Rotarians Addressed At Seymour

Advertising Man Guest of the Local Club at Luncheon Here Yesterday.

E. S. Barlow of the Syracuse office of an advertising firm was the guest speaker at the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon held in the Seymour Hotel yesterday noon.

Mr. Barlow was found to be a very interesting speaker and dwelt considerably on advertising, its pulling power and ability to earn money for its users. He stated specific examples mentioning firms and trade names made famous through the use of this powerful salesmanship medium. Mr. Barlow traced the preparation of copy and the various points entering into promotion of an article and how the advertiser, his agent and medium cooperate and work hand in hand.

Present at the meeting were fifteen farmers of the section who listened attentively to Mr. Barlow's suggestion on what the price of milk should be because of systems employed by the farmer in getting his product to market as well as to the expense of the producer in using sanitary methods. Mr. Barlow talked at length towards the end of his original dissertation on advertising to the farmers and why milk should be at least 20 cents a quart but in no way attempted to lay down procedure whereby the price could reach this high point. President Harry J. Hensby presided at the meeting.

Services in Honor of Saint

Triduum to Open at Notre Dame Sunday Evening and Close Wednesday A. M.

Rev. Father Euclide Elie of Sciota, N. Y., a former member of Notre Dame parish, will start preaching a triduum in honor of St. Ann Sunday evening, July 23rd at 7:30 at Notre Dame church.

There will be instruction each morning at the 7:30 mass and another one every evening at 7:30. The Triduum will close Wednesday morning with a mass at 7:30 a. m.

The Triduum is for the benefit of all the members of Notre Dame parish, for the men as well as for the women.

All the nations of the world always had a great devotion to St. Ann, mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary, but it seems that the French nation loved St. Ann in a particular manner. The sailors and fishermen, leaving for St. Peter's and Michelon Islands, or other ocean voyages always betake themselves to St. Anne d'Aurey, Brittany, first to consecrate themselves to St. Ann and place their voyage under her maternal protection.

When in perilous circumstances they always pray to St. Ann to come to their help.

It was a similar circumstance that brought St. Ann de Beupre, Canada, into existence.

A certain number of sailors, on a trip up the St. Lawrence River, in the midst of violent waves, cried out to St. Ann for protection and vowed, that if saved, they would erect a chapel in her honor on the opposite shore. They were saved, and the chapel was built and is still to be seen by the numerous pilgrims who flock there each year.
