Silk Flag of Odd Fellows Has Gone Through Every State—Stars Sewn on by Rebekahs

Park Lodge of Odd Fellows, located in Hyde Park, a few miles north of Poughkeepsie, is the possessor of a silk flag with a wonderful history, it having traveled thru every State in the Union, and the Rebekah branch in every State has participated in the making of it complete. Two years ago Robert C. Halpin, former postmaster of Hyde Park, planned to have an American flag sent to every State in the Union and to have the Rebekah Lodge in the capital city of each State sew a star on the field of blue. The flag started away on December 18, 1920. When each State, with the exception of New York, had been visited, and a star sewn on the flag, went to Washington, where Washington Lodge, No. 1 attached it to a handsome flag-staff. The last star was sewn at the session of the Grand Lodge in Albany, the ceremonies being in charge of Mount Carmel Lodge, of which the Grand Master is a member. Mount Carmel presented the flag to the outgoing Grand Master, Edward C. Conway, who in turn presented it to Harold S. Arthur, the newly installed Grand

JAIL BREAKERS CAPTURED IN NEW YORK CITY

Assaulted Jailer Stevens and Made Their Get-away from County Jail—Have Been at Large About a Week.

According to a telegram received by Sheriff Carter from Chief Inspector Lahey of the New York police department Brewer Lee and Melvin Tufts, the two inmates of the Hudson jail who after assaulting Jailer Frank Stevens, made their escape, and for whom the officers of several counties have been looking, since a week ago Friday when the escape happened, have been arrested in New York city where they are being held there pending the arrival of local officers to bring them back to this city. The third party who was concerned in the jail break, a young fellow named Cleveland, has been tracked, so it is said, to St. Albans, Vt., where his father resides. His arrest is said to be imminent. The three fellows made good their escape from the local jail, they went to West Athens N. Y., where Lee's father is said to reside. There all trace of them was lost, till a robbery of a wall paper store in Catskill by three young men a night after, in which $75 was taken from a cash register. After the robbery in Catskill the State officials believed that Tufts and Lee had made tracks for New York City and the State police to believe that there had been row between the three men, and that this row caused Cleveland to make tracks for Vermont, the town of St. Albans having been his native haunt. It is thought that perhaps after Lee and Tufts fell into the hands of the New York police they revealed his whereabouts. As there was evidently ill feeling between the three men who broke jail here together, but shortly afterwards had a row that resulted in the disbanding of the trio, Tufts and Lee going to New York and Cleveland beating it for the State of Vermont. Sheriff Carter and Deputy Sheriff Max Rosenfield left Monday afternoon on the 4:15 train for New York city, following the arrival of the telegram to the local sheriff's office stating that the two fellows had been arrested by New York police officials and were being held pending advices from Hudson.

Old Fashioned Dances to Be Revived; Will Be Adapted to Modern Tempo, Experts Say

With the revival of the tango well on its way to popularity, it is entirely possible there will be a renaissance of other old-fashioned dances as well. Turning partners to the left or swinging all hands around may become as familiar to the present generation as they were to former ones. So declared Joseph O'Brien, president of the International Association, Masters of Dancing, now in joint convention with the American National Association of Dancing in the Hotel Commodore, New York, yesterday. The old steps would be adapted to the tempo of modern music, he said, but the themes could serve as the inspiration for a new version. Thus O'Brien pointed out, the lancers, the schottische polka and other bygone dances "will be restored. The American tango, feature of the dancing masters' convention, is a variation of the Argentine and Parisian brand which aroused a storm of protest six or eight years ago from clergymen and reformers. The adoption has eliminated the qualities of the originals held to be objectionable and substituted rhythmic movements. "Even today dancing instructors in small towns are wary of teaching the tango," O'Brien said, "for fear it may provoke unfriendly criticism from the churches. Stage exhibitions by professional dancers were responsible for the indignant outbursts of a few years ago. Those steps were exaggerated, as some dance steps are today, but they did not represent the real tango, which is a dance of smoothness and distinction.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT TWICE

The fire department was called out twice Monday in answer to alarms rung in from boxes 18 and 25. The first alarm was rung in shortly after 5:30 in the morning and the second one at 6:30 in the evening. In both cases the fire was on the dump in the rear of the plant of C. H. Evans & Sons. When the firemen arrived in answer to the first alarm, great volumes of smoke came pouring from the dump, but not much fire was in evidence. A stream from Washington Hose Co. quickly subdued what fire there was. Last night the fire again broke out and the department was called to the scene and quickly extinguished the blaze.
