned until July 12th. The complainant in the case was Passino's wife.

Sergeant George Conway and Trooper C. R. Hutchins, stationed at Peru were sitting down to lunch yesterday noon when a telephone call, informed the sergeant that Passino was murdering his wife.

The sergeant who was at Peru jumped into his Ford followed by Trooper Hutchins and they made all haste to Passino's house. When they reached there they found Mrs. Passino outside the house where she was thrown by her husband and a number of windows and chairs broken. Passino's arrest followed.

BLANEY—GONYO

Miss Mildred Gonyo became the bride of Herman Blaney at a ceremony performed at Chazy, N. Y., by the Rev. J. F. Wright on Monday, July 4. Both are popular young people in Chazy and have many friends who wish them many years of happy married life. The attendants were Herbert Gonyo and Miss Mae Blaney, brother and sister of the bride and groom respectively.

HELP AND HINDER

LAREDO, Texas, July 4. (AP)—Mexican merchants in Nuevo Laredo, across the boundary in Mexico, maintain "smuggling rooms" in which amateur smugglers retire to hide the purchases they intend to bring into the United States duty free. But the Mexican merchants also telephone a description of the purchaser to customs officials the moment the purchaser has gone, so that he is stopped at the line.

WALT PARKER PITCHES HIS WAY TO VICTORY

Strikes Out Eight Men On Opposing Team; Allows One Hit

Walter Parker held the Gas and Electrics in the hollow of his hand Tuesday, striking out 8 and allowing but 1 hit. In the meantime, his teammates were touching up "President" Coolidge for 6 hits, among them a "homer" by Moses, which got by Senecal and into the hay in right field for a lost ball.

But after all the feature of the game was the umpiring. The Twilight League, like every other league, has plenty of grandstand umpires and last night, two of the most famous umpire razzers, were called upon to umpire. Harry Guibord, sole owner and proprietor of "Guibord's Majestic Truck" and "Bull" Bourasso, the leading man at the "Park Lunch." Messrs. Guibord and Burasso got a dose of their own medicine and they deserved it. They went home under the police protection of "Cop" McCooey, amid shouts of "Lynch them," and murmurs of "tar and feathers."
