

YORS WHO WERE CHOSEN IN THE STATE

...s of Cities Elected at the Biennial Referendums Tuesday.

- BANY, Nov. 8.—New York mayors elected included: George J. Zimmerman, Democrat, Buffalo.
- Land B. Marvin, Republican, Buse.
- Boyd Thacher, Democrat, Ly.
- Nry C. Fagal, Republican, Sectady.
- melius F. Burns, Democrat, ...
- ancey Thayer, Republican, ...
- ank W. Wise, Democrat-Repub., Hudson.
- thur Carter, Democrat, Amam.
- in Morrissey, Republican-Fu., Cohoes.
- rry W. Honan, Democrat, El...

- seph F. Loehr, Democrat, Yon...
- muel Sloan, Republican, Ut...
- bert P. Smith, Republican, ...
- enry Schrade, Jr., Republican, ...
- oga Springs.
- F. Quackenbush, Democrat, ...
- manca.
- hn L. Beyer, Democrat, Tona...
- da.
- mes Johnstone, Republican, ...
- sselaer.
- orge V. L. Spratt, Democrat, ...
- ghkeepsie.
- ander A. Bouyea, Democrat-...
ublican, Plattsburgh.
- ichard G. Cullivan, Republican, ... ego.
- ank H. Marx, Republican, On...
- ia.
- seph Maher, Democrat, Onei...

- red W. Fornes, Jr., Democrat, ...
- n.
- alph J. Morissette, Republican, ...
ensburg.
- runk Zuber, Republican, Nor...
- h.
- homas J. Finnigan, Mechanic...
- 2.
- harles Gold, Democrat, Long...
- ch.
- A. A. B. Santry, Republican, ... ie Falls.
- arry B. Walker, Republican, ...
gston.
- arry Jenner, Republican, John...
- n.
- Irving Griffing, Democrat, ...
ns Falls.
- eon F. Roberts, Democrat, ... nestown.
- obert D. Pullen, Democrat, ... rth Tonawanda.

- alter L. Roberts, Republican, ... nkirk.
- E. Wheatley, Republican, Hor...
- 1.
- rthur C. Tedd, Republican, ... me.
- ewis P. Smith, Republican, Ith...
- Harry Terhune, Republican, Mid...
- town.
- endell E. Phillips, Republican, ...
t Jervis.
- rving J. Justus, Democrat, ... con.

... with a good day a real battle ...
... the second guessers continue to ...
... "Hank" Gundersen of Notre ...
... me on the pan. Our answer to ...
... problem is this: Check up on ...
... unk's" campaign and subsequent ...
... dismissal as head coach at St. ...
... nis, (Mo.) University. Your ...
... answer is there in a nut shell ...
... ey all say it is a tough job to ...
... Rockne's shoes. True. But ...
... unk" didn't have any shoes to ...
... at St. Louis and still was not ...
... success.

Official End of the Dry Law Set for December 5

ADVANCE NEWS

A HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER FOR OGDENSBURG AND THE NORTH COUNTRY

VOL. 1—No. 197

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 10, 1933

PRICE 3c.

Board Taking Steps to Provide School

G. O. P. TO MAKE BIG DRIVE TO CONTROL STATE SENATE

Death Knell for the Dry Law Scheduled for Dec. 5

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—The action of a few State ratifying conventions and the rap of a gavel are all that remain to bring the formal end of national prohibition.

To all practical purposes, the dry era ended Tuesday. Actually prohibition will not be dead until Dec. 5, when the State Conventions in Utah, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky meet to register formally the mandate of the voters.

As soon as the 36th Convention—it probably will be Utah because of the difference in time—votes to ratify, national prohibition will be dead.

The bang of a gavel at the 36th Convention is all the formality required.

Immediately the sale of liquor will become legal in these States which have no prohibitory laws—Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Rhode Island, Louisiana, Maryland, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Washington and Wisconsin.

What the 25 dry States will do depends upon their Legislatures. If they remain dry, the Federal Government will undertake to protect them from liquor importations through some sort of border patrol system, the Justice Department said today.

The chief concern of the Federal Government now is a liquor taxation schedule.

"Volstead Suicide"

BUFFALO, Nov. 9.—A squad of policemen raced to a viaduct of the Lackawanna lines here last night when they were informed that a man had been hanged there.

"Feel his heart," the lieutenant ordered one of his men as the figure was pulled to the top of the viaduct. A policeman reached inside the shirt and pulled out a handful of straw.

Then the policemen observed a cardboard tied across the form's shoulders. It read:

"Old Man Volstead."

Dry State Wet

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 9.—North Carolina is the driest state in the Union politically, but an independent survey today showed it was easy to get a drink here.

The following prices prevailed: "Corn likker," $2 a gallon; rye, $3 a gallon; "bottled in bond" (straight alcohol, water, glycerine, rye flavoring, heading oil), $1 pint.

Drys, cheered by the more than two to one defeat of repeal Tuesday, began a drive today to repeal the state law permitting the sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

N. Y. State Control Next Aim of GOP

Leaders Cheered at Increased Majority by Elections to Lower House.

ALBANY, Nov. 9.—With a substantially increased majority in the Assembly won at Tuesday's election, State Republican leaders turned their attention today to the possibility of obtaining control of the Senate in the next Legislature.

Senator Henry G. Schackno, Democrat, of the Bronx, elected to the Supreme Court bench, is expected to resign from the Legislature shortly to permit Governor Lehman to call a special election in the Senatorial district.

Republican hope of electing a Fusion-Republican from Senator Schackno's district lies in the strength displayed by the carrying of the Bronx by Mayor-elect F. H. LaGuardia.

The Democrats have a normal working majority of one in the Senate which with the resignation of Senator Schackno would leave the membership of the upper house divided with Republicans and Democrats each having 25 votes.

Republican leaders, however, consider the chance of a Fusion-Republican victory in the senatorial district at a special election slim in view of the victory of the sweep made by the Democratic county ticket in the Bronx despite the success of the Fusion city ticket.

Failing to win an additional Senatorial seat.

(Please turn to Page 4)

Members of Board Will Visit Schools in State Before Plans Are Made

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held at the City Hall at 5 p. m. yesterday. It was decided to authorize the members of the House and Grounds Committee of the Board of Education to visit modern schools in New York state for the purpose of obtaining ideas to be incorporated in the building of a new junior high school in this city. The expense of these trips is to be borne by the Board of Education. It was pointed out by President Cooper that before federal aid may be secured for the erection of such a school it is first necessary to engage an architect, draw up plans, submit them to the state Board of Education at Albany for approval, obtain the approval of the Board of Regents and hold an election among the taxpayers of the city for the purpose of approving of a bond issue to take care of building costs. After all these steps have been taken formal application may be made to the federal authorities for aid. With this in view the board set the wheels in motion for the preliminary work by directing the houses and grounds committee to visit and inspect model schools.

Commissioner Frank reported that the committee had held a number of meetings and had interviewed five architects up to the present time. It was deemed advisable to obtain a list of approved architects from the state department in Albany.

President Cooper and Commissioner Akin presented reports on the work accomplished at the state convention in Syracuse. Dr. Cooper spoke briefly on the large attendance at the meeting and mentioned several points that were discussed that proved of interest to the local delegates. Among these topics was that of school insurance. Dr. Cooper said that he understood that the state recommendations were practically the same as those in force in this city at the present time. Mrs. Akin gave brief excerpts from speeches of some of the prominent people to address the state convention as did Superintendent A. J. Laidlaw. They said 229 boards of education were represented.

(Please turn to Page 4)

CONFERENCES WITH SOVIET'S ENVOY CLOSING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Final conferences between Maxim Litvinoff and the United States Department of State today brought Russian recognition by the United States very close to realization. It is understood that the work of the state department in the matter has been completed and that the negotiations will now pass into the hands of President Roosevelt. A conference is scheduled with the Chief Executive for tomorrow morning and it is confidently expected that formal announcement of the desired recognition will come from the White House before noon. The two governments are to have later conferences on debt settlements and revisions but these will in no way interfere with formal recognition of the Soviet at this time.

Jurymen Disagree In Action

After deliberating for an hour, the jury in the case of Edward Day vs. Herbert Peterson returned to the city court room late yesterday afternoon and reported that it was unable to agree. Special City Judge Donald E. Sanford, who was presiding, thereupon discharged the jurors.

The action was brought to recover $100 claimed to be due for board of Peterson's child, who is a grandson of the plaintiff, Day. Day was represented by Louis O. Well and Peterson by Edmund FitzGerald. The case may be tried again later.

Washington, D. C.—Temporary control of liquor placed under Farm Administration's beverage section.

Democrats Lose 1-Vote Control Of State Senate

ALBANY, Nov. 9.—A Republican-Democratic deadlock in the Senate during the 1934 Legislature is threatened unless Gov. Lehman calls a special election to replace Henry G. Schackno, Bronx Democrat, who has been elected to the City Court bench, it developed today.

Schackno's election deprives Democrats of their one vote majority. The lineup previously was 26 to 25.

TODAY'S WEATHER

Ogdensburg and vicinity: Fair and colder.

SOUTHERN NATIONS PIN HOPE ON VISIT OF SECRETARY HULL

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Nov. 9.—Little as he may suspect it, the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, has virtually saved the seventh Pan-American Conference, which is scheduled to assemble in Montevideo, Uruguay, on Dec. 2.

Before he definitely announced his intention of being present a campaign had gradually been gaining ground in favor of postponing the gathering. It was held that, owing to the general political and economic situation on the continent, especially in regard to the Chaco war, it was expedient to wait until the conference could meet under more felicitous auspices.

Now Secretary Hull's decision to attend has given heart to the exponents of Pan-American ideals in every Latin-American country, and there is a general conviction that he will have some epoch-making pronouncement to deliver to the conference. Already many of the governments are revising the composition of their delegations, being anxious to send their best talent to Montevideo to confer with the American Secretary of State on inter-American policy.

Mr. Hull's prospective attendance has also challenged serious study of the conference agenda, which may have to be revised in the light of the serious official interest of the Washington government in the Pan-American movement. Every newspaper and every political conversation reflects the general speculation regarding Washington's attitude on inter-American relations. The off-recurring question is: Has the United States at last turned to its southern neighbors for that political and economic cooperation which it does not seem to obtain in Europe?